N.Y. Vote to Guide Events in G.O.P.

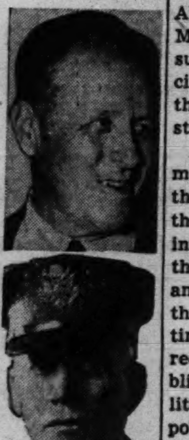
Washington, D. C., Oct. 24.—With the Democrats demanding and the Republicans opposing the retention of President Roosevelt in office till after the end of the war, numerous state and municipal elections next week are expected to indicate the political trend in the nation on the eve of the 1944 Presidential election.



Joe R. Hanley [Top] and Lt. Gen. W. N. Haskell.

Republican National Chairman Harrison E. Spangler today rallied party workers and voters in a letter in which he predicted Republican victory in the election next year.

A turnover of only 1¼ million votes would reverse the Democratic victory of 1940, said Spangler, and such reversal next year he regards a certainty, without taking into consideration "the obvious revulsion of the people against the Washington burocracy and the New Deal's playing of politics with the war machinery which will become more apparent to the people as political desperation in Washington increases."

Dewey Prestige at Stake.

Chief interest centers in New York, where the vacancy in the office of lieutenant governor is to be filled. The Republican candidate, Joe R. Hanley, is campaigning for a vote of confidence in the administration of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. The nominee of the Democratic and American Labor parties, Lt. Gen. William N. Haskell, retired, is bidding for election as a popular indorsement of President Roosevelt and inferentially a fourth term therefor.

If the Republicans win this election the result will be widely interpreted by Democrats as well as Republicans as an indication that the Republican trend, manifested conspicuously in the 1942 elections, is continuing and that New York would be likely to go Republican next year even if the war were still in progress and Mr. Roosevelt the Democratic nominee.

Effect of Haskell Victory.

Moreover, a Republican victory next week would be a feather in the cap of Gov. Dewey and give great impetus to the movement to draft him for the Republican nomination for President, despite his insistence that he is not a candidate and is determined to finish his term as governor ending in 1946. He would be exploited as a candidate who could be relied upon to carry New York, a state essential to Republican victory.

If Gen. Haskell should be elected, the Democrats would feel justified in hailing the result as evidence that the popular reaction against

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Plans of State's Atty. Thomas J. Courtney and the grand jury for this week's investigation of gambling were said yesterday to be centered in Police Commissioner James P. Allman's handling of gambling complaints. Allman will be a witness before the grand jury today or tomorrow and will be followed by Mayor Kelly, Courtney's office announced.

The grand jury of November, 1941, recommended the elimination of the police morals squad which, it said, was a coverup for a condition of widespread gambling and bribery. Allman complied. Subsequently Capt. Martin McCormick and three of his subordinates were tried by the city civil service commission. Afterwards the members of the squad were restored to general police duty.

At the McCormick trial the testimony of several witnesses showed that State's Atty. Courtney was then conducting a city-wide, secret investigation of gambling. Since then, Courtney and his first assistant, Wilbert F. Crowley, disclosed, the secret investigation has continued and Courtney now has a record showing hundreds of gambling houses that operated with little or no interference from the police.

Charge Police Antagonism.

Courtney's opening statements to the October grand jury when it was impaneled were said to have contained the charge that his office has received almost no coöperation from the city police in the suppression of gambling. The political antagonism of Courtney and Mayor Kelly—both Democrats—was known but the reports of hostility by the police to the prosecutor's office were said to be new.

Since then, according to reports, demonstrations have been given to the jury of the noncoöperation of the police with the state's attorney's office, particularly in the matter of trying to arrest the men accused of the murder of Martin [Sonny Boy] Quirk, south side agent of the Guzik gambling syndicate. Numerous policemen were said to have been asked in the grand jury room what they were doing or had been asked to do about the men wanted for the Quirk murder.

Message Put on Teletype.

Newspaper men were told that a few detectives knew that James [Red] Fawcett was one of the men wanted for that crime but that only a very few of them were able to give a description of Fawcett. Courtney's message asking the arrest of Fawcett and three other persons had been put on the police teletype, it was admitted, but that was said to have been all that was done.

Courtney and Crowley charged that tolerated gambling and lax police work went hand in hand. Courtney recalled that he and Bertram J. Cahn, former president of the Chicago Crime commission, told Mayor Kelly and Commissioner Allman several years ago that unless Danny [Public Enemy] Stanton's reign as a gambling dictator on the south side was ended, there would be many murders.

Stanton was slain last May 5 and his place was taken by Quirk, according to a confession to Courtney by James Egan and Anthony De Lordo, ex-convict employes of a gambling house operated by John Williams at 3227 West 63d street. Quirk was killed Sept. 18, and, according to Egan and De Lordo, the motive was control of 34 handbooks.

Allman Ignores Politicians.

Since the present inquiry was begun, newspaper men learned, County Clerk Michael J. Flynn testified that Mayor Kelly, and not the civil service board, acted on police appointments and promotions. Flynn, however, said Allman wouldn't transfer policemen for politicians. Flynn was questioned about the 24 hour a day gambling house which Williams had run in the Chicago Lawn police district, and which also was in Flynn's ward.

The jury is to hear again today of gambling conditions in the county territory outside the city of Chicago from Chief Hugh McCarthy of the sheriff's police force. Acting Capt. John Drury of the Town Hall station and Capt. Thomas Connelly of the Summerdale station are to be other witnesses today.

Slays 2 Sons, Slashes Wife and Ends Life

The tragedy occurred in the family home at 2414 West 10th place, Gary. Sgt. Chester Westcott of the Gary police said he found Mrs. Birkich with her arms, back and thigh slashed, still carrying the body of one son, John Peter, 3 years old. She was rushed to a hospital, where it was said she probably will recover.

Barricaded in an upstairs bedroom, the police found Birkich's body. He had placed a shotgun to his mouth and pulled the trigger.

The body of the other son, James, 6, was found by police back of a sofa in the living room of the Birkich home.

Widow's Story of Tragedy.

After she had received a blood transfusion Mrs. Burkich told her story:

"We were sitting in our upstairs parlor when John suddenly threw down his paper and jumped to his feet. He ran downstairs to the kitchen and came back with the carving knife.

"He seized John Peter and slashed his throat. I grabbed the body. Then John slashed at me and I ran out of the house and onto the front steps.

"A neighbor, Al Dalzotto, who lives at 2426 West 10th place, heard my screams and took me in. He bandaged my wounds and called police."

Tells of Suicide Threat.

Mrs. Birkich told police that her husband several months ago began worrying about the war and the possibility that he would be inducted. She said that altho outwardly he appeared to be well balanced he privately had threatened to kill himself. She said he never had harmed her or their children before and was never quarrelsome.

NEW U. S. SUBMARINE DORADO, BUILT THIS YEAR, LOST IN ACTION

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP).—Loss of the United States submarine Dorado, launched only last May, was reported today by the navy. The announcement contained no reference to where the loss occurred, but it was presumed the action was in the Pacific.

Lt. Comdr. Earle C. Schneider.

The Dorado was the 13th American submarine lost since America's entry into the war. Of this total, navy records list two sunk, 10 overdue and presumed lost, and one destroyed to prevent enemy capture.

The Dorado was commanded by Lt. Comdr. Earle Caffrey Schneider, 31 years old, of Arnold, Md. The normal complement of the Dorado was 65.

The submarine was of 1,525 tons displacement, 307 feet long, and carried 10 21-inch torpedo tubes. It was launched May 23 at the yards of the Electric Boat Co., Groton, Conn. The sponsor was Mrs. Ezra G. Allen of Washington, wife of Rear Adm. Allen.

GAS TANK BLAST CUTS OFF FUEL IN CITIES OF 75,000

Easton, Pa., Oct. 24 (AP).—A terrific explosion followed by a six hour fire destroyed a large portion of the Easton gas works early today, killing at least two persons, injuring more than 35 others, and cutting off gas service to the Easton-Phillipsburg, N. J., war industry area.

The blast also damaged homes and business structures within a wide radius. Most of the injured, including a number of elderly persons and small children, were in their homes when the earth-shaking blast occurred.

Company officials, who reported gas manufacturing equipment escaped serious damage, said service could be restored to war plants and other essential institutions within three days but that the more than 75,000 residents of the area probably would be without service considerably longer.

Plane Attacks Irish Ship; Captain, 3 Men Wounded

DUBLIN, Oct. 25 [Monday]—(AP).—The Irish ship Kerlogue reached Cork harbor last night damaged by an attack from an unidentified plane 120 miles off the Irish coast. The captain and three others were wounded. The Kerlogue, 1,000 gross tons, left here Oct. 20 for Oporto and was three days out when attacked.

Capitol Finds a Helicopter Void of Sex

BY PHILIP WARDEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24.—Plane Designer and Engineer Raymond Loewy, described as a "coldly scientific" Chicagoan, is providing capital wags with one of their choice anecdotes.

According to New York News Columnist John O'Donnell, Loewy came to Washington last week to be an expert witness for the Greyhound Bus corporation at a civil aeronautics board hearing. Greyhound has asked the board for permission to establish 78 helicopter "pickup" routes to ferry passengers to and from central points in their transcontinental bus lines.

All Crane for a Peek.

Loewy, carrying a large framed picture of a helicopter proposed for use on the route, along with blueprints and other engineering paraphernalia intelligible only to one of his profession, dashed from the Union station to the meeting site and was ushered to a hearing room. The meeting was in session.

There were cordial nods from the gentlemen sitting at the table. Loewy took his seat and put his picture by his chair. There was a brief whispered exchange. All the gentlemen seemed interested in his exhibit. As he turned his attentions to the unwrapping of his picture his hosts craned their necks for a quick peek. Then came audible groans of disappointment.

No Lewdness in Helicopter.

"What the hell has lewdness got to do with my helicopter?" Loewy finally demanded.

Loewy, it seems, had been sworn in as an expert witness at the wrong hearing. His hosts, he learned, were analyzing the moral side of the magazine Esquire and some mistook Engineer Loewy for Artist Varga who they thought was bringing in some original drawings for Esquire of uninhibited young ladies now worrying the postoffice department.

Hunters Fire at 'Lynx'; Error Costs Them $52.80

While on a squirrel hunt in the Sugar Grove Kane county forest preserve, George Ruhnke, 2345 Moffat street, and James Wray, 3342 North Halsted street, fired in self-defense yesterday at what appeared to be a lynx. They were disconsolate when a caretaker informed them that the animal was a raccoon and still more so later when Justice Walter G. Nurnberg of Geneva, fined each $26.40 for hunting fur bearing animals out of season.

DUCE ALONE PUT ITALY INTO WAR, SAYS BADOGLIO

Bares Fascist Bid for Power.

BY MARK S. WATSON.
[Copyright, 1943, Baltimore Sun.]
[Distributed by The Associated Press.]

SOUTHERN ITALY, Oct. 20 [Delayed].—Marshal Pietro Badoglio, in an interview, today told of the hitherto little known events by which Benito Mussolini alone committed Italy to war in 1940 without the consent or the knowledge of his military chiefs who knew the nation's total unreadiness for grand scale combat.

Marshal Badoglio.

The marshal's recital of Il Duce's actions was an appalling record of cold-blooded decision to buy power with Italian blood.

Discusses Present Situation.

Badoglio also discussed the present situation in his country, the events he had brought to pass and his hopes for Italy's immediate future.

Transcending all other needs, he said at the outset, is the expulsion of the Germans. Next to that is the establishment of constitutional government, in the creation of which all political opinion in Italy must have a voice.

As soon as hostilities cease, Badoglio repeated, his task will be finished, and he will surrender his office.

Reforms Already Initiated.

The marshal pointed out that he has already initiated certain reforms, including destruction of the entire Fascist political machine all the way from the grand council and grafting corporation setups to the particularly obnoxious Gioventu Italiana de Littorio [G. I. L.] or the so-called Littorio youth movement for boys 6 to 18 years old.

Punishment of individual Fascists has not yet been determined, he said. Distinction must be made, he said, between real Fascist leaders and their triggermen, who by implication must be punished, and those so-called Fascists of entirely different categories—notably minor government officials, clerks and most professional men. These have had a choice between professing lip loyalty to fascism and starving. One gathers these will be forgiven their merely perfunctory acceptance of fascism partly because a good many of them are necessary in the orderly restoration of the nation.

When Italy went to war, Badoglio

'HELLO, IKE,' SOLDIERS CRY AS EISENHOWER TOURS FRONT IN JEEP

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE 5TH ARMY IN ITALY, Oct. 22 [Delayed].—Gen. Eisenhower left by plane today after having spent two days visiting the front. During his stay he conferred with his field commander, chatted with soldiers, and visited front line command posts.

Eisenhower arrived Thursday accompanied by his British aide, a lieutenant colonel. They were greeted at the airport by Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark, 5th army commander, and went to the latter's headquarters and met Maj. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, Clark's chief of staff.

During the day the commander in chief toured the British sector. He rode in the front seat of a jeep driven by Sgt. Edward G. Miller, of Cleveland, O., Gen. Clark holding down the back seat. Motorcyclists preceded the car. He spent the night in a tent. Today Eisenhower spent in the American sector, again in a jeep. American shells were flying overhead as he crossed the Volturno. He strolled over to where Sgt. G. T. Moedinger, of Baraboo, Wis., was repairing a jeep. Moedinger snapped to the salute. Eisenhower grinned and said, "Keep on working." His jeep passed 10 American soldiers in weapon carriers. They yelled, "Hello, Ike," and Ike grinned and waved.

ALLIES' ITALIAN PUSH AIDS REDS: GEN. ALEXANDER

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HDQ., 15TH ARMY GROUP, Italy, Oct. 23 [Delayed].—Gen. Harold Alexander disclosed tonight that the Italian campaign has tied up between 35 and 40 German divisions in Italy and the Balkans. This, he said, robs the enemy of reserve strength and prevents him from throwing that strength to the Russian front. The majority of these German divisions are in Italy and seven of them are now in the line against us, Alexander stated.

Gen. Harold Alexander.

The allied field commander described the campaign thus far as "going quite well but rather slowly--not as quickly as I'd like."

"All the roads lead to Rome," he said but then amended this commonplace with "but the trouble is all the roads are mined. He who holds Rome holds the heart of the Italian people. In addition to that city's political importance and strategic value as a road center, its possession has a tremendous effect on the frame of mind of the Italians."

Tells of Critical Period.

Alexander would not hazard a guess as to when the allies would reach Rome. He mentioned the considerable enemy strength deployed along the way.

Alexander's remarks were made at a conference for war correspondents. He told of the critical time more than a month ago after the American and British 5th army landed at Salerno.

"We had hoped to sweep right thru eastward," Alexander said. "And the enemy had only the 16th panzer division in the Salerno area at the time. But it takes a while to disembark a force the size we sent in and he checked us long enough to bring in three more divisions—two from the south where they were facing our 8th army and one from the north.

"Germans Fought on Land."

"The Germans had terra firma on which to fight while we had the sea at our backs. The situation was exceedingly perilous for us, but Lt. Gen. [Mark W.] Clark [5th army commander] handled it well. We turned on everything, the air force particularly doing a great job. A force from the 8th army hurried to Potenza at the enemy's back. The German couldn't concentrate his attack and he pivoted northwestward as expected and we drove him back."

Alexander said it probably was true, as Stalin had said, that the Italian offensive is not causing the removal of a single German division from the Russian front. The British general pointed out, however, that the enemy forces sent here and to the Balkans after the collapse of Italy were drawn from the reserves which the Nazis planned to send to Russia. Therefore, he insisted, this campaign was striking a powerful blow for the success of the whole war plan.

Nazis Lost Heavily.

It was Alexander's opinion that the Germans lost heavily in the Salerno fighting. The 5th army casualties so far in Italy are 14,000 men and the 8th army, 1,000, he said. The 8th army has encountered demolitions as its main obstacle, while the 5th army has had bitter fighting. Total casualties in the Sicilian campaign were approximately 20,000.

Alexander said he never made a military plan which depended on the collaboration and assistance of the Italians. Such developments when they occurred were regarded as a bonus, he stated.

He complimented the Italian police for their work in preserving order and said some of the Italian troops are being used on engineering and labor tasks.

Asked if he had any hand in Italian politics, Alexander smiled and shook his head. "No, I'm a soldier," he said.

CLARK'S FORCE RAMS AHEAD ON VOLTURNO LINE

4 More Towns Won in Allied Drive.

ALLIED HDQ., ALGIERS, Oct. 24 (AP).—The British 8th army, launching a drive against the Nazi Trigno river line, speared ahead five to six miles yesterday and crossed the river, it was announced today. Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery's veterans seized three towns.

To the west, the American 5th army rammed fresh holes into the enemy's mountain defenses along both banks of the upper Volturno river, capturing Baiae Latina in a push up the valley toward Venafro the anchor of the new German line blocking the way to Rome.

The Germans still are fighting stubbornly to slow the Americans, making particularly effective use of artillery and mortar positions and machine gun nests dotting all the mountainous heights.

"Static" on Coastal Flank.

On the 5th army's coastal flank between the Volturno's mouth and lofty Massico ridge, the "situation is fairly static," an allied officer said.

The Canadians and British in the center, where the 5th and 8th army fronts link up, were reported encountering heavy Nazi artillery fire and extremely difficult terrain.

The 8th army forced the Trigno river at an undisclosed point and pushed the Germans back to the northwest bank at other places. The Trigno, roughly paralleling the Biferno river, empties into the Adriatic 12 miles northwest of Termoli and seven miles from Vasto.

The momentum of the attack and the breaching of the strong river positions at one point opened the way for establishment of a bridgehead. The Germans, who previously had been reported moving fresh troops, armor, and equipment into the line, fought to prevent further crossings, and dynamited a number of bridges.

Menace Important Highway.

An advance across the lowlands immediately beyond the Trigno would put the British astride the important lateral highway from Vasto southwest thru Castiglione to a junction with the Foggia-Rome highway near Isernia.

Once that road is gained, the Germans would lose an exceedingly valuable communications route behind their lines, and Montgomery would be in position to threaten the flank and rear of the strong infantry and artillery units resisting the allied advance along the Foggia-Rome road from Vinchiaturo.

Montgomery's troops also captured Lucito, 11 miles north of Campobasso; Montenero, five miles northwest of Montecilfone, and Campochiaro in the center. The British and Canadians battered a path uphill to take Campochiaro and the near-by heights commanding the road leading from Vinchiaturo.

Flyers Blast Enemy's Rear.

R. A. F. and United States fighters and bombers roamed at will over and behind the enemy lines, blasting at strong points and bombing and shooting up motor convoys and trains.

Mitchell [B-25] bombers blasted the Albinia railway bridge along the Rome-Pisa line, making direct hits, while Marauders [B-26s] with fighter escorts bombed the Marsciano railway bridge on the Perugia-Terni line north of Rome. Fifteen enemy fighters gave battle, but Lightnings [P-38s] drove them off, destroying one. Other Marauders attacked the Montalto di Castra railway bridge north of Rome.

A naval bulletin said swift American patrol torpedo boats, reaching out southeast of Elba Thursday night, wrecked a large German ship carrying ammunition. "The vessel, which was escorted by four 'R' boats, disintegrated," headquarters reported.

[Berlin's Sunday war bulletin said: "In the western and central sectors of the South Italy front the enemy undertook several thrusts prepared by strong artillery fire and supported by several tanks. These attacks mostly collapsed under concentrated fire from German positions or were frustrated by German counter-attacks."]

TELLS HOW DUCE ACTED ALONE IN GOING TO WAR

was chief of the Italian general staff. He stated firmly he knew nothing whatever of Mussolini's commitment until too late to attempt its revocation.

Badoglio and the army obediently bowed to the higher authority's order and went to war. In the succeeding November, at the beginning of the Greek war, Badoglio was dropped as chief of staff. Thereafter he remained entirely out of office and outside Mussolini's or the Fascist's confidence until last July.

One day after Mussolini was forced out of office King Victor Emmanuel directed Badoglio to assume his duties as the new chief of government.

Tells of Events.

The veteran soldier prepared answers to a series of questions submitted to him. Asked what effort was made to prevent Italy from plunging into the war, the marshal's answer was:

"In August of 1939, Mussolini tried to persuade Hitler not to go to war. Hitler replied that the question concerned Germany alone and that she was in a position to settle the problem by herself and therefore Italy should not intervene. Mussolini replied that in any case Italy could not be ready before 1943 and declared Italian nonbelligerency. Every one was convinced that we would never get into war. In fact, at the beginning of 1940 Mussolini sold four destroyers to Sweden, aviation material to France and the first anti-tank weapons then being built to other countries.

Nazi Victories Change Picture.

"Then came May, 1940, with swift German victories in Belgium and France. Military leaders clearly demonstrated to Mussolini the absolute unreadiness of our armed forces. In spite of this, convinced that the war was about to end, Mussolini without asking any of his collaborators, wrote to Hitler at the end of May that by June 10 he would have declared war. Military leaders were advised of this not less than four days later. To their remonstrances, Mussolini replied 'in September, 1940, everything will be over and I will need some thousands of dead to be able to sit at the peace table as a belligerent.'"

The marshal was asked when the decision to overthrow the Fascist regime was taken and what made such action feasible and acceptable to the population, and he replied:

"The Italian people had for some time felt intense hatred for Fascism, but no one could rebel, considering that all power was in the hands of the government. The attack against Mussolini was carried out by Fascist hierarchs themselves. On their demand Mussolini summoned the grand council of Fascism on July 24. There an order of the day was proposed which expressed lack of confidence in activities of the head of government. The debate, which was very animated and violent, dragged on into the night and ended with a vote of 19 against the head of government and five in favor. The following day the king accepted the resignation offered by Mussolini."

Reveals Cost to Italy.

To the question as to what the war had cost Italy in men and material so far, the marshal replied.

"We were not ready for so extensive and complex a war. Our land and air armament was scanty and out of date. Only the fleet was up to date in its equipment, but we were short of light craft. We lost all the arms and troops we had in Ethiopia. We sent a large part of our most modern equipment to Libya, and that, too, was lost. In Libya and Tunisia our losses in men were particularly severe. Mussolini insisted on sending large forces to Russia and the Balkans. In Russia our ill-armed and worse equipped divisions were almost completely destroyed. There were a good 10 divisions. In the Balkans guerrilla warfare continued, causing a cruel drain on man power.

"The gravest fact was the following: At a time when Sicily was already being invaded Mussolini's strategy had disposed 36 divisions abroad and only 12 in Italy. The fleet suffered serious losses in heavy and light cruisers and small craft. The air force was almost completely sacrificed."

Interviewed in Castle.

The interview took place in a small, unimpressive corner room on the second floor of a twelfth century castle which the 72 year old marshal uses as an office. Badoglio was dressed in the rough field uniform of a soldier except for four star insignia on the shoulders and two ribbons on the left chest.

He stressed the point that Mussolini's breach of agreement and his attack on Greece were never supported by the Italian people on either military or moral grounds and repeatedly mentioned Italy's present desire to live at peace with her neighbors. He pointed out that in conformity to the terms of Armistice Italy has already rendered considerable aid to the allies and now seems able to do more with the resources at her command.

Even Nazi Press Is Pessimistic.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 24 (AP). — Germany's home front crisis apparently is growing despite the severe measures of Gestapo Chieftain Heinrich Himmler, and indications in neutral capitals tonight tended to point to a Nazi collapse in from a few weeks to 18 months.

The reports themselves and the tone of the German press have taken a pessimistic tinge in the last week. Two conferences of Nazi party and military leaders this month indicated a stirring of events behind the facade of German censorship.

Dr. Jenny, a prominent Swiss journalist writing in the Basle National Zeitung, said, "In wide circles, it is considered possible that Germany will break within a few weeks, as the German people have reached a dead point."

The Swedish labor paper Arbetaren said: "The attitude of the German inner front is being entirely transformed under the influence of new realities. It has switched from admiration for the Fuehrer to a bitterness of feeling by a people who have been duped. If contact is established between this rising popular displeasure and the generals' opposition to Hitler's prestige and strategy, it may ignite an electric spark sufficient to set the whole Nazi power structure ablaze, loosing an irremediable catastrophe. It may happen before Christmas or it might be delayed until after the new year."

An informed German visiting Sweden acknowledged Germany has lost the war, but insisted she was still equipped and prepared to carry on a terrific fight for at least 18 months.

2,000 GERMANS TAKEN PRISONER BY JUGO-SLAVS

Gen. Tito's Forces Storm Two Important Towns.

LONDON, Oct. 24 (AP).—Gen. Josip [Tito] Broz' guerrilla armies, battling German forces thru almost the entire length of Jugo-Slavia, have stormed two strongly defended towns and captured 2,000 Nazi officers and men in western Bosnia, the Free Jugo-Slav radio announced today.

Tito's bulletin describing the capture of the largest number of prisoners of the campaign lashed out at the Chetnik forces of Gen. Draja Mihailovitch, King Peter's war minister, accusing some of them of joining with the Germans in an attack on Tito's partisans along the Albanian border.

"German troops and Mihailovitch Chetniks are attacking without success at Matesevo, near Kolasin," the bulletin said. "So far they have lost 300 killed."

Capture 4 Radio Stations.

Tito's announcement said Bosnian forces had stormed and occupied the town of Sanskimost on the Sana river, capturing 865 officers and men and four radio stations.

Units of the same division, it continued, also took Kozarac along with 1,100 Nazi prisoners, leaving the important rail town of Prijedor encircled. Defensive battles were reported raging in Croatia, near Karlovac.

Guerrilla columns, attacking a German motorized column between Ogulin, on the Susak-Zagreb railroad, and Modris, were said to have dispersed the column and captured war material. Croat mountain forces have reached the barren peak of Golivrh, the commanding height of the Zumberak mountain range, the bulletin said.

Other guerrilla forces were reported stabbing at German garrisons near Varazdin, in northern Jugo-Slavia near the Hungarian border, west of Ljubljana in Slovenia, and to have repelled all German attacks on Jugo-Slav positions near Groza on the Kupa river.

Claim Islands Retaken.

The German high command, in a bulletin broadcast from Berlin, said German soldiers who had been taken prisoner in the eastern Mediterranean succeeded in liberating themselves and after receiving reënforcements recaptured the island of Levitha in the Aegean sea.

Levitha is 20 miles northeast of the Greek island of Amorgos. The bulletin said allied forces had taken Levitha on Sept. 27. Its occupation has never been officially reported by allied quarters.

The bulletin also repeated previous German reports that the island of Stampalia in the Dodecanese had been retaken from the British by the Germans. It said Nazi air force formations reënforced by army groups landed on the island and "broke enemy resistance."

[A Cairo bulletin said middle east R. A. F. bombers attacked Heraklion [Candia], Crete air field on Saturday night and other bombers attacked the harbor on the Aegean island of Syros Friday night.]

Warfare in the Balkans

NAZI PRISONERS REPORT LOSSES HEAVY IN ITALY

ON THE VOLTURNO RIVER FRONT, Italy, Oct. 16 [Delayed]—(AP).—German prisoners captured in the Volturno offensive confirm that Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's army is suffering heavy casualties. Prisoners told interrogators that regiments were so depleted that they consisted of two battalions instead of the usual three.

The state of enemy morale varies widely among the prisoners. Some come in badly shaken from the effects of allied barrages. They say they are glad to get out of the war and say the army as a whole believes Germany has lost.

Others, however, particularly the younger soldiers, are surly or jaunty in manner. Some of these told their captors that they were going to escape at the first opportunity.

In general, it is purely iron discipline and a deeply ingrained habit of obeying that keeps many Germans fighting. They are not accustomed to being continually on the defensive and losing ground. This has hurt their morale. But they carry out orders—and very well—so long as their officers are present.

American artillery fire seems to have impressed the Germans more than any other single part of our warfare. Prisoners said they were unable to use Italian railways [which are under regular air attack] and are forced to move everything by trucks at night to avoid raiding aerial squadrons.

Lend-Lease Aid Asked for Dodecanese Islands

New York, Oct. 24 (AP).—The Pan-Dodecanesian congress today in a resolution urged that the Dodecanese Islands, held by Italy for 31 years, be formally declared a part of Greece. Extension of the lend-lease act to the Dodecanese also was asked. The resolution, adopted by 80 delegates, asked that the Greek government in Cairo take "the necessary steps for the assumption of the political administration of the Dodecanese Islands as soon as their liberation has been completed and the military situation permits."

TELLS HOW 200 GERMAN PLANES ATTACK RAIDERS

Chicagoan on Flying Fort Describes Battle.

United States army air force flyers who raided Muenster, Germany, Oct. 10, encountered "the most concentrated fighter and anti-aircraft attack since the beginning of operations in the European theater," 1st Lt. James B. Goddard Jr., 23 years old, a Northwestern university graduate wrote yesterday in a letter to his mother, who lives at 953 Foster avenue.

Lt. James B. Goddard Jr.

Between 200 and 300 enemy fighters attacked his formation in waves as anti-aircraft batteries sent up a heavy barrage that caused his Flying Fortress "to bounce around considerably." Lt. Goddard wrote that half of the ships in his group were lost, including a Fortress piloted by Lt. John G. Winant Jr., son of the American ambassador to Great Britain, who failed to return from the raid.

Substitutes as Radio Man.

Lt. Goddard, a ground communications gunnery officer, became one of the raiders when he was permitted to join one of the crews as a substitute radio operator.

The raiders met fighter resistance as soon as they crossed the European coast. On the way to the target Goddard said he fired his gun continuously, despite intense cold which froze both his thumbs.

"Before my very eyes I saw three Fortresses burst into flames and the brown clad bodies of the crew leave the ships as they parachuted down," he wrote.

Plane Fights Way Back.

"I was frightened at the thought of crashing or having to bail out, but I could think only of the rush of fighters that would come to finish us now that we were alone," Lt. Goddard confessed.

The disabled Fortress managed to withstand the rush of fighters by dropping under another formation of bombers which the pilot found afforded "umbrella protection" on the way back. The bomber, its fuel almost gone, made a safe landing in England.

Lt. Goddard, son of a major in an anti-aircraft unit, and his comrades shot down nine enemy fighters during the raid.

Blast Destroys Trailer Home, Burns Three Boys

Three boys were burned severely last night in a gasoline explosion when they tried to light a stove in a trailer at 7410 Lawrence avenue, Norwood Park township. The trailer—home of one of the boys, Harold Lehman, 15 years old—was destroyed. The other boys are Stephen Brill, 13, and his brother, George, 11, of 7401 Lawrence avenue.

SISTER KENNY TO NAME PLANE AT NAVY RITES

A new step in the development of navy air equipment will be marked during the Navy day program Wednesday when the navy's first ambulance plane is christened.

The ceremony will take place in front of the city hall after a parade in which 12,000 navy men and women are expected to take part. Sister Elizabeth Kenny of Minneapolis, noted for her treatment of infantile parlysis, will bath the propeller hub of the plane in waters from the seven seas when she names it in honor of Florence Nightingale.

4 CHICAGOLAND FLYERS AMONG 16 BOMBER DEAD

Mountain Home, Idaho, Oct. 24 (AP).—The Mountain Home army air base tonight released the names of 16 men who were killed Saturday when two heavy bombers, each containing eight men, collided and crashed southwest of here. No one survived the crash. One bomber sheared off the wing of the other. The plane that lost the wing flew a short distance before crashing, but the other plunged into the sand of a dry creek bed. The dead included:

Chicago Flyer Killed.

Salina, Kas., Oct. 24 (AP).—A four engined army bomber crashed taking off and burned today on the Smoky Hill army air field, killing ten of the 11 men aboard. Among the dead was Pvt. Tony C. Menolascino, 21 years old, whose mother, Mrs. Felice, lives at 1654 South Homan avenue, Chicago. The only survivor was Sgt. Oscar H. Bolt, Tucson, Ariz., who climbed from the burning wreckage.

Illinois Officer Killed.

Oroville, Cal., Oct. 24 (AP).—Three lieutenants from Mather field near Sacramento were killed today in a B-25 bomber crash eight miles west of here. Mather officials said the dead included 1st Lt. Chester B. Sikking Jr., 24 years old, son of Chester B. Sikking Sr., Springfield, Ill.

LIQUOR AND TOBACCO STOLEN.

Julius Silverman, operator of a tavern at 200 East 39th street, reported to police yesterday that burglars had entered his establishment and stolen $617 worth of liquor and tobacco.

YANKS' BOMBERS HIT NAZI LANDS FROM TWO SIDES

Attack Targets in Austria, Hungary, and France.

LONDON, Oct. 24 (AP).—Allied bombers, striking from both north and south, bombed France, Austria, and Hungary in the heart of Germany's fortress today as the Americans readied new forces for long range penetrations perhaps to Berlin and beyond.

Twin-tailed American Lightning [P-38] fighters, returning to Britain from North Africa for the first time in many months, made their debut as long range escorts, while American Thunderbolts [P-47s] which previously had escorted Fortresses 800 miles to Emden and back, also flew cover for medium Marauders [B-26s] attacking France.

Nazi fighter bases at Beauvais-Niviliers and Saint Andre de L'Eure and the bomber base at Montdidier were attacked by the American planes without loss of a single craft, the air ministry announced. Other Thunderbolts, Spitfires, and Typhoons carried out supporting sweeps with the loss of one Spitfire. Ten enemy planes were brought down.

Berlin Radio Blacks Out.

The attacks took the Marauders 60 miles from the channel shore. Beauvais-Niviliers is 40 miles north of Paris, Montdidier 40 miles farther north, and Saint Andre de L'Eure 45 miles west of Paris near Evreux. Montdidier is the first bomber base target hit since the Fortress blows against the Atlantic patrol bomber bases around Nantes on the west coast last month.

Berlin and Luxemburg radios went off the air tonight, indicating that another allied raid might be under way against Germany.

Four-engine bombers came up from the Mediterranean to sweep the Vienna area and Styria district of Austria, and later more big formations crossed Hungary's southwest border to bomb trans-Danubia, Berlin and Budapest radios announced.

Reuters [British news agency] quoted a Budapest report as saying American bombers detailed to Austrian targets were believed to have taken off from allied-held Italian fields about Foggia and flown on to England after the bombing.

Fly Low Over Cherbourg.

A force of 300 bombers and 200 fighter escorts was seen near Zagreb, German puppet capital of Croatia, which fired its guns later at 16 allied planes, Berlin said. Budapest also had an alert.

A force of R. A. F. Mitchells, Whirlwinds and Typhoons swept into Cherbourg harbor at wavetop height thru anti-aircraft fire that hit every plane. They bombed a medium-sized merchant ship, setting it afire.

Last night the Nazis did a little damage in outlying areas of London. The German radio reported showering high explosives and incendiaries on Great Yarmouth, losing two bombers—possibly one-tenth of their whole force.

Carry Extra Gas Tanks.

Lightning pilots now based in England include Lieutenants Arthur de Young, 10214 Eggleston avenue, Chicago; Wesley M. Tibbets, Homer, Ill.; Paul E. Hoeper, Wausau, Wis., and Robert Buttke, Newton, Ia.

The Lightnings, it was disclosed, have been on a half-dozen fighter sweeps in the past two weeks and now are equipped with two long range fuel tanks attached under the wings where bombs sometimes have been fitted.

SECRET WEAPON TO COMBAT AIR RAIDS ON LONDON

May Set Record for Anti-Aircraft.

LONDON, Oct. 24 (AP).—The British army has disclosed the existence of a new allied "secret weapon" in anti-aircraft fire, and in the London area at least "any German adventures in the night sky will be very unprofitable," said Brig. Basil J. Schonland, chief of the army's scientific research branch, during a recent inspection by news men of London's anti-aircraft setup.

With it the British hope to approach the greatest anti-aircraft firing in this war—60 shells per plane brought down, a record set by the United States marines on Guadalcanal.

Room Is Underground.

The gun operations room of London's defenses is far underground, and is the nerve center of the entire system. From it information is sent out in a constant stream to every gun emplacement in Greater London, and the exact position of every enemy plane is given at 30 second intervals.

From a high platform a single officer can see on a chart not only the position of each plane, but also which guns are "on target" and which are firing. He can silence every gun in an instant or step up the fire from any area.

Lights Indicate Guns.

There are four big tables, each carrying a map divided into numbered squares. The biggest table is for "filtered information"—a combination of R. A. F. radar data and information from scores of observers along the coast and inland.

Every gun in London is represented on a big map by small colored lights. A green light means the gun is on target; a red light that the gun is firing.

LONDON JEWISH PARLEY BACKS PALESTINE PLAN

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Oct. 24.—A conference of the British section of the World Jewish Congress, meeting in London, today adopted a resolution affirming its support of the agency in its policy of advocating the establishment of Palestine as a Jewish commonwealth.

L. Bakstansky, a convention delegate who offered the resolution, expressed the opinion that real Arab-Jewish coöperation was impossible under British administration. He charged that at the roots of the government there were officials who were not at all determined to encourage coöperation between the two races and in many cases went out of their way to divide them.

The conference also adopted a resolution urging as one of the armistice conditions that the allied nations demand the surrender of those who during the war have ordered and carried out persecution of Jews.

INQUEST INTO CHILD'S DEATH.

A coroner's inquest will be held at the Illinois Central hospital this morning into the death of Patsy Patterson, 13 months old, who was scalded fatally Saturday in a rooming house at 5411 Harper avenue.

YANKS COMPLAIN HOLLYWOOD IS NOT DOING PART

Want More Entertainers Who Stay Longer.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HDQ., ALGIERS, Oct. 24. —American soldiers have been pathetically grateful for those entertainers from the United States who have appeared in North Africa, but the general feeling among both the ordinary G. I. Joes and officers is that Broadway and Hollywood have failed to do all they could.

For what they get they are duly thankful. But what they want is more entertainers who will spend some time getting around to all the areas instead of making short visits.

As one officer said, "If a star can't stay here for a while, it might be better if he didn't come at all, because it means that only a relatively few soldiers can see him."

Likes the Sweet Girls.

The soldiers are eager for entertainment by "big names." But they are just as definite about what they don't want, too. They want entertainers who perform, and not those who merely believe their presence on the stage is enough.

Another vagary of the ordinary soldier is in his reaction to the glamor girls. You will find in any camp thousands of pictures of "pin up" girls. But when it comes to flesh and blood, the sentimental American soldier wants the "sweet" type and not the usual Hollywood idea.

This may sound like heresy, but the American soldier knows what he likes, and those in charge of sending him his entertainment should bear it in mind, in the opinion of responsible army officers.

Benny There Ten Days.

There was, for example, Miss Tony Mason, a member of the Red Cross. Miss Mason can sing, but more important, she looks like she stepped straight off a middle western campus. The army special service corps borrowed Miss Mason from the Red Cross and sent her on a tour of bivouac areas. The result was that the American soldiers stampeded to the Mason bandwagon, finding in her fresh faced appeal an embodiment of their "dream girls."

Among the professional entertainers who have appeared in North Africa—a few also visited Sicily briefly—were Bob Hope, Jack Benny, Al Jolson, Al Schacht, Adolph Menjou, Stubby Kay, Anna Lee, Kay Francis, Martha Raye, Carole Landis, and Mitzi Mayfair. There was also USO show number 99, consisting of the old time vaudevillian Jack Cavanaugh and four others who toured bivouac areas, and the new all-soldier show just arrived, "Hey Rookie," starring Sterling Halloway.

Special Services requests that stars spend a minimum of six to eight weeks in this theater, but most visits are shorter, ending when the entertainer must hurry home to keep other commitments. Jack Benny, for example, could only spend 10 days here.

Stubby Kay and his orchestra proved immensely popular on a two months' tour, as was Al Schacht, who did his usual hilarious baseball act and told his fabulous stories. Schacht considered he had a job to do, and as the phrase goes, "knocked himself out" doing it.

Then there was another entertainer who remarked as he started for home after a short tour, "In spite of everything I had a good time."

Report Pope Receives British, French Envoys

BERNE, Switzerland, Oct. 24 (AP). —A dispatch by the Swiss telegraphic agency from Chiasso, on the Swiss-Italian border, tonight said Pope Pius had held private audiences with Francis D'Arcy, the British minister to the Vatican, Leon Berard, the French ambassador, and Cardinals Rossi, Canazi and Mercati.

65 FILIPINOS SET FREE IN MANILA, SAYS JAP RADIO

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Sixty-five Filipino and 14 Chinese prisoners were released at a ceremony at a prison camp outside Manila, the Japanese news agency Domei said yesterday in a broadcast.

The action was in accordance with a proclamation of "general amnesty for political prisoners" by the newly inaugurated Philippine puppet president, Jose P. Laurel, the broadcast said.

An earlier broadcast by the Berlin radio said Filipino prisoners of war had been released.

NEW INVASION PLAN USES SEA 'BLOCKBUSTERS'

IN ENGLAND, Oct. 24 (AP).—The royal navy and a Canadian army formation have teamed up to present a devastating new technique for a landing assault against a strongly defended coast, a method described as similar to hurling "blockbusters" from the sea. By concentrated fire from warships, breaches were blasted thru actual beach defenses to give the infantry a path to gain the initial bridgehead during maneuvers on the British coast.

YANK INGENUITY BUILDS SHELTER OF BROKEN WING

Steel Cots from Scraps Made Like New.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH U. S. AIR FORCES IN ITALY, Oct. 22 [Delayed].—It was only a wing of a wrecked Italian bomber lying in the mud of an enemy air field in Italy until allied forces captured the field several weeks ago, establishing their own advanced air base. Now it is the home for four Americans and one Britisher, members of an anti-aircraft battery of the 12th air support command.

The wide end of the wing was elevated about 10 feet and braced by sections of destroyed enemy planes with the tip resting on the ground. Pup tent halves hanging from the wing top and staked to the ground are side walls.

There is plenty of dry and protected space underneath for the steel cots which were abandoned by the enemy. These were found without springs in the bombed and burned buildings and the supposition is that the original springs were rope and consumed by the flames.

Stove Pipe Thru Shell Hole.

Discarded wire laced across the frame top makes a resting place comparable to anything claimed by the famed mattress advertisments, said Corp. Anthony Jaeger from Hammond, Ind., squad leader of one gun crew.

A shell hole in the wing was a logical outlet for a heating stove pipe. The stove burns wood and was made from a gasoline drum.

"Our first stove was a C ration can the night we arrived in the rain, but it wasn't big enough," explained Pvt. 1st Class Walter White, 14 North La Grange road, La Grange, Ill. "I worked at a gasoline station before the war and know how to use the drums for lots of things."

"Maybe I ought to write Musso a letter telling him his bombers are good for something anyway," observed Pvt. 1st Class Clyde Kirby from Knoxville, Tenn. "We're going to move to a regular tent in a few days, but this has been okay and better than sleeping in the mud."

"Worse Places," Vet Says.

"I've been in worse places," was the cryptic comment in the burr of Pvt. W. B. Smith from Aberdeen, Scotland, a member of a British gun crew. He is a veteran of the 11 month siege of Tobruk, the Tunisian campaign, Sicily, and Salerno.

"You sure learn how to do things for yourself in this man's army," said Pvt. Cyril Sangkuhl, 2753-A North 27th street, Milwaukee, Wis. "They just dumped us here and if we didn't find a shelter we knew there would be none for us. I'm getting used to it. Anyway, it wasn't like the funny feeling we had when we landed north of Salerno and we stood on the beach watching the barges leave. We followed the Rangers in. When I think about that night this doesn't seem bad at all."

Japs Drop Pearl Harbor Celebration; Too Busy

New York, Oct. 24 (AP).—The Japanese, who devoted a full week last December to celebrating the first anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor, will refrain from observing the anniversary this year "in view of the importance of the war situation," the Tokio radio said today in a broadcast recorded by United States government monitors.

RUINS IN NAPLES BEYOND BELIEF OF MORGENTHAU

Never Expected Such Wreckage, He Says.

ALLIED HDQ., ALGIERS, Oct. 24 (AP).—The destruction wrought by the Germans at Naples exceeded anything he had expected, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau said today after a swing thru war sectors which took him to Tunisia, Sicily, Naples, and the 5th army front.

"In Naples harbor the Germans not only sank vessels, but they chained them to other vessels to make the raising of them more difficult," he said.

Want to Finish Job.

Regarding the recent recommendation of United States senators who visited this theater that American soldiers be given home leave after a stipulated period of service abroad, Morgenthau said the soldiers he had met did not want to go home until the Germans are beaten.

Turning to financial matters, he said he felt army special service officers had done a good job of selling war bonds to soldiers in this theater of operations "in some cases," but he planned to send a "top flight man" into the area to take over the job.

Morgenthau pointed out 86 per cent of the total American army pay roll in this area returns to the United States in the form of allotments, money orders, bond purchases or purchases at post exchanges. This leaves only 14 per cent which the soldiers spend locally.

Exchange Rates to Stay.

The secretary said that so far as he knew the present official exchange rate of the French franc and the Italian lira would remain unchanged. The franc is pegged at 2 cents and the lira at 1 cent.

Morgenthau said that under reverse lend-lease the army no longer pays cash for anything bought locally in North Africa but that all such purchases are put on the lend-lease books against American supplies given to the French.

Morgenthau has conferred with virtually all high American and British army leaders, the French generals, Henri Giraud and Charles de Gaulle, as well as other members of the French committee of national liberation, and Alexander Bogomolov, Russian delegate to the French committee.

Venice Made Seat of Envoys to Mussolini

LONDON, Oct. 24 (AP).—Benito Mussolini has made Venice the residence of foreign diplomatic missions to his Republican Fascist government, the German radio said today, and Bulgarian, Hungarian, Rumanian, and Japanese representatives already have moved there from Rome.

6,000 Killed in Kassel by RAF Raid, Sweden Hears

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 24 (AP).—At least 6,000 persons were killed and few houses escaped damage by blast and fire during the R. A. F. raid on Kassel Friday night, the newspaper Allehenda said today in a dispatch based on information heard from a clandestine German radio station.

COLD meets defeat!—because this Anti-Freeze holds out against HEAT

$29.41 is the average price, among popular cars, for a new radiator alone...if you can get one. But even supposing that you could get free repairs on your present radiator after a freeze-up, the man-power shortage still might lay up your car for a week or two—a costly inconvenience.

Same old "scare stuff," do you say? Yet here's what may be new to you: You could easily sacrifice your car to the cold, unless your anti-freeze is able to save itself from the HEAT!

HEAT makes your engine go. HEAT rises after every stop. And days below zero are often followed by days above freezing! In Winter car operation, heat is fully as much a factor as cold, and Super Pyro is ready for both. Because it won't be all "gone with the heat" every time, you needn't keep adding a lot for safe passage through a whole string of cold spells.

You pay nowhere near a top price for Super Pyro. And yet how it lasts. So will your cooling system, because this highly heat-safe, cold-safe Super Pyro also protects against dangerous clogging rust. Now—while most dealers still have some—get your Super Pyro.

MOSCOW PARLEY BEGINS DRAFTING OF AGREEMENTS

Delegates Attend Ballet, but Hull Rests.

MOSCOW, Oct. 24 (AP).—The foreign ministers' conference moved today into the vital phase of drafting in specific terms the agreements to come out of the three power meeting.

The nature of these documents—on some of which agreement in principle already has been reached—was not disclosed, but the veil of secrecy over the conference lifted enough to give a glimpse of the way the work is proceeding.

During the first week, it was learned, United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, and Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov settled the agenda of the conference, and passed on to discussions of points in principle.

Experts Go to Work.

Their experts, who held their first separate meeting last night, took over the task of putting these points on paper while the ministers continued their own deliberations.

Most members of the American and British delegations took time off tonight to see a special performance of the ballet, "Swan Lake," at the Bolshoi theater. Eden took in the show, which is a favorite of the diplomatic corps, but Hull spent the evening resting.

Hull had a private talk at noon today at the British embassy.

Definite word came from the British delegation that Eden's separate talks with Premier Stalin and Molotov "related to purely Anglo-Russian affairs."

Paper Hails Results.

Meanwhile, the plain spoken publication, War and the Working Class, citing lend-lease aid, the unconditional surrender of Italy and other events, said that allied collaboration already had produced "positive results" and now "has entered a new phase" in the conference.

The conference, it said, "will have to overcome difficulties which are not minor" but "will fulfill its important mission of breaking down the enemy's calculations for prolonging the war . . . as the allied nations have joined efforts on the grounds of common, friendly cooperation for the solution of post-war problems which already have risen."

The "first real problem," however, is to work for shortening the war, it added.

YOUNG MOTHER FOUND BEATEN TO DEATH IN N. Y.

New York, Oct. 24 (AP).—The nude body of Mrs. Patricia Burton Lonergan, 22 year old wife of a member of the royal Canadian air force, was found tonight in an East 51st street triplex apartment, and police said she was slain apparently by blows on the head with a brass candlestick.

Capt. Peter Elser, U. S. M. C., told police he had found Mrs. Lonergan, mother of a 1½ year old child, dead when he called on a dinner date.

Besides questioning the marine officer, police said they were investigating others whose names were found in a dairy kept by Mrs. Lonergan.

Inspector Patrick Kenny said she was separated from her husband, Wayne Lonergan, 26, but added that he did not know if it was a legal separation.

Police said that Mrs. Lonergan's whereabouts preceding her death were not known and that she had been seen alive last on Saturday night by Miss Elizabeth Black, 60, governess, who lived in the same apartment building.

PREDICTS AXIS WILL GET BILL OF 200 BILLIONS

MOSCOW, Oct. 24 (AP).—Claims of the allies against Germany and her satellites will total from 800 billion to 1,000 billion golden rubles, the writer Evganai Varga said today in the magazine War and the Working Class.

[The ruble, which is not quoted in foreign exchange, has a nominal value of 19 cents.]

The writer said most of the indemnity would be claimed by the soviet union, which would not want payment "in money, but in kind."

"It would be expedient to attract workers from Germany to restore the devastated provinces in the post-war period," he added. "The Germans will have to restore destroyed bridges, railways and plants."

LOADED TRUCK STOLEN.

A truck of the Acme Transfer and Storage company, 3023 Shields avenue, loaded with $10,000 worth of canned goods, tapestry, and hardware, was stolen from in front of 2408 Wentworth avenue yesterday, the driver, Phillip Sosta, 2147 North Talman avenue, told police.

REDS SMASH ON 6 MILES IN PUSH TOWARD CRIMEA

Close In on Krivoi Rog, Key Rail Town.

LONDON, Oct. 24 (AP).—The Red army smashed half way across the Dnieper river loop to within six miles of the strategic mining and rail center of Krivoi Rog today. It also plunged six miles beyond Melitopol in a surge toward the Black sea and the Crimea, Moscow announced tonight.

A German controled Paris radio broadcast said some soviet units already were fighting inside Krivoi Rog in their push southward to link up with the other army which toppled Melitopol.

The German high command war bulletin acknowledged Russian gains in the Dnieper loop and a Berlin broadcast said Nazi troops in front of Krivoi Rog had been "withdrawn to the rear as a result of enemy pressure."

A Moscow war bulletin announced the capture of 50 villages, including one only six miles north of Krivoi Rog, and one German broadcast described the Dnieper river loop army as a "steamroller."

Seize Strong Points.

Fanning out from Melitopol, the Russians said their southern army smashed three German strongpoints and a railroad station six miles southwest of Melitopol on the road to the Crimea, as the Germans vainly tried to stem a twin onrush imperiling hundreds of thousands of axis troops.

The soviet bulletin also announced the capture of seven enemy strongpoints south of Rechitsa in the flanking move on Gomel, in White Russia. German counter-attacks failed to halt the Russians in that sector, it said.

The Paris radio commentator, Jean Paquis, quoted Germans as saying that some Russians already had broken into Krivoi Rog, and that "the well-synchronized soviet attacks in southern Russia have tipped the scale at Melitopol and Gen. von Mannstein will have to face consequences of some gravity."

Knock Out 168 Tanks.

"The dangerous position of the German armies in southern Russia," he said of the Russian sweep beyond Melitopol, "can only be retrieved if some artificial defense line exists somewhere in the Nogaisk steppes."

The Russians said their forces knocked out 168 German tanks and shot down 46 planes during Saturday's fighting.

The Russians now have completed 15 weeks of steady fighting since their big counter-offensive began last July 12, and the last week has been described in reports filtering out of Germany as Adolf Hitler's blackest of the war.

A broadcast by the mysterious underground radio station Atlantique also announced the evacuation by German troops of Dnepropetrovsk, metallurgical city in the upper corner of the Dnieper loop. The city already has been flanked by soviet forces on the west. Other soviet units reached its east bank suburbs weeks ago.

The Berlin bulletin announced belatedly that German troops on Friday night had withdrawn "to new positions in the western outskirts" of Melitopol. Moscow announced the city's complete capture Saturday after an 11 day street fight which opened the way to the Crimea, 70 miles to the south.

Winter Army Not in Fight.

MADRID, Spain, Oct. 24 (AP).—Reporting from Berlin, the correspondent of a Madrid newspaper wrote today that "it is evident that the soviet winter army has not yet entered battle and there are people here who estimate the strength of this force at 2,000,000 men."

New Russian Gains Are Told

POLISH GIRLS GO INTO BATTLE ON RUSSIAN FRONT

New York, Oct. 24 (AP).—The soviet sponsored Union of Polish Patriots said in a Moscow broadcast that the Polish Kosciusko division had gone into action against the Germans on the Russian front Oct. 12, and that "even slips of girls went into battle with hearts of heroes."

The division, named for Tadeus Kosciusko, Polish patriot, was created with the consent of Marshal Stalin, it was reported last June.

The Polish broadcast quoted an order of the day issued by Gen. Zygmunt Berling, commander of the division, which said, "The time has come for bloody revenge for the tears, for blackened ruins, cemeteries, and torture chambers."

U. S. MILITARY MISSION SEEKS MOSCOW UNITY

MOSCOW, Oct. 24 (AP).—A new United States military mission, headed by Maj. Gen. John R. Deane, was installed today, with the assignment of unifying and improving American coöperation with the soviet military services. The mission is designed to end a lack of coöperation between lend-lease and other American agencies in Moscow, about which Adm. William H. Standley, former United States ambassador to Russia, previously had complained.

Brig. Gen. Philip R. Faymonville, former head of the supply mission for lend-lease, left Moscow yesterday. Brig. Gen. Joseph A. Michela, former military attache, already has returned to the United States. Rear Adm. Jack Duncan, naval attache, has remained temporarily to complete the work.

Deane formerly was secretary of the combined chiefs of staff in Washington. Other members of the mission are Brig. Gen. Sidney T. Spaulding, lend-lease; Brig. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, for air, and Commodore Clarence E. Olsen for navy. The mission was assigned to work as a unit under Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

CLOTHING STOLEN FROM CAR.

Leroy Goldstone, 4107 Kinzie street, whose auto was parked at 21st street and Wabash avenue, reported yesterday to police that a thief had broken open the car and stolen clothing valued at $130.

ON WHAT IT COSTS TO MAKE A

Personal Loan

BANK CREDIT

saves you half or more!

Don't let figures fool you.

A $100 loan plan that requires you to repay $10.07 a month for 12 months, means that you pay back a total of $120.84. Having borrowed only $100, the difference—$20.84—is the cost of your loan.

Save two payments

The same loan would cost you only $5.50 at Merchandise Bank. That is our charge on a one co-maker basis.

If you prefer to borrow on your signature alone, the cost would be only $8. Thus you can save at least $12.84—or as much as $15.34—depending on which plan you borrow.

Arranged by phone

This example is typical of savings between most loan plans and Merchandise Bank's extremely low charges.

If you are in need of a loan, or if you want to reduce present borrowing costs or monthly payments, it is to your advantage to use bank credit.

There's no need to take time off your job to apply for a loan at Merchandise Bank. Phone Whitehall 4500, or write, and everything can be speedily and confidentially arranged.

SEE HOW MUCH YOU CAN SAVE

		Total Costs

WAR PRISONERS LIVE IN HORROR AT JAP CAMPS

Men Beaten and Slain by Sadistic Keepers.

BY WALTER SIMMONS.

[This is the fifth of a series of articles revealing the barbaric methods used by the Japanese military machine in its treatment of American civilians and fighting men.]

Speaking at Maywood, Ill., last month, on a program honoring men from the 192d tank battalion who died or were taken prisoner when Bataan fell, Gov. Dwight H. Green spoke of a "horrible suspicion" that the Japanese are mistreating American prisoners of war.

When the United States sits at the peace table, he said, "the testimony of the captive heroes of Bataan is all we will need to condemn the cruel tyrants of Japan to the severest punishment."

The "suspicion" to which Gov. Green referred is nation-wide. In recent months it has grown with the steady trickle of names from Tokio—names of American prisoners who have "died of disease" in detention camps. Last Aug. 5 the list included the names of 13 Wisconsin men alone.

Truth Leaks Out.

Little has come out of Japan about the treatment of prisoners. Twice, however, American monitor stations have intercepted revealing Japanese broadcasts which were not beamed for foreign listeners.

In May, 1942, Rear Adm. Mitsuo Matsunaga had this to say of survivors fom the cruiser Houston:

"What kind of work are American prisoners from the Houston doing in the southern countries? They are engaged in the work of filling the holes of the air fields. They are engaged in comparatively easy jobs. There are many who are suffering from hunger because they are not used to Japanese type of food and there are some who get very lazy because of the extreme heat.

Beaten by Jap Guards.

"Those who do not do their part are beaten by the Japanese guards, who are placed on watch on a ratio of about one guard for 100 prisoners. Those who are hard to handle are severely beaten with rope which is similar to rope used by sailors. Because of the pain the lazy Americans continue the work with expressions of suffering on their faces."

United States marines and construction workers from Wake Island were given printed instructions, threatening the death penalty for these actions:

"Disobeying orders and instructions," "showing a motion of antagonism and raising sign of opposition," "individualism, egoism, thinking only about yourself, rushing for your goods," "talking without permission and raising loud voices."

Prison Conditions Bad.

When the prison ship arrived at Yokohama on Jan. 18, 1942, the Japanese home radio remarked of the Americans:

"They had a very sad expression on their faces. . . . During their voyage they displayed their typical American individualism, but the Japanese trained them to be more coöperative. . . . On the boat the Japanese exerted every effort to thrash out American individualism. Now they are very coöperative with the Japanese. . . ."

Swiss officials, after visiting the big Jap prison camp at Osaka, on Shikoku island, cautiously remarked that things were "not very pleasant" there. Prisoners complained of being "starved of sun."

It was reported that meals consisted mainly of rice, barley, vegetables, and bread, the prisoners only occasionally receiving meat, fish, or fresh fruit. The cigaret ration was given as six a day, and the pay of men who work 3 to 5 cents daily.

Rice Diet Is Deadly.

In his book, "Underground from Hongkong," Benjamin A. Proulx explains why Europeans cannot live on Japanese food. They find rice a deadly diet, soft and gluey, without roughage of any kind. To some it is fatal.

The problem of prisoners in Japan is complicated by the fact that Japan is the only major power which refused to ratify the Geneva code, designed to insure humane treatment of prisoners, assure exchange of information concerning them, prohibit forced labor except under certain conditions, and fix general living standards.

[Axis prisoners in the United States are paid 80 cents a day if they work—10 cents otherwise. Often they are given scarce rationed food which American civilians cannot procure.]

On Jan. 15, 1942, Japan announced, however, that she would abide by the Geneva convention. But even so, Americans would fare ill as regards food, since they would receive the same rations given Jap soldiers in the field. This is usually a bowl of rice, boiled or raw fish, a tasteless boiled vegetable, and a bowl of green tea.

Treated as Slaves.

In the Philippines, Father Ingal, a Filipino army chaplain who escaped, reported that prisoners "treated as slaves and given little food were shot as an example to the rest when they were no longer able to perform their work."

Frances Long, an American civilian interned at Manila, told of natives being beaten when they gave water to bedraggled American troops being marched from Bataan. In her book, "Half a World Away," she told of three British sailors who were beaten into unconsciousness and then shot for trying to escape.

In the new book, "Thru Japanese Barbed Wire," Gwen Priestwood tells what happened to another man who was caught trying to escape. He was beheaded in full view of the internees.

50 Tied Up and Slain.

It was at Hongkong that 50 British officers and men were tied hand and foot and then bayoneted to death. This incident is verified by many sources. In his book, "The Toughest Fighting in the World," George H. Johnston tells how 60 Australian troops who surrendered at Rabaul were bound, marched into the jungle, and bayoneted to death. Three men, left for dead, survived their wounds and carried the story to the world.

Recently Dr. V. H. Spensley, Albuquerque, N. M., president of the Bataan Relief organization, suggested "the mikado of Japan should be made responsible for the welfare of American prisoners." He added:

"Since the Japs worship their emperor as a direct descendant of the sun goddess, I believe more can be accomplished thru him than thru the Japanese people or the military caste."

THE QUESTION.

Is there a legend connected with your Indian name?

WHERE ASKED.

Office of Indian Affairs, Merchandise mart.

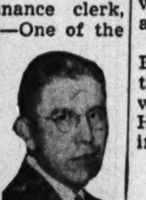
THE ANSWERS.

Harry L. Stevens, personnel technician, 2349 North Springfield avenue—My family name was Nackaye, which means great walker. One of my ancestors probably established a record. We kept the name to be recognized as his descendants. Family reputation or no, I'll be glad when days of gas rationing are over.

Josephine White Eagle, stenographer, 1237 North Dearborn street—The names for members of our clan were chosen from subjects that were related to the atmosphere. My real name means Bright Skies. I was born in December when the weather was bad, and they hoped I would bring fair weather.

Beatrice Ojibway, stenographer, 5233 Kenmore avenue—Our tribe and family name means "recorder of history." We have always kept it because we have been proud to belong to the tribe that did such a fine job of recording Indian history with pictures drawn on birch bark slabs.

Ruth Two Crow, clerk stenographer, 2153 Leland avenue—I've been told several legends about my family name. One was that we, the Sioux, were fighting the Crow Indians, when, under a great disadvantage, one of my ancestors, killed two of the enemy tribe. So they named him Two Crow.



John McClelland, finance clerk, 7758 East Lake terrace—One of the chief members of our family participated in the weather ceremonies of our religion. His name, Winter, was derived from the name of the season. Members of his family were named after subjects related to winter.

Audrey Warrior, stenographer clerk, 800 South Halsted street—Our tribe of Sioux didn't seem to cling to the regular traditions in naming our family. My father was named Little Warrior, but his brothers had completely unrelated names. Now we have all adopted the name Warrior.

R. A. F. BOMBERS RAID TROOPS AND TOWNS IN BURMA

NEW DELHI, India, Oct. 24 (AP).—The royal air force ranged over Burma yesterday, blasting Japanese troop positions in widespread attacks by bombers, fighter-bombers, and fighters, a bulletin said today.

Swooping on a Japanese occupied village in the Chin hills, Vengeances and Mohawks started a fire visible 30 miles away. Further south, Beaufighters set afire a number of army huts along the Taungup pass road.

In Arakan, Vengeances dive-bombed Butheadaung and a village, dropping all their bombs in the target area. The raids were carried out without loss.

A PLEDGE OF FAITH

to those with impaired hearing, their families, friends and employers

It is significant that National Hearing Week this year comes on the 10th Anniversary of SONOTONE'S conception of personalized responsibility in dealing with the hard of hearing public.

During these 10 years of SONOTONE'S acknowledged leadership there has been a great change in America's understanding of the problems involved in the loss of hearing. Revolutionary advances in the design and in the individualized fitting of hearing aids, many of them originating in the SONOTONE research laboratories, have assured improved hearing to many, many more people than ever before.

To that faithful army of men and women who, as SONOTONE consultants, have devoted their every waking hour to the assistance of the hard of hearing, it has long been evident that a hearing aid ALONE is not enough. Improved hearing is not a matter merely of putting on a hearing aid, but of careful, experienced fitting to start with . . . of sympathetic heartfelt understanding of the personal problems involved . . . of wise, considerate guidance during the difficult days of readjustment . . . and of unflagging attention to make sure that hearing is uninterrupted!

SONOTONE has always recognized a vital responsibility that goes far beyond the mere sale of an instrument. Increasing war-time impairment of people's hearing now accentuates that responsibility. And in the name of the hundreds of sincere and devoted men and women in SONOTONE'S 145 offices I accept the increased opportunity for service to our nation and renew our 10-year-old pledge of making every possible effort to insure that each SONOTONE wearer gets the best, clearest and most dependable hearing that present-day science can give.

Sincerely yours,

Dean Babbitt

Norge salutes America's "Ladybirds"

The women of the C.A.P. (Civil Air Patrol) perform a brave, patriotic duty. Flying by day and by night, they observe and report forest fires, submarines, salvage—anything that appears strange or unusual.

We at Norge, completely in war work, pay tribute to these gallant women, as we do to their sister workers in other O.C.D. activities. We honor, too, the women factory workers; the volunteers in the Red Cross, the A.W.V.S. and the armed forces; the women who "also serve" by keeping the homes of the nation intact—doing their own cooking, washing, ironing, garden-growing and preserving—practicing economy and conservation in every way possible.

ALLIES DESTROY 23 MORE PLANES IN WEWAK RAID

3 Day Battle Breaks Up Jap Offensive.

ALLIED HDQ. IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Oct. 25 [Monday]—(AP).—Allied planes destroyed 23 Japanese planes, several barges, and two ships at Wewak, New Guinea, and scored direct hits on a large ship resembling an aircraft carrier near Buka in the Solomons.

A bulletin from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters today said 20 planes caught on the ground at the enemy stronghold at Wewak were destroyed in a raid by medium bombers. The bombers swooped down to less than 200 feet to bomb and machine gun the airdromes at Dagua and But. Twenty-eight enemy craft rose to intercept. Three were shot down and three others listed as probables. Four allied fighters failed to return.

Two cargo ships, each estimated at 1,000 tons, were sunk in the harbor off Wewak. Another one was damaged, and 16 barges were sunk or damaged.

Cargo Ship Destroyed.

Over New Britain long range fighters destroyed a 200 ton cargo ship southwest of Rabaul, while medium bombers hit the supply dump areas at Gasmata and Cape Hoskins.

The attack on the large ship off Buka was made by a Liberator. Three direct hits were scored. The bombs fell amidships, causing large explosions and fire. The ship was sailing in a small convoy.

Allied fighters attacking Kahili airdrome on Bougainville Island were intercepted by 20 enemy planes, three of which were shot down. One allied plane was missing.

Marked improvement in the ground situation at Finschhafen was noted.

Japs Forced Back.

"The enemy's efforts to break thru to the coast north of Finschhafen, apparently for the purpose of escape evacuation or of sea supply, have terminated," the bulletin said. "He has now fallen back, based on the hills, where his supply routes to the north are difficult and precarious. His forces are weak in numbers and of little significance."

Six enemy planes made a weak raid on Finschhafen at dawn.

Mitchell bombers, at low altitude, bombed and strafed villages, supply concentrations, and bridges along the road from Bogadjim to Daumoina, causing heavy damage. Bogadjim is on the coast 20 miles south of Madang.

24 Barges Dispersed.

Off Choiseul, north central Solomons, a night reconnaissance plane strafed 24 enemy barges for 3½ hours, "effectively dispersing them." Another night reconnaissance plane attacked an enemy corvette, leaving it settling by the stern.

In the northwestern sector, medium bombers made a night attack on the airdrome on Amboina Island in the Banda sea. Many fires were started in the dispersal areas.

HELD ON SEVEN CON GAME CHARGES.

Robert Dempster Mason, 45 years old, 2100 Lincoln Park West, arrested Friday in an attempt to pass a worthless check for $120 at the Drake hotel, was booked yesterday on seven confidence game charges after the police showup.

DEADLY 155 MM. HOWITZER NOW MADE ON COAST

Benicia, Cal., Oct. 24 [Special].—The 155 mm. howitzer, which knocked out Nazi batteries in North Africa and is rated as one of the most effective artillery weapons in the allied advance in Italy, now is in quantity production on the west coast, army ordnance officers revealed today.

This wicked looking gun, with a barrel more than 12 feet long and firing 95 pound high explosive shells over hills or in flat trajectory operations was, until last spring, the product exclusively of the Watervliet, N. Y., arsenal. But now, for the first time, it is being turned out west of the Rockies.

Newsmen See Howitzer.

After keeping it secret since the start of production in March, the war department gave Col. K. B. Harmon, chief of the San Francisco ordnance district, permission to show newspaper men all phases in the building of a howitzer, from the arrival on gondola cars of rusty alloy steel tubes until each highly polished gun, equipped with breech block and firing mechanism, is carefully packed in its own box for shipment to the proving ground.

Capt. Clyde H. Breen of the ordnance department, who has charge of the Benicia operation, described the 155 mm. howitzer as "the pride of the artillery" and put its range at 16,000 yards, or about nine miles. Published reports from the Mediterranean theater, however, have told of its effectiveness in silencing enemy batteries at greater distances.

The howitzer is "rifled" but has a shorter barrel than either the 155 mm. rifle or the six inch rifle. Its trajectory is higher than that of the rifle and its work in rugged terrain is described as deadly.

Tests Gun in Plant.

When the howitzer barrel and breech mechanism, weighing close to two tons, are assembled preparatory to crating, T. L. Daly, army ordnance resident inspector, tests the big gun's firing ability right in the plant. In the presence of reporters he attached a primer, placed a board about a foot in front of the open breech and pulled a rope. There was a loud explosion and flame leaped thru the breech mechanism to blacken the board.

In operation in the field the gun breech would have been closed, the flame would have ignited the powder to send the shell screaming toward the enemy and the eight man crew, which can fire three shells a minute, would have seen the gun itself recoil perhaps five feet.

"Young Man . . . I know all about rationing, but I never thought this store would have to bother with it"

The loyal Marshall Field & Company customer pictured here is like so many of you 30,000,000 a year who shop at our store—you have a wonderful faith in what we can do for you. That's why, in spite of wartime problems, we try so hard never to let you down. Like the time a man ordered all the furniture in one of our model houses if we could set it all up in his Milwaukee home by 5:30 the next day. (We did it.) Like the time we outfitted 400 WAVES from underwear to raincoats in a week. Like our Personal Service Desk solving as many as 3000 problems in a day. To most Chicagoans, Marshall Field & Company is more than a store—it's a social center, a favorite luncheon spot, a must for out-of-town guests, and the place to come for the finest merchandise available in peace or in war. We accept rationing, curtailed deliveries, manpower shortages as the patriotic necessities they are. Then we work all the more diligently to live up to your faith in Marshall Field & Company.

People have a warm, friendly regard for our store.

You probably agree when they say,

CHICAGO MARINE MAJOR TELLS OF HELENA SINKING

Swims 65 Hours in Sea Before Rescue.

BY SGT. PETE ZURLINDEN.
Marine corps combat correspondent. Distributed by the Associated Press.

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC [Delayed].—Twenty-five year old Maj. Bernard T. Kelly, U. S. M. C., of 5919 South Campbell avenue, Chicago, veteran of Pearl Harbor and 13 subsequent naval engagements worked with precise haste in an observer's turret on the light cruiser Helena, calling the opening shots in the first battle of Kula gulf, July 5 and 6.

Maj. Bernard T. Kelly.

Maj. Kelly is the son of a retired Chicago police sergeant. He is a graduate of Northwestern university and winner of a Chicago Tribune R. O. T. C. medal there in 1940.

He grinned expectantly as the fight unfolded before him. The 9,700 ton Helena, notwithstanding the darkness, was a slugging lady of the deep, who loved a good scrap and was in this one up to her blazing turrets.

Picking out targets for the Helena's batteries, he beamed when first one Japanese warship, then another, and still another, were written off the books.

Explosion Sinks Ship.

This was terrific shooting—the kind of shooting that had infused the Helena crew with a fervent pride in their ship. The Helena, claimed the crew, had fired more combat rounds than any other man o' war in the South Pacific fleet. She had proved her power in 12 previous battles and during her brief life had destroyed, helped destroy or damage 15 Japanese warships.

Maj. Kelly relayed the position of a fourth target and turned to select a fifth. But he never made the choice.

A smashing jar, followed by a ringing explosion, shook the cruiser. The impact was followed quickly by subsequent jolts and additional explosions. Then came the order: "Abandon ship!"

Thus began for the young marine officer and 103 others one of the most harrowing experiences of the war. It was a battle for survival against tremendous odds; of men swimming 65 hours in a shark-infested sea; an eight day bivouac deep in Japanese territory with only 129 rounds of ammunition, and a daring rescue.

Swimmers Are Injured.

Maj. Kelly and five enlisted marines pieced together a complete picture of the experience when they were reunited here.

Maj. Kelly commanded the Helena's marine corps detachment of 41 men.

The marines abandoned ship under their own power. They spent the remainder of the night floating about in the Kula gulf.

Many of the swimmers were blinded by the Helena's oil slick. Others suffered fractures, shock and numerous torpedoing effects and churned about helplessly until they were organized around the few small life rafts available.

One of the shock victims was Chaplain J. K. Wheaton. "He was put in a Franklin buoy," Maj. Kelly said. "We all took turns during the night holding him up."

At dawn it appeared the survivors were due for a speedy rescue. An American destroyer bore down on them at full speed. When the men in the water identified it, the air was filled with shouting and yelling. But the destroyer, altho picking up hundreds of survivors, had to make a sudden departure. A Jap cruiser and two destroyers were coming up.

"She commenced firing at them," Maj. Kelly said, "and laid down a smoke screen—and then got the hell out of there.

"A bit later our hopes for rescue dwindled. A flight of 26 Jap bombers passed high overhead, toward Rendova. That reminded us that the enemy might find us first—and in fact he did."

Three planes, flying close to the surface, were heard coming down the gulf. The swimmers turned to face them.

Jap Grins at Them.

"They were Zeros," Maj. Kelly said. "Flying only 20 feet above the water, 'This is the end,' I thought. One Zero pilot pulled back his cockpit cover and looked down at us.

"He grinned and waved a hand, then, when he had completed his pass over us, he fired a few bursts from his guns—at absolutely nothing. The two other planes followed suit. They made two more passes over us, fired their guns twice more and departed."

Later in the day allied planes dropped three life rafts. The Helena survivors recovered two.

"They were just large enough for five men," Maj. Kelly said. "But we got about 25 people in each one. The others clung to the sides."

The second night Maj. Kelly went to sleep in his life belt. When he awoke he was dangling almost upright, and felt something bumping his feet.

Take Turns in Rafts.

"I looked down and the hair stood up on my neck," he said. "It was a shark about 4 feet long. I was petrified. Then I saw its twin about 10 feet away. I kept still. Presently the sharks went away."

All hands took turns in and out of the life rafts. Those outside pushed, by kicking and swimming behind it; those aboard paddled with their hands. They made land the next day.

"We just flopped in the sand and went to sleep," Kelly said. "Japs held the island, we knew, but after 65 hours in the Kula gulf we needed sleep."

Comdr. John L. Chew, of Annapolis, Md., senior naval officer on the beach, drafted natives as guides, and the survivors began a tortuous inland trek. The survivors set up a military organization in a native village. Several times Japs were sighted, but they never came close enough to discover the Americans.

"We reached the site where we expected to be picked up," said Kelly. "Soon we heard the motors of our rescue boats coming for us. We shook hands when we were safely out in the gulf. And here we are—20 pounds lighter perhaps—but still alive and happy."

U. S. BUILDS BIG NEW AIRBASE ON VELLA LAVELLA

UNITED STATES HDQ. IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, Oct. 24 (AP).—The United States has another strategically important air field in the Central Solomons which will play a leading part in northern thrusts against the Japanese, with the completion of a fighter strip on the southeast coast of Vella Lavella Island at Barakoma.

Altho today is the first time news of the field has been released, work began almost simultaneously with the landing of American forces on Vella Lavella Aug. 15.

The field has been termed by Maj. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, commander of United States air forces in the Solomons, as one of the best of our growing striking bases in the Solomons.

Seabees with bulldozers extended the strip about 400 feet into the sea and filled and graded the remaining length. This work was accomplished despite continual strafing raids by Japanese, who made more than 150 attacks on the strip within two months.

Vella field has played a leading part in the heavy air strokes against Bougainville Island. It is only 80 miles from Kahili and can possibly be used for fighter escorts, at least by P38s, for bombers raiding Rabaul 380 miles away.

Industry is helping win the war... industry must help build a peacetime world

The will of our soldiers assures an unconditional surrender... The will of our people can assure a just and durable peace

Today the United Nations are joined in their determination to win a decisive victory. On every battle front and on every farm and in every production centre a singleness of purpose is speeding "unconditional surrender."

Tomorrow millions of soldiers and workers can have steady employment if they also unite with determination to bring about "a just and durable peace."

Prosperity can be realized only through the will of an informed and a united people. With their courage and their determination, the people's will to accomplish a righteous peace is irresistible.

People here, in common with people of other lands, can prosper materially and spiritually after the war ends—but only if now the peoples of the United Nations make loud their demands for "a just and durable peace."

BENSON IN RACE FOR SECRETARY OF STATE POST

Believed to Be Choice of Republican Leaders.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 24—Arnold P. Benson of Batavia, president pro-tem of the Illinois senate, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for secretary of state. He is reported to be the choice of the majority of Republican leaders.

Arnold P. Benson.

State Treasurer William G. Stratton, who announced his candidacy for secretary of state several months ago, said Sen. Benson's action in no way changed his own plans, altho a few days back he was still hopeful that G. O. P. leaders might switch back to him.

Many of Stratton's supporters had shared his expectations. Hence political observers think that Benson's formal entry is designed to quell this belief before it spreads any further.

Indorsement of Green.

The Benson candidacy for the second most powerful state office with about 2,200 employes is reported to have the indorsement of Gov. Dwight H. Green, Lt. Gov. Hugh W. Cross, Atty. Gen. George F. Barrett, and Auditor Arthur C. Lueder, all of whom are expected to run for reëlection. Sen. Wayland Brooks made a fight for Stratton in the recent discussions.

"I am a candidate for secretary of state," Sen. Benson said in his announcement. "I believe I have the training and the necessary qualifications to administer the important duties of the office. As Republican nominee I will give my entire time and all of my energies in next year's election to bring about victory in Illinois for the Republican candidates.

"And as the secretary of state it will be my highest ambition to administer the office with the same efficiency and economy that has characterized the present Republican administration under the splendid leadership of Gov. Green."

Helped Draft Laws.

Floor leader of Republican senators since 1939, Benson said that in his 10 years as a legislator he has had the opportunity to become thoroly familiar with the operation of state government.

He took part in the enactment of many laws dealing with the office of secretary of state, including the new corporation law, amendments to the "blue sky" laws for the protection of investors, and appropriation bills for that office.

Benson was born in Batavia, Kane county, March 5, 1896, one of three sons of Swedish immigrants who lived there from the 1880s until their death in the 1920s. His father was a cabinet maker and proprietor of a furniture store.

Active in Legion.

Benson served in the army in World War I. and has been American Legion commander of his post, county council, and congressional district. He attended Batavia High school where he captained the foot-ball team, and studied at Lewis institute.

After working as assistant cashier in a bank and as a cost keeper for the Pullman company, in 1927 he became editor and publisher of the Batavia Herald, a weekly. He is married and has a son 6 years old.

Benson and Stratton were at the speakers' table at the convention today of the Illinois Republican Servicemen's league, seated on either side of Mrs. Helen Griffin, G. O. P. state chairwoman. Both made brief talks.

Stratton said that the league would help pave the way for election of a Republican President next year and that "I am going to do everything in my power to assist in that undertaking."

See Plea to Stratton.

Benson made a friendly gesture when he spoke of the economy record of the Green administration, turning to the state treasurer and asking him for the amount of the surplus—$67,000,000.

"If we stand as united next year as we have in the last three or four years we will have victory in 1944," Sen. Benson concluded.

It is reported that Republican leaders intend to appeal again to Stratton during the next few days to shift his aspirations to Supreme court clerk in the interests of party harmony. Stratton has said he supports Green, Cross, Barrett, Lueder, and Lyons, and has no interest in being the nucleus of a rival ticket.

VETERANS ADOPT 7 POINT PROGRAM OF AMERICANISM

Demand U. S. Retain Sovereignty.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 24 [Special].—A forthright program of Americanism was adopted today by the Illinois Republican Servicemen's league in its 16th annual convention.

The leading policy resolution, showing how the war veterans stand on "globalism," declares the state and nation should:

1. Declare that we stand for the preservation of American sovereignty.

2. Urge the retention of protective trade measures.

3. Maintain our present immigration safeguards.

4. Set an example for the world to pattern after by successfully functioning as a republican form of government.

5. Coöperate in the rehabilitation of the war torn world without surrendering our right to independent action.

6. Adopt and adhere to a foreign policy of speaking softly and carrying a big stick.

7. Put our faith in God.

As to immigration, another resolution asked that congress limit or even stop it until men and women in the army and navy have returned and regained employment.

Opposes Any WPA System.

Unalterable opposition to any WPA system for returning fighters of World War II. was declared, while the veterans also demanded that the federal government change its policies to permit the blossoming of free enterprise to provide "self-respecting employment."

The veterans insisted that "extravagant nonmilitary federal spending be cut so that taxpayers will be required to pay only such amounts as are reasonably necessary."

Citizens in the army and navy should be permitted to vote if they make an affidavit before a qualified officer that they are entitled to do so, the league stated.

Men and women who fight the war should have a direct voice in the terms of peace by representation at the peace conference, was one declaration of the convention. Another resolution expressed hope that soon the government will "provide more liberal disposition of men and material to Gen. MacArthur and other commanders in the Pacific for the more vigorous prosecution of the war against Japan."

Opposed by Convention.

Approved by the convention was the plan to sponsor clubs of service men's families thruout the state to counteract the propaganda network of the office of civilian defense.

On the political side the league approved the records of all Republicans now holding state office, including members of the legislature. It also reported Gov. Dwight H. Green's state administration has carried out its promise of efficiency and economy to the end that the state now has a record breaking surplus of 67 million dollars to aid in post-war readjustment.

Mentioned by name in the commendation were Gov. Green, Sen. Wayland Brooks, Lt. Gov. Hugh W. Cross, Auditor Arthur C. Lueder, Atty. Gen. George F. Barrett, State Treasurer William G. Stratton, Vernon Nickell, superintendent of public instruction, and Congressman at Large Stephen A. Day.

Speakers today included Lt. Gov. Cross, Elmer J. Schnackenberg, speaker of the Illinois house, and Richard J. Lyons, who is reported to be the choice of Republican leaders as candidate for United States senator.

With Berlin behind him, what's before him?

Memo to all department heads from the executive office:

It's a picture of Jim in Italy.

Jim says that's Vesuvius behind him. Pretty soon he'll have Rome behind him and Genoa behind him and then—before too long, I hope—he'll have Berlin and Tokyo behind him.

The question then will be—what will he have before him?

We want him back. We're turning out the equipment he needs now to get back. But when he marches up Main Street in that Victory Parade—what then?

That's a responsibility facing all men in management positions today. And if you've been thinking about it as I have, you've undoubtedly come up against many questions that need answering—questions entirely apart from the usual ones about production, competition and so on.

For example, how quickly will we be paid when our war contracts are cancelled? For we'll certainly need money for reconversion. Will there be plenty of investors willing to risk their money in industrial enterprises, knowing how difficult it will be to make profits? Or will they prefer the security of government bonds?

What will the government's attitude be on patented products? Will we be compelled to license other manufacturers or can we enjoy the rights to our patents as we did before the war?

Can we count on able and tolerant leadership in the handling of relations between labor and management—or are we in for a period of agitation and unrest?

I call these questions to your attention as just a very small number of the questions you and I must find answers for, if we—in coöperation with other businesses and industries, and with agriculture, commerce and the professions—hope to achieve the post-war objective of jobs for Jim and his buddies and everybody else who will want and need them.

Given a political and economic environment favorable to free enterprise, I am certain we can make proper use of the victory that must eventually come.

And I am certain that the people of this country want not only the same opportunity for progress that existed before the war, but as much more of it as it's possible to achieve. To keep this opportunity alive is a job for all of us.

INDEX TO TREND IN '44 SOUGHT IN VOTE NEXT WEEK

N. Y. Election Will Affect Republican Picture.

the Roosevelt administration has been arrested and that the President may confidently expect to receive the electoral vote of New York, generally a guarantee of election for a Democratic candidate for the Presidency.

A Democratic victory also would put a pretty definite quietus upon any thought of drafting Dewey for Republican nominee for President. Dewey Presidential stock would slump as a result of a popular verdict unfavorable to him and of evidence that he could not carry his own state against Mr. Roosevelt. In addition, the party and particularly the New York Republican organization, would be loath to nominate Dewey and thereby, in the event of his election, turn the state over to the Democrats under his successor, Democratic Lt. Gov. Haskell, in 1945.

Good G. O. P. Chance in N. J.

With the New Jersey Democrats split into warring factions headed by Gov. Charles Edison and Boss Frank Hague the chances are that the Republicans will elect their candidate for governor, Walter E. Edge, who was successively governor, senator, and ambassador to France.

In Philadelphia a Roosevelt lieutenant, former Ambassador William C. Bullitt, appears to be leading a somewhat forlorn Democratic hope for election to the mayoralty.

Kentucky, a border state that oscillates between the major parties, is a battle ground in the governorship contest, with the Democrats waging a desperate defensive to retain control.

In a letter he will send to party workers and voters tomorrow, Spangler says that the "New Deal has been feverishly propagandizing thru its many powerful instruments the thought that the Republican party cannot expect to win in 1944 if the war is still on; that we really have no hopes of defeating Roosevelt." He termed it the "party line" of the "palace guard," consisting of Harry Hopkins, David K. Niles [born Neyhus], and Supreme Court Justice Frankfurter.

"Resurgent" Party.

The fact is, said Spangler, that the Republican is the "resurgent, dominant, victorious party. . . . A unified party looking to the future, as contrasted with the clashing, squabbling, disunited New Deal-Democratic party." Republican dominance, he said, is attested by comparing 1934 when there were only eight Republican governors with today when there are 24 representing 61 per cent of the population and 312 electoral votes out of the total of 531.

In the 38 states outside of the solid south in which the Presidential election will be won next year there are, Spangler pointed out, 206 Republican representatives in congress compared with 126 Democrats, 38 Republican senators compared with 36 Democrats and 1 progressive, and 27 Republican state legislatures compared with 9 Democratic and 2 of divided control. In 1942, the Republicans carried 79 per cent of all the counties in the 38 states.

As establishing the continuance of the Republican trend since the 1942 election Spangler cited the following off-year elections:

"In Missouri, Republican Marion Bennett was elected congressman by 62.9 per cent of the votes, as compared to 54.5 per cent in November for his father, deceased.

G. O. P. Polled Most Votes.

"In California, with two Republicans running against one Democrat, the Democrat won, but the Republicans polled 60.3 per cent of the votes.

"In Kansas, on Sept. 4, 1943, Republican Errett P. Scrivner won by 69.8 per cent of the votes, as compared with 59.2 per cent in November for Rep. U. S. Guyer, deceased.

"In Michigan the voters completed the job in April, 1943, by sweeping out all Democratic state office holders.

"In West Virginia, municipal elections showed a stronger trend toward the Republican party following the election of Republican Sen. Chapman Revercomb last November over New Deal Gov. Matthew M. Neely.

"And as late as Oct. 4 in Connecticut's state-wide municipal elections, Republicans won 127 out of the 143 towns and cities holding elections.

IDENTIFIES TYPE OF PLANE THAT FELLED AIR LINER

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 24 (AP).—The newspaper Aftonbladet said tonight it had learned unofficially from a German source that a German JU-88 plane shot down the Swedish civilian airliner Gripen, in which 13 persons, including the Rev. T. C. Hume, a former Chicago clergyman, perished Friday off the west coast of Sweden. Aftonbladet said the Swedish government was planning a protest to Berlin.

Passengers included the clergyman, two wives of Russian diplomats and their four children, a Swedish woman, two Swedish merchant marine officers, and a British insurance agent.

The Swedish airline has operated an irregular service, flying always at night, in an effort to avoid fighter patrols. This was the second transport plane lost under similar circumstances in 15 months of service.

MOTHER OF TWO IN NAVY GIVEN TRIBUNE AWARD

Mrs. Vesta Stoudt of Sterling, mother of two sons in the navy, was presented with the Chicago Tribune war workers award yesterday at the Green River Ordnance plant near Dixon, where she is employed.

The award, presented by Maj. Charles G. Tolson of the ordnance department, was for her suggestion that the fragile paper tabs used to open boxes of rifle grenade firing cartridges be replaced with durable cloth tabs. Several thousand fellow workers saw Mrs. Stoudt receive the diamond studded gold Victory pin.

Maj. Tolson praised the work of women in war plants, which he said helped to lighten the job being done on the various war fronts where American men are fighting.

Gov. Dwight Green spoke briefly.

DON'T HAVE A Saboteur IN YOUR BASEMENT!

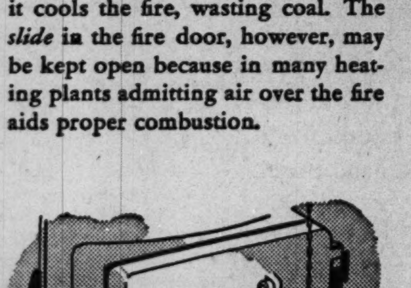
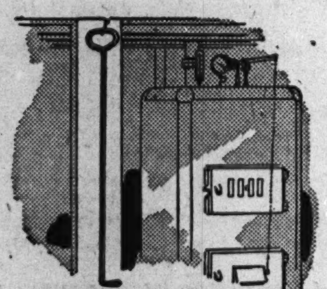
KEEP FIRE DOOR CLOSED
Always keep fire door closed, except when adding coal. When it's open, it cools the fire, wasting coal. The slide in the fire door, however, may be kept open because in many heating plants admitting air over the fire aids proper combustion.



DON'T USE ASH PIT DOOR FOR REGULATING
It is equipped with a draft damper which should be manipulated together with the check damper for regulating the fire. For more heat, open draft damper and close check damper. For less heat, close draft damper and open check damper.

You probably never thought that your heating plant might be a saboteur, but a recent authoritative report estimates that home heating plants wasted 10% of the coal they burned last year—a total of 12,900,000 precious tons! Also wasted were countless man-hours and the service of railroads and trucks. The following suggestions will help you eliminate waste by operating your heating plant efficiently. If you have any questions, 'phone a member of the Chicago Coal Merchants Association.



SPARE THE POKER
A fire that is correctly regulated does not require poking. About the only time you should use the poker is to break down coke formations. Never ram the poker into the grates, because ash mixed with fire causes clinkers that impair efficiency.

"BANKING" FIRE WITH ASHES CAUSES CLINKERS
Placing ashes on top of the fire-bed is not advised, because the ashes form clinkers which cause uneven, inefficient burning that wastes coal. Try to eliminate banking by using the check and stack dampers.

GO EASY ON THE SHAKER
When you shake your fire, do it gently and stop when the red glow appears in the ash pit. Every other day should be enough during mild weather. Don't shake at night unless ashes on grates are so deep that room is needed for fresh coal.

It could only happen in the United States. And it does happen every night. Thousands and thousands of boys in army camps and naval stations talking to the home folks by Long Distance.
The voice with a smile at the switchboard. The thoughtful people who leave Long Distance circuits free for their use in the evening. The pleasure of the home folks when the calls get through. These are some of the things that make this a good country to live in.
Give the boys a break between 7 and 10 o'clock week-day nights. That's about the only time the service men have to call.

USE OF LEAGUE TO KEEP PEACE URGED BY TAFT

Connally Post-War Plan Given Support.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP).—Use of the league of nations as the framework for international coöperation to enforce future peace was suggested today by Sen. Robert A. Taft [R., Ohio] on the eve of senate debate on a proposal to pledge American participation in a world authority with power to prevent aggression.

Taft, a supporter of the Connally peace prescription resolution, said he would propose in debate that the existing machinery of the league and of the world court be utilized to simplify the task of organizing the nations for collaboration after the war.

"While I realize the Connally resolution does nothing more than enunciate the general principles of foreign policy, I think it might be well to discuss now the machinery by which coöperation could be carried out," Taft said.

Must Strip Aggressors.

"I think we have got to go to the point eventually of saying that we are willing to abide by the decision of an international tribunal—on which we cannot have a majority vote—in designating 'X' as an aggressor and joining in stripping him of his tools of aggression," he added.

While he did not commit himself on Taft's suggestions, Chairman Tom Connally [D., Tex.] of the senate foreign relations committee said his resolution would leave the road open to use of the league machinery if the nations decide later such a course would be practical.

The Connally resolution proposes that the United States, "acting thru its constitutional processes, join with free and sovereign nations in the establishment and maintenance of international authority with power to prevent aggression and to preserve the peace of the world."

Could Use Any Agency.

"That certainly leaves the way open to use any existing agency for the preservation of peace, including the world court, the Hague convention, and the league of nations," Connally said. He added that the language would not preclude formation of an entirely new organization, if that is thought wise.

A group headed by Senators Joseph H. Ball [R., Minn.], Harold Burton [R., Ohio], Lister Hill [D., Ala.], and Carl Hatch [D., N. M.] has proposed in an amendment that the allied nations be made the organizing agency being joined by "such free and sovereign nations as may be duly admitted." Their amendment, to be offered tomorrow by Sen. Claude Pepper [D., Fla.], would provide also that the international organization thus formed be clothed with power, "including military force," to suppress aggression.

Ball said that as far as he is concerned he would welcome a move to vitalize the league of nations as the operating agency. He pointed out that under the proposed amendment the allies could take the initiative in such action, with others joining as they became eligible.

War time and post-war problems of cities are scheduled for discussion at the three day 20th annual conference of the American Municipal association, opening Wednesday at the Blackstone hotel.

CHAINS HIS SON, CALLS IN POLICE TO BLOCK CRIME

How a father chained his 17 year old son and called in police to nip in the bud a crime career was revealed yesterday when Edward Shumak, 1815 South Lawndale avenue, the son, appeared at the police showup. With him was a friend, Leroy Blondin, also 17, of 1650 South Lawndale avenue, whom young Shumak had implicated in two gas station burglaries. Both were held for further questioning and prosecution.

Some time ago, the son said, he had bought a Commando knife, a wicked weapon with a spiked hilt, and had hidden it in his home. His mother found the knife and turned it over to the boy's father, Nick. Saturday she found him hunting for the knife and informed the father.

With the memory of the boy's recent brushes with the juvenile authorities fresh in his mind, the father chained him to a bedpost in the kitchen to make sure he didn't leave the house Saturday night. Edward reached over to a table and got a butter knife, with which he was trying to saw apart the light chain that held him. The father then called in the police and went on to his night job in a war plant.

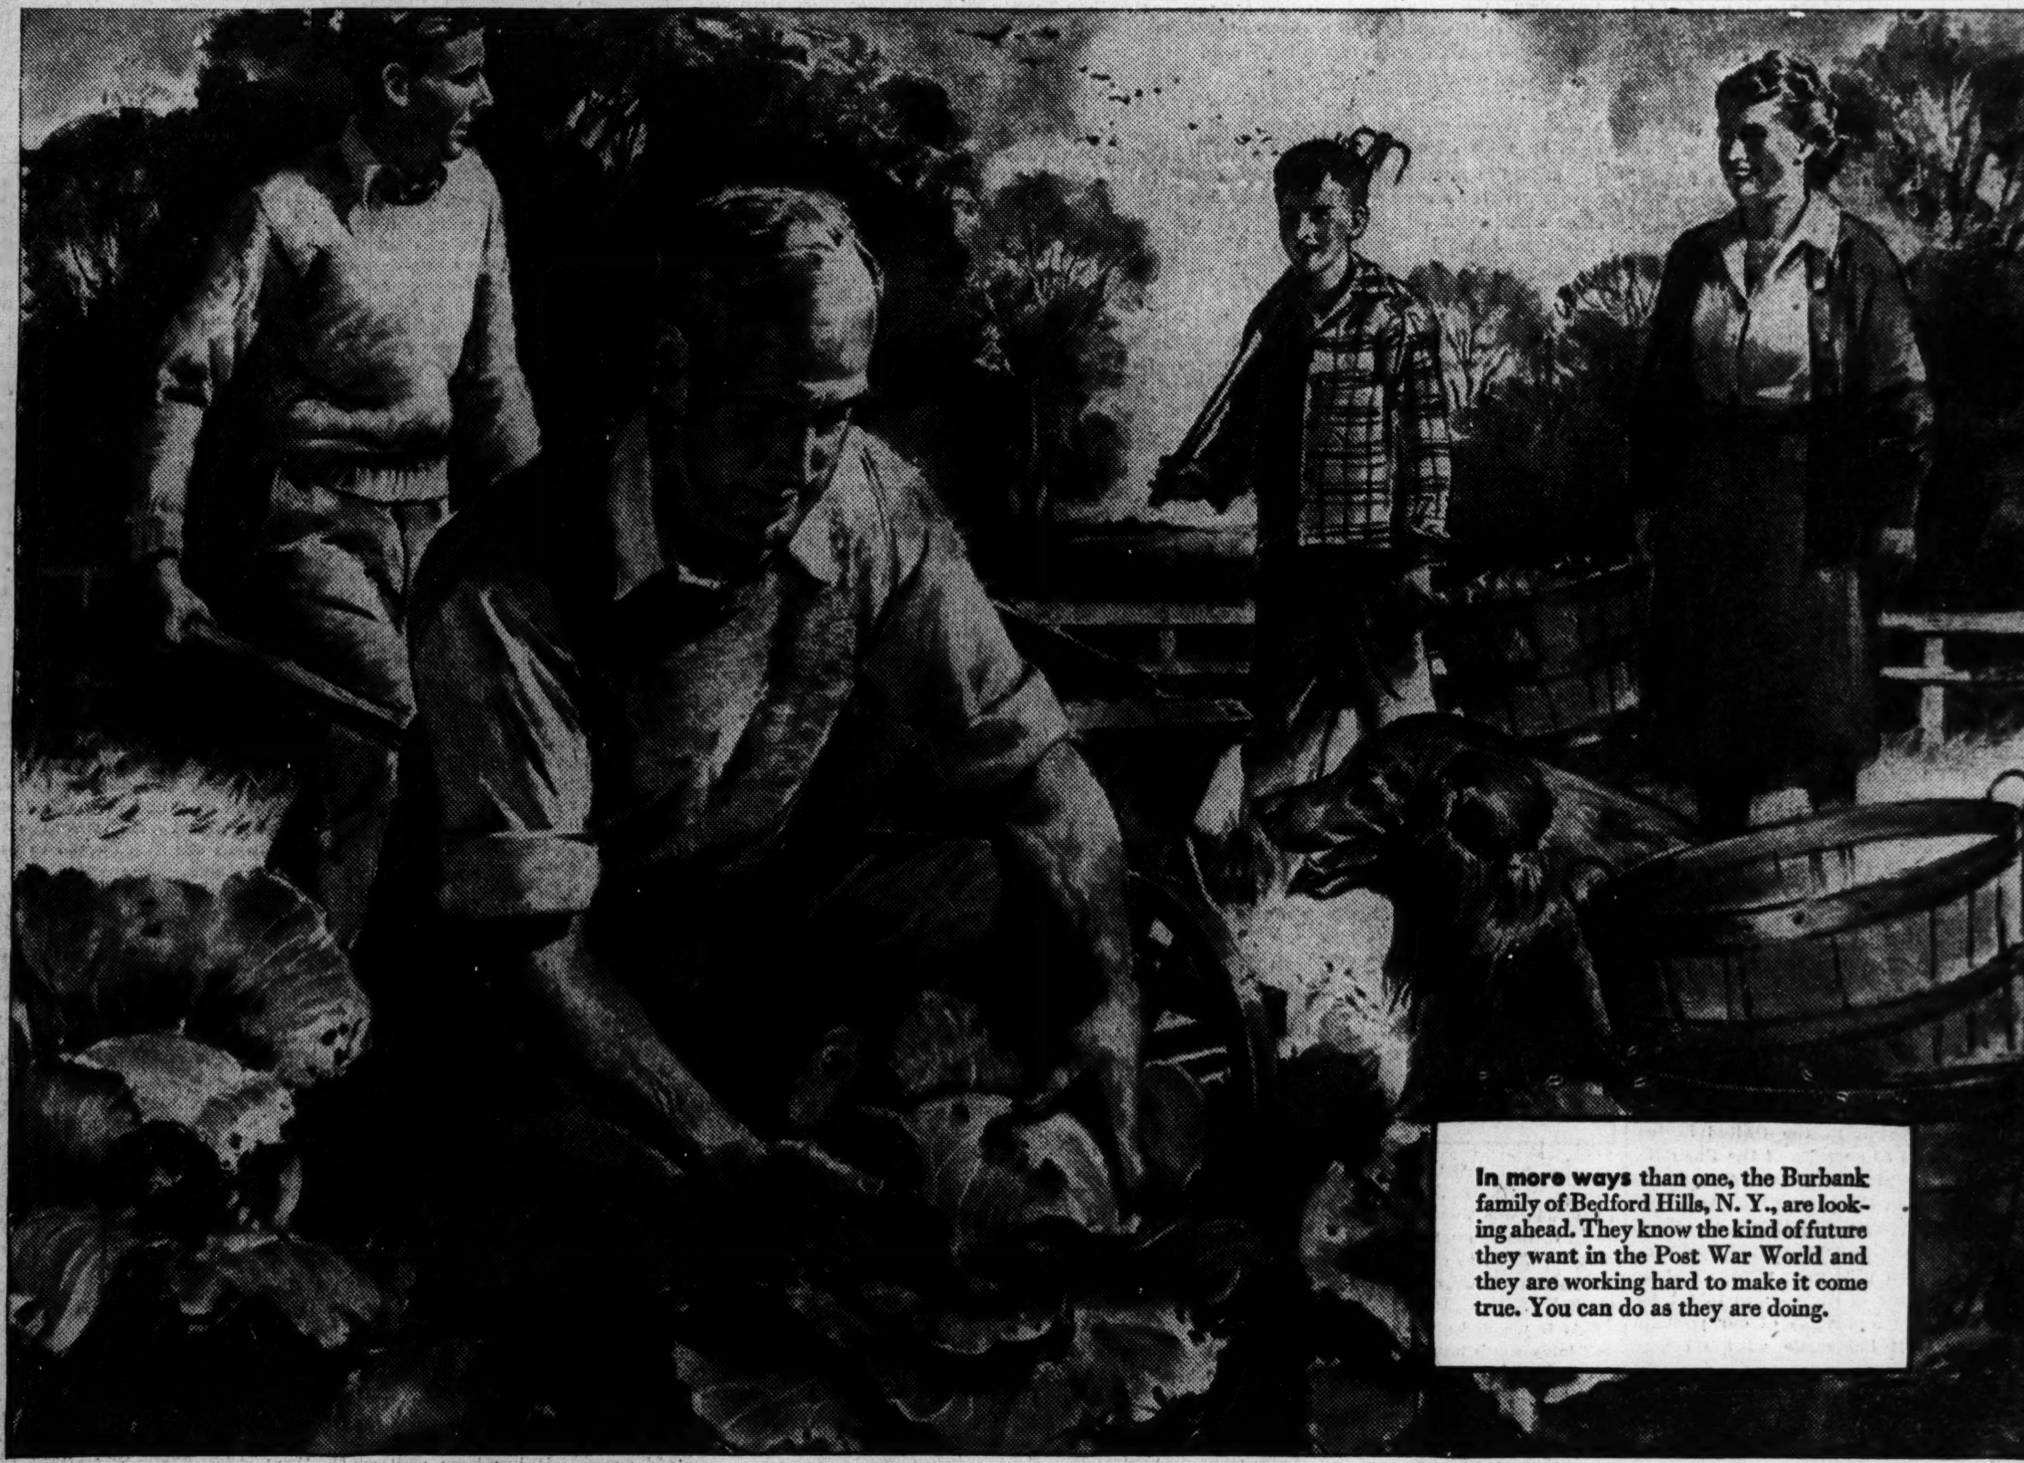
BACK THE ATTACK—WITH WAR BONDS



In more ways than one, the Burbank family of Bedford Hills, N. Y., are looking ahead. They know the kind of future they want in the Post War World and they are working hard to make it come true. You can do as they are doing.

Seven Practical Things the Burbanks Are Doing to Win Their Personal Post War World

They are things you, too, can do

EVERETT BURBANK is busier than ever these war days. He still found time for such a successful Victory garden that he built a root cellar to store some of the surplus.

That kind of "weather eye" on the future is typical of most of us Americans. We have in mind a Post War World in which we are going to enjoy many of the good things of life . . . and we're working now to win them.

All of us, like the Burbanks, can keep a weather eye on the future. We can follow a practical seven-point program which our Government recommends. Here it is:

1. Buy and hold war bonds—to lend our country the money it needs now to fight the war to Victory.
2. Pay willingly your share of taxes—including increased taxes—that our country needs.
3. Provide for your own and your family's future by adequate life insurance and savings.
4. Reduce your debts as much as possible and avoid making needless new ones.
5. Buy only what you need and make what you have last longer.
6. Live faithfully by the rationing rules to conserve goods of which there are shortages.
7. Cooperate with our Government's price and wage stabilization program.

This is a wartime plan of action for Victory and the peace to follow. But it is nothing really new for Americans—who are used to following the road of hard work and thrift to freedom and personal security. That's the spirit our fathers planted deep in our soil before we became a nation.

But these seven things will not only work for the better future we want. Right now they will go into action to hold down prices—to prevent that uncontrolled rise in the cost of living that would hurt all of us and help none of us.

Why not, if you are not already doing so, do these seven practical things? A good way to begin is to work out a budget, using the form shown here. It can be your guide to a better tomorrow.

AMERICA'S LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES bring you this plan of action not only to help you to win the kind of future you want, but to urge you to join wholeheartedly with all loyal Americans to keep down living costs during these critical war days.

By acquiring life insurance, with the guidance of their life insurance agents, 67 million policyholders have already joined together in taking one of the effective steps our Government suggests.

Remember that the premiums you pay for your life insurance are also helping to pay for the war—for a large part of them are invested in Government bonds.

BATTLE FOR AMERICA BEGINS.

Today the senate is expected to turn its attention to the Connally resolution for the maintenance of peace by international coöperation after the war. The debate is likely to be a prolonged one.

The usefulness of such a resolution may be doubted. The senate is being asked to say how far we shall go in the preservation of a peace, the terms of which are still undefined. Perhaps Mr. Roosevelt would like to use the four freedoms and the Atlantic Charter as a guide, but Mr. Stalin has announced his purpose to take the Baltic states and half of Poland despite the wishes of their inhabitants and therefore in violation of the four freedoms; and Mr. Churchill has denied that the Atlantic Charter applies in the Pacific.

Accordingly, no one can say as the debate opens even what principles will be followed by the allies in fixing boundaries or in arriving at any other political or economic adjustment after the war. The senate might occupy itself usefully these days in outlining the principles of a sound peace. Instead, the senators are trying to find a verbal formula which will allow us later on either to accept or decline the role of international policeman, with the eventual decision depending upon who happens to be President, who happens to be sitting in the senate, and what the state of mind of the country may be at the time the treaty is being drawn and is submitted for ratification.

The Connally resolution says that we shall coöperate as a sovereign nation with other sovereign nations in setting up a peace-preserving authority, but that we shall do all this by constitutional processes. The right to declare war and raise armies must therefore remain in congress and cannot be transferred to some super-government. Likewise, the senate may, in good conscience, reject for lack of a two-thirds vote any treaty embodying any commitment to a super-government that may be presented to it for ratification after the war.

In that sense, the Connally resolution commits us to nothing and merely postpones decisions. All that the senate may have accomplished, if the resolution is adopted, is to make it easier for the United States to avoid helping to enforce a sound peace and harder to escape responsibility for maintaining the kind of peace that inevitably will lead to another war in a generation or two.

So much for the Connally resolution. The internationalists in the senate will try to substitute for it something like the Ball-Burton-Hatch-Hill resolution, which goes a good deal farther toward involving this country in future wars and in setting up a super-national authority.

The people who are behind this effort are trying to achieve what Benedict Arnold failed to accomplish. They are conspiring, in effect, to destroy the Republic of the United States. We look upon them as enemies of the Republic, and we are confident that once their plan is recognized for what it is by the American people, the vast majority will tear it to pieces. The Battle for America is beginning. We do not doubt that when it is over victory will lie with those who know in their bones that independence is the most precious of our political blessings because it has made all the others possible.

SLANDER BY RADIO.

A group of the defendants in the administration's smear indictment charging sedition have filed suit for 28 million dollars against Drew Pearson, columnist and radio commentator, charging that he slandered them by calling them Hitler agents in a broadcast. Co-defendants are the Radio Corporation of America, the Blue Network Company Inc., the Evening Star Broadcasting company, the Serutan company, which sponsored Pearson's broadcast, and Henry Souvaine, Inc., the advertising agency which handled the broadcasting account.

These are perhaps the heaviest damages ever sought in a suit for slander, and they call attention to the change that modern technology has made in the application of the old laws of libel and slander. As the laws now stand, in most jurisdictions, calumny by the spoken word [slander] is, in general, held to be a much less serious offense than calumny by the written word [libel]. Before the days of the radio this distinction was reasonable. The spoken word was usually heard by only a few, while the written word went to many and, moreover, remained in existence to perpetuate the injury for years.

The development of radio broadcasting has brought about the discrepancy between legal theory and fact. Probably more injury can be done today over a radio network than by any publication. It may be that juries and the courts, recognizing the change in conditions, will hold that slander by radio is to be punished as seriously as libel. If they do not, the legislatures should amend the law of libel to include slander by radio, and thus subject it to the same severe penalties that obtain in cases of libel.

In the Pearson case the defendants apparently have not yet taken full recourse to the protection afforded them by law. If Pearson's speech served to deprive citizens of a fair trial by prejudicing prospective jurors against them, it is surprising that the federal court in Washington, before which the indictment is pending, has not cited the offenders for contempt.

THE GAMBLING INQUIRY.

The current Cook county grand jury is apparently resolved to make a thoro inquiry into the gambling racket. Some of the evidence ought not to be difficult to get. Anybody who wants to take the trouble to do so can find out in 10 minutes where to place a bet on a horse and where a roulette wheel is spinning. Obviously, these places are running only because the police let them run, and equally obviously, the police let them run only because bribes of one sort or another have been paid, either directly to policemen or to men in a position to give orders to policemen.

It may be harder to trace the corruption funds to those who receive them, but the task ought not be insurmountable. The grand jury already has to its credit the resignation of Cicero's chief of police, Theodore Svoboda, who threw up his job shortly after emerging from the grand jury room. Michael Flynn, the county clerk, is reported to have testified that Mayor Kelly runs the police department as an adjunct of his Democratic political machine, and now the grand jury expects to question the mayor and Police Commissioner Allman.

The people of Chicago hope that the jurors will make a thoro job of it. Some citizens think gambling is wicked, and some don't, but almost everybody recognizes that an organized gambling racket involves the corruption of public officials and promotes murder. That is why the work the grand jury is attempting to do has the widest public support.

THE SONS OF HEAVEN IN THEIR NEW ISLANDS.

The Japanese calculation which led to Pearl Harbor may have been twofold: that American naval power would be so crippled that the United States could not contest the control of the Pacific and that Germany was winning the war and would break both Russia and Great Britain. The Japanese very likely anticipated a Scapa Flow surrender of the British fleet in Hitler's best melodramatic manner. These had to be accurate calculations if Japan's southward movement was to be safe. They were not accurate. They were miscalculations.

The damage done by the sneak attack on the American fleet was great, and temporarily the Japanese were safe. They discovered later at Midway the limits of their operations eastward and now they are discovering their limitations in the south. Germany is not winning the war. The British fleet will not be a German prize. The American fleet is more formidable than it has ever been in its history.

Now we think of sea power as a combination of sea and air power. But the principles which applied to ships with sails apply to the force which is in the air, on the surface, and under the water. Japan's conquest consisted in large part of islands. They could be seized because at the time Japan had control of the air and sea. They will be retaken as soon as air and sea control have passed out of Japan's hands. All history proves that islands fall to the power which controls access to them. Troops holding them against sea and air power cannot be reinforced or supplied. The size of Japan's army will not enable it to retain its island conquests when the lines of communication can be cut.

Each part of the Japanese army thus cut off can be destroyed and the territory captured. To do that it is not necessary to meet the Jap army on the plains of China. Evidences of growing American sea and air power in the South Pacific are encouraging. Congressmen who heard an off the record talk by Gen. Marshall, Secretary Stimson, and others, were told that Japan is building planes faster than we destroy them. Nevertheless, in the combat regions in which Jap planes are encountered they are worsted and they cannot act as an offensive weapon. They are destroyed and the American forces take their bases.

With command of the sea it is always possible to concentrate superior land forces against individual islands. No matter how large the Japanese army is in toto we can pick it off piece by piece. One piece will be picked off in the Philippines.

Japanese ship losses have been heavy, and the prospects are not good for the sons of heaven and their long sea lanes. They made a mistake in their calculations, and even the cult of invincibility can't avoid payment for mistakes.

TAKING UP SLACK.
[Peoria Journal Transcript.]

A farmer who knows his onions and who is a good friend of the Journal-Transcript calls attention to a situation which, he says, prevails thruout the middle west, and which unquestionably is inimical to success of the war.

This is the difficulty of getting repairs for farm machinery which breaks down at the end of a week. For instance, he says that several times some of his farm machinery has been idle from Friday until the following Tuesday or Wednesday because the break happened to occur on Friday. The five-day week in repair shops, the five-day week in factories supplying repair parts, the five-day week in stockrooms plus the transportation congestion, all make it difficult for a farmer to fix a farm implement needing repairs. This, he believes, costs a great many man hours in the harvest field, particularly since all farmers are being requested, if not forced, to use old equipment because of the government curtailment of the manufacture of new farm machinery.

His complaint is significant. It suggests there is not so much a man power shortage as a man hour shortage. It reveals why the short work week is dangerous. The result of such a work week is not confined to the failure of the repair man to do a job when the job must be done. It goes farther than that. It curtails productivity of other workers, dependent upon the machines needing repairs.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

A RED-LETTER DAY.

The Linebook of 1943 will be placed on sale Friday, Nov. 5, instead of Nov. 19 as recently announced. This jumping of the gun, so to speak, may be attributed to two causes: The Linemaster's agility in preparing the volume, with gilt-edged coöperation by THE TRIBUNE'S composing room, and the obvious fact that the longer the pre-holiday sales period the larger will be the total of satisfied customers. This early publication date will break a record of 20 years' standing. Heretofore the book has appeared on the Fridays preceding or following Thanksgiving day.

* * *

So, come the day before Christmas when you are rushing around frantically in search of a Linebook to put into somebody's stocking, don't say that you didn't have a chance to do your shopping early. Last year's edition was completely sold out several days before Christmas went over the goal line.

* * *

Advance mail orders for Linebooks are handled by the Tribune's Public Service bureau at Madison and Dearborn streets. The requirements are 15 cents per copy, plus 3 cents for postage, and an address. Many such orders come directly to the Linemaster's desk, whereupon he puts them in a big brown envelope and house-mails them to Mr. Gillespie of the Public Service. We daresay the charges for mailing overseas are more than 3 cents, and will give information on this point later.

* * *

The amount of matter in a Linebook approximates 31 columns as they appear in the paper: say, about one-tenth of the year's production. That's a bargain in choice light reading for 15 cents. The average book in which a mastermind solves a perfect crime is not much longer and costs 10 times as much.

* * *

Make note of the date: Friday, Nov. 5, after which the Linebook of 1943 will be available at numerous strategic points until the edition is exhausted. The sun will rise at 7:21 a. m. and set at 5:33 p. m. There will be 10 hours and 12 minutes of daylight, and the moon will be in its first quarter. Incidentally, that will be Guy Fawkes day, when the street urchins of London are up to all sorts of tricks in commemoration of "the gunpowder treason plot."

FLAMES OF AUTUMN.

Burn brightly, flames of autumn,
Let sumac scarlet rise
And golden poplar blazes leap
Toward blue October skies.

Let maples' ruby sweep of flame
With elm trees' sparkling gold,
And garnet oak tree radiance
Bring warmth to days grown cold.

Burn brightly, flames of autumn.
Each grateful heart remembers
This glowing beauty when your fire
Has faded to drab embers.

History of the Gold Coast—XLVIII.

The police raid in 1899 had little effect on "Captain" Streeter. He was going to have his rights. On the morning of May 29, 1900, the news spread thruout the neighborhood that he and his gang had come from South Chicago in the night, landed at the foot of Superior street, and built a small, depressed blockhouse at the northwest corner of the drive. The curious rushed to the district, but found their ways stopped by sentries posted by one William N. Niles, whom he had appointed military governor. "Sparrow Cop" Tom Hayes disarmed and arrested some of them.

The crowd grew as the hours passed and pressed in on the sentries. About 10 a. m. Capt. Barney Baer of the Lincoln park police arrived in his buggy, palavered with Niles, and warned him to desist. Niles gave him one minute to clear out. Baer demurred, whereupon Niles fired two rifle bullets into his horse. Baer turned his maddened horse about and drove furiously to the waterworks. Niles wheeled around and fired into the crowd, which promptly dispersed. Reuben Manley of 369 Oak street, aged 14, was slightly wounded in the right knee.

The city met this challenge. A force of 600 policemen assembled about the waterworks in the early afternoon. By this time the crowd had moved in closer to the fort, now held only by Niles on the drive and a single sentry on Superior street, wearing an old army overcoat with a cape, much too large for him. The crowd edged closer; the sentry was suddenly bowled over and taken away to the hoosegow. Suddenly there was a rush by the crowd on the drive, and before Niles could use his gun he was knocked down and given a severe beating. He was then led away to jail. The coppers at the waterworks now advanced on the fort, marching down Chicago avenue in a long column of twos with the wagons following. At the same time a small tug, loaded with officers armed with Winchesters and posted in the lake to cut off retreat by water, stood in to shore.

And so the battle ended. Streeter was not present. Captain John.

THO YOU ARE GONE.

Smile, little boy in hammered-out silver,
Please keep on smiling, day after day;
Chores must be finished and I'll keep on trying,
Hoping to lessen my heartache that way.

Smile, little boy, tho the papers are shouting,
Bombs are still bursting and guns spitting lead,
You in your silver frame, here close beside me,
Prove that they lie when they say you are dead.

Smile, little boy, for you are tomorrow,
You are the sunshine that sparkles in streams;

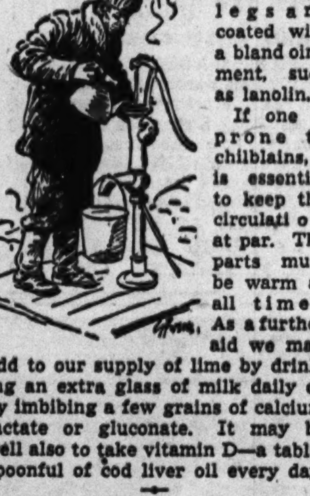
"WHEN WINTER COMES"—LOOK TO THE SKIN.

IT IS probably not too early to think of what will happen to the skin with the coming of colder weather. Dampness and chill predispose to eruptions. Many have learned by experience that comfort will be enhanced if the feet and lower legs are coated with a bland ointment, such as lanolin.



If one is prone to chilblains, it is essential to keep the circulation at par. The parts must be warm at all times. As a further aid we may add to our supply of lime by drinking an extra glass of milk daily or by imbibing a few grains of calcium lactate or gluconate. It may be well also to take vitamin D—a tablespoonful of cod liver oil every day.

Proper clothing is important. The person who is susceptible to icy blasts will usually encounter clammy extremities, even tho he is in a warm room. Occasionally the employment of a hot foot bath at bedtime—practiced by our grandparents—will reinforce the flow of blood by dilating the capillaries. The ensuing engorgement will remain for several hours.

The typical chilblain is an area of swelling in which fluid leaves its normal channels and enters the surrounding tissues. In addition the cuticle becomes red and thickened. The appearance is that of frostbite altho freezing temperature is not necessary. The chief complaints are itching and pain. Proximity to a radiator or any hot object increases distress. If further exposure is suffered, the lesions are likely to increase in number. This means that more protection will be required. Sometimes massaging the toes and fingers will serve as an excellent preventive.

When chapped regions appear on the hands or the face, prompt treatment will be demanded lest the difficulty persist for the season. The chief cause is incomplete drying of the skin. Failure to remove soap film heightens the irritation. But any one who is likely to develop the condition need not avoid the use of plenty of warm water and suds. The only precaution is to rinse and dry thoroly.

The reason glycerine lotions are utilized is because this chemical has the property of absorbing moisture. A mixture of 10 per cent camphor with petroleum jelly is equally effective.

So-called winter itch rarely afflicts young people. It is common, however, with our older friends because the oil glands have ceased to function. Here again protection is the remedy. Woolen hose worn during the day time and bed socks at night will be helpful. The epidermis should be covered at all times with sterile olive oil or other neutral dressing.

Women suffer far less from these blemishes, especially about the face, because of the widespread use of cold cream. It has been well said that a thin layer of fatty material is about as useful as an extra garment. It serves as a nonconductor, thus retaining body warmth. Perhaps mere males can adopt this suggestion, particularly those who are disturbed when the breezes from the northland begin to blow.

RADAR.

Mrs. J. M. writes: My husband, who is in service, is working with radar. I have heard that any man working with light beams and rays cannot beget children. Do you think it can affect the body like this?

REPLY.

BESPECTACLED OFFSPRING.

Miss W. writes: I am a high school student and I have to wear glasses because I strained my eyes. Will my children have to wear glasses, too?

REPLY.

It is wise to plan, but why worry that far ahead? At any rate, the probability is slight.

SIMILARITY.

W. H. writes: Are the symptoms of peptic ulcer the same as those of gall bladder disease?

REPLY.

Similar. As a rule, however, gallstone colic is much more severe. A skilled physician can tell which is which.

BURNING.

D. L. D. writes: What would cause the lungs to burn when one does not have a sign of a cold?

REPLY.

Check the digestive tract. The symptom has become dislocated.

CHILD DIABETIC.

P. A. writes: Can a 4 year old youngster have diabetes?

REPLY.

Unfortunately, yes. The most expert medical counsel will be required.

The Ship That Wasn't Scrapped.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AN EASTERN PORT.—The presentation came as a complete surprise. The ship's company was called together on deck and the captain began to read the papers in his hand. The papers told of the work of a young engineer officer in the African invasion. His ship, a destroyer, had been struck amidships in the height of battle off the North African coast and, as far as the enemy could see, it went up in a geyser of smoke and flame.

That was mid-November, 1942.

The captain smiled, abandoned his formal papers, and turned to his officers and men and to the few assembled guests. He waved one hand toward the ship docked to the left of his ship.

"There she is," he said quietly. "There is that lost ship. To Lt. Clayton Ross Jr., for accomplishing what seemed an impossible task and for bringing a ship of the line safely home thru 7,000 miles of enemy infested waters, his government awards the legion of merit."

The lieutenant, his blue eyes popping in astonishment, stepped forward, and the pink ribbon of the legion of merit with its delicate white edgings was pinned on his chest, pinned crookedly, but there it was.

Lt. Ross is 28. He is diffident and modest. All he would say at first was: "We were hit by an enemy torpedo. We later had to cut the ship in two to save it. We built a floating dock in a port there, took out one section, sewed the ship back together, and got back here. That's all."

"All the navy is doing wonderful repair jobs," he added quickly. "Why, remember that destroyer that had its stern shot off and rigged up a temporary rudder and came home 17,000 miles? His ship [Ross'] just had more facilities to work with. It wasn't his work, anyway. Every one on the ship pitched in together on it."

Finally the story came out. His words were laconic and matter of fact:

"It was an odd situation. We had to cut out 40 feet in the middle of the ship and push the two ends together. We just threw that middle section away and came home with just the forward part of the engines and the after part combined. Sort of an odd arrangement.

"You see, a ship has a forward fire room and a forward engine room. Then it has an after fire room and an after engine room. Well, we tied the forward fire room to the after engine room. The others were eliminated.

"That was the difficult part. It doesn't work normally. It all had to be re-piped, steam lines, air lines, and we had to build an evaporator, something to make fresh water for the boiler we had left . . . and put in 50 electric cables," and he went on in a tangle of technical detail.

"That's all it was.

"Took us about seven months, tho. Three months to raise the dock, three months to cut out the section, and two or three weeks for engineering work. That's what the medal was for, for doing that in such a short time. Then we steamed the 7,000 miles home without a breakdown.

"But the ship's company did the work," he hastened to add. "It was the men and officers and maybe four or five Seabees that came over to help weld. Turned out that the whole ship became navy yard workmen. Became qualified shore personnel, pipefitters, welders, and braziers. Nobody knew how to do any of that, but every one certainly learned in a hurry."

But it really was nothing, he protested. He just had an idea, and it worked. They didn't expect it to. Why, every ship in the United States navy is doing the impossible now and doing it magnificently. Well, no, no one had tried this before. It just happened that this ship was the first to lose its middle.

"Yes," he admitted finally, when pressed, "it was better than leaving the ship over there to be scrapped."

SHADES OF WILLIE HOCKADAY!

Austin, Tex., Oct. 19.—Trends, the weekly publication of Press Association, Inc., Washington, D. C., says in its October 14th issue: "The department of agriculture has a federal feather committee which predicts great things for the plumage of barnyard fowls. . . . Because feathers contain five times as much protein as beefsteak, government scientists are trying to find some way to use them as food."

Well, they have been trying to feed us soybeans, alfalfa, and what not, but this is "the last feather that broke the horse's back." The very thought of a diet of feathers should tickle our palates—but it doesn't. It is to be supposed that in the future we will throw away the fowl and save the feathers. This would be in keeping with the New Deal's program of scarcity. It is laughable to see the party which has been joking for years about the Hoover promise of "a chicken in every pot" finally getting around to giving us, not the chicken, but its feathers. One thing is certain, we can't get the feathers from the eagle. They have plucked that bird long ago, "to fledge the shaft by which he met his doom." Let us hope that this promise of "a feather in every pot" is not just fourth term propaganda! ELIZABETH M. THWEATT.

RHODES SCHOLAR PROFESSORS.

Lake Forest, Ill., Oct. 16.—The front page story in Sunday's TRIBUNE, "Rhodes Pupils Pack Staff of Colleges in U. S.," seems to me wholly unfair and wholly unwarranted. I cannot discover the deep-rooted sin in having been a Rhodes scholar.

I would call to mind the case of Dr. John Nason, president of Swarthmore college. I was on the faculty of a midwestern college during his undergraduate days and have known him and his family for 20 years. Dr. Nason came into his present eminent position by the hard way and thru his own sterling character. To say, even in a whisper, that he is un-American in thought, word, or deed, is stretching the truth to a degree which borders on rank falsehood.

It seems to me that THE TRIBUNE is shooting very wide of the mark when it attacks men in the educational field who have had the mental and physical qualifications that Rhodes scholars represent. JAMES R. GILLETTE.

COURT PACKING WITH A VENGEANCE.

New York, Oct. 19.—Yesterday and the week prior the United States Supreme court denied over 90 per cent of the applications for writs of certiorari, and has been so doing for a considerable time. This policy is due to congestion of the calendar and has prevented due protection being afforded under the Bill of Rights. These rights of individuals have been violated by arbitrary and erroneous decisions of the lower courts.

The composition of the United States Supreme court should be changed to enlarge the number of judges to 48, one to be elected by each state, the court to be divided into five parts of nine judges each, one from each of nine zones. Each part would sit for one month, then recess until the other four parts have sat, and then sit again for one more month during the term. This will give the judges four months' recess in which to write decisions. The calendar may then be given the proper consideration, and writs of certiorari granted that are now denied.

The equality and independence of our three branches of government, legislative, executive, and judicial, desired by the founders is not practical under our present system of Presidential appointment of judges to the United States Supreme court, even tho these nominations are subject to senate approval. In practice, the senate approves the judges nominated by the President. The states have been gradually losing their powers and rights to the federal government, resulting in federal overcentralization and in the practical domination of the United States Supreme court by the administration.

In connection with applications for writs of certiorari, the necessity of printing 40 copies of the record of the trial court and courts below, makes the cost of appeal a great burden to litigants and prevents justice. If the record below were sent up, with the exhibits, as is done under some systems, this expense could be avoided. ARCHIBALD H. JORDAN.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Hasn't the Kelly-ex-Nash machine enough pep, patronage and power to ruin us without socializing the traction lines to provide additional jobs for the boys and girls in the precincts? Let us do away with as much government as we can. The more government we have the less liberty and the higher our taxes. PETER S. CLOUD.

SHEIL ASSERTS JUSTICE IS KEY TO REAL PEACE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C. Oct. 24.—Bishop Bernard J. Sheil of Chicago warned today that a military victory for democracy, even tho complete and unconditional, cannot be enough. He declared a lasting peace must be written, "founded squarely upon the fundamental virtues of justice and charity."

Bishop Bernard J. Sheil.

Speaking before several hundred Washington Catholics on the Charles Carroll forum in the Williard hotel, Bishop Sheil asserted that "today, as in the past, America represents a vision of hope to oppressed people everywhere."

"In our hands rest the future faith of the democratic ideal and the very concept of human liberty," he said. "We can best serve these by following the path of those who conceived of the American experiment and by remaining true to our traditional role as example to the world of a people governing themselves in justice, seeking the common good of all within the framework of personal freedom.

Warns of 'Pious Enthusiasm.'

"America can contribute most by preserving intact those democratic institutions which are her peculiar possession and her basic strength."

Bishop Sheil warned that Americans must not be "too impressed" by the ardor with which certain individuals espouse the cause of liberty.

"Too often, in the immediate past," he said, "this pious enthusiasm has been identified with zealous opposition to ends socially desirable and popularly demanded.

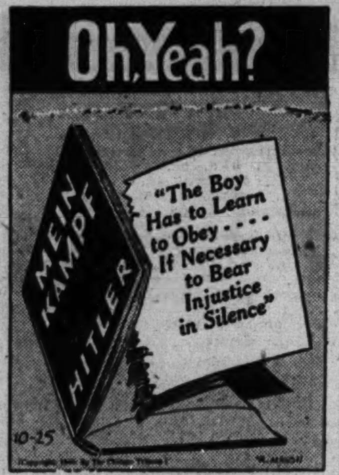
"To invoke the right of free speech, of private property, of freedom of enterprise as a screen for purely selfish objectives, either gain or power, has had a most serious consequence. In the minds of people these rights are becoming synonomous with weapons of reaction."

Asks Return to Truths.

Bishop Sheil asserted that persons working toward peace under the assumption that man is purely an economic animal whose varied aspirations will find normal satisfaction in electric refrigerators or plastic buttons have failed "to pierce the inner meaning of this war." He said they have completely misinterpreted the desires of the world and are "merely loading the gun for a more stupendous global conflict."

"The common people of the world demand a return to fundamental truths, to traditional values," he declared. "Above all they seek the restoration of the individual human personality to its rightful place in the hierarchy of creation, whose beginning and end is God.

"All other values, political, economic, social, must be subjected, must be subordinated to human values. Only thru this restoration can human solidarity be achieved, and human solidarity is the only effective gateway to a peace founded on the unique nature of man himself. This is the desire of the people. Let their leaders attend them lest disaster engulf us all."



Assaulted and Robbed, Left Injured in Street

Tony Klaskas, believed to be a laborer for the International Harvester company, was found propped against a street curb yesterday with his skull fractured in two places. Police decided that he had been assaulted and robbed while changing a tire on his auto at 6000 Wentworth avenue. He is 30 years old and lives at 6332 Ingleside avenue. Two soldiers found him and reported the matter to police.

THOUSANDS VIEW MOCK INVASION OF LAKE FRONT

A grim, realistic amphibious "invasion" of Chicago was staged yesterday on the lake front at Foster avenue. Landing barges packed with coastguardsmen and marines slithered onto the sandy beach, and the fighting men swarmed ashore to capture a "Jap" held position.

Prior to the landing, the beach area was "softened" by strafing and dive bombing planes from the naval air training station at Glenview, which zoomed low over the heads of thousands of spectators gathered to watch the spectacle.

Landing forces racing in from transport vessels moored in the lake were shielded by dense smoke screens, which issued from floating pots thrown overside from the boats and dropped by planes.

Ideal Landing Weather.

The chill fogginess of the atmosphere, said by naval officers to be ideal for landing operations, held the smoke almost motionless and prevented its rapid dissipation.

Signal for the invasion was a brilliant parachute flare fired from a Very pistol. As the signal lighted and floated downward, spectators saw the blunt noses of three barges loom out of the man-made fog and thrust upon the beach.

Marines and coastguardsmen poured over the sides of the barges and raced across a strip of sand toward a narrow inlet of water across which stood a Japanese flag.

Rifle and machine gun fire added its crackling din to the roar of diving planes as the invaders surged across the sand.

Throngs Cheer Flag's Capture.

Cheers broke from the crowd as the Jap flag was torn down and the Stars and Stripes raised in its place.

Many of the men who participated in the mock invasion had gone thru the real thing on Guadalcanal, in North Africa, Sicily, and on the Italian mainland.

More than 20 navy and coast guard vessels, including five 83 foot anti-submarine patrol boats, took part in the invasion. Two lake aircraft carriers, the Wolverine and the Sable, stood offshore but poor visibility prevented planes using their decks.

Visitors to the free "Back the Attack" navy show in Tribune Square yesterday saw two of the swift anti-submarine patrol boats built in the yards of the Defoe Shipbuilding company at Bay City, Mich.

The two vessels nosed out of the Chicago river yesterday afternoon to take part in the show's big event for the day—a spectacular mock invasion of Chicago's lake front at the Foster avenue beach.

Only three more days remain to see the exhibit of naval material. One of the features of yesterday's show was a scale model jeep, identical in appearance to a regulation model, but one-half its size. The tiny car was made by Frank Tillotson, 5024 Morgan street, for his son, Kenneth II. The little jeep is powered by a three-quarter horsepower aircooled gasoline engine.

Pledges Legion to Fight Winspear Clique.

Warren H. Atherton of Stockton, Cal., national commander of the American Legion, yesterday compared disseminators of communistic propaganda with "rats who gnaw at the foundations of our country in her hour of need."

Atherton pledged the aid of the Legion in combatting "subversive teachings such as those of Winspear."

Atherton, who is attending the annual commanders' and adjutants' conference of the Illinois department of the Legion in the Hotel Sherman, took cognizance of disclosures regarding the Abraham Lincoln school in a formal statement.

Work for Soviet System.

He said he had followed with interest THE TRIBUNE'S disclosures that instructors at the Abraham Lincoln school frankly profess that the soviet system of government is superior to the American system, and that they advocate the surrender of American independence to a world super-government which they want modeled on the communistic system of soviet Russia.

Praising the American system of constitutional government for having "lifted the plane of American living higher in a century and a half than all other forms of government have done for all other peoples in all time," Atherton's statement continued:

"We know what representative democracy has done for us. To be true to those who are fighting for democracy on foreign shores, we who are here in safety must preserve the kind of democratic self-government they left.

Fight to Blot Out "Isms."

"We want to keep it for our sons who fight to keep us free of 'isms' and for their sons who will come after them.

"The American Legion will be alert to combat all subversive teachings such as those of Prof. A. D. Winspear of the Abraham Lincoln school.

"We ask every loyal citizen to join us in upholding Americanism and exterminating the rats who gnaw at the foundations of our country in her hour of need."

Earlier, Dr. L. W. Esper of Springfield, state commander, in addressing conference delegates, assailed the speech made recently in Chicago by Earl Browder, national secretary of the Communist party.

Dr. Esper warned that the greatest danger to the nation lies in "the laxity of citizens toward highly organized efforts by subversive elements aimed at changing the American form of government."

Defend Our Constitution.

"It is the American Legion's aim," Dr. Esper said, "not only to win the war and the peace, but to retain the American constitutional independent form of government. The United States has developed the greatest government on earth and it is our responsibility to keep it alive and support it."

He warned citizens against "becoming so engrossed in their own affairs that they fail to see organized efforts to undermine their form of government." He declared they must "be ever vigilant to the activities of subversive elements" and urged that they "be militantly pro-American."

BURIAL SERVICES AT 2 TODAY FOR BENJAMIN BLANK

Funeral services for Benjamin Blank, composer and conductor of the Jewish Playhouse, will be held at 2 o'clock today in the chapel at 3660 Roosevelt road. He died Saturday night of a heart attack during the presentation of "My Heart is Yours" at the Douglas Park theater. The attack occurred while the conductor was in the orchestra pit, directing the actors. The audience was unaware of his death.

Blank, who was 48 years old, had been identified with the theater all his life. His father was the late Leon Blank, a dramatic artist, and his wife, who survives with their son, Emmanuel, is a retired actress. Their home is at 4007 26th street.

OBITUARIES

Louis Marx.

Louis Marx, 76 years old, 5200 Ingleside avenue, a nationally known retail clothing salesman who worked for more than 50 years at State street and Jackson boulevard, died yesterday after a long illness. In 1926 Mr. Marx was acclaimed in trade journals because his sales averaged more than $250,000 a year for three consecutive years. Mr. Marx went to work in 1891 for a clothier whose store occupied the present site of the Maurice L. Rothchild store. He remained with Rothchild's when that firm took over the location and served them 36 years. Mr. Marx is survived by a son, Norville L. Marx, with whom he lived. Services will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. in the chapel at 936 East 47th street.

Mrs. Catherine W. Johnstone.

Services for Mrs. Catherine Wensel Johnstone, 452 Oakdale avenue, will be held at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in St. Chrysostom's church. Mrs. Johnstone died Saturday evening while visiting at the home of friends. She was 46 years old. Surviving her are her husband, Douglas P. Johnstone, and her mother.

Mrs. Emma C. Eitel.

Services for Mrs. Emma C. Eitel, 70 years old, wife of Emil Eitel, president of the Bismarck Hotel company, will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at Graceland cemetery. Mrs. Eitel died Saturday at her home, 3118 Sheridan road. She has been active in club and Red Cross activities.

Mrs. Mary Benson Atzel.

Mrs. Mary Benson Atzel, 80 years old, widow of Police Sgt. Henry Atzel, died yesterday in the home of her niece, Miss Elizabeth Mangin, 7429 Dante avenue, with whom she lived. Services will be held at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday in St. Laurence's church.

Charles T. Engstrom.

Services for Charles T. Engstrom, 38 years old, 4606 Kelso avenue, a 2d class seaman in the United States navy, will be held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. in the chapel at 4401 Lawrence avenue. He was killed Wednesday. He leaves his widow, Christine.

PUBLIC WORKS LEADERS OPEN SESSION TODAY

Post-war public works projects designed to provide employment as well as civic improvements will occupy the major portion of the attention of some 400 delegates to the 49th annual conference of the Public Works congress, which opens a 3 day meeting this morning in the Hotel Sherman.

Lloyd M. Johnson, Chicago's commissioner of streets and electricity, will address the delegates, assembled from all parts of the United States, after Mayor Kelly's address of welcome. Man power problems will be discussed at the luncheon, which will be addressed by Henry L. Howe, Rochester, N. Y., city engineer and president of the congress, and by representatives from the war man power commission.

A tour of the Museum of Science and Industry is scheduled for this afternoon. Delegates also will make a trip thru Chicago's subway today.

EXTEND 48 HOUR WEEK TO INDIANA AND WISCONSIN

Extension of the 48 hour minimum work week to several counties and communities in Indiana and Wisconsin, designated as critical labor markets, was announced yesterday by Dean William H. Spencer, Chicago regional director of the war man power commission. He said employers should make preparations to be in full compliance by the effective date of Nov. 15.

The Indiana counties affected by the order are Madison, Tipton, Adams, Allen, De Kalb, Huntington, Noble, Wells, Whitley, Boone, Hamilton, Hancock, Hendricks, Johnson, Marion, Morgan, Shelby, Marshall, and St. Joseph. Principal cities affected are Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, South Bend, and Anderson.

The Wisconsin counties are Racine and Door, and the communities of Ahnapee, Lincoln, and Red River in Kewaunee county. Major cities affected are Racine, Burlington, and Sturgeon Bay.

In Illinois, Sterling and the South Chicago territory of Cook county have been on the 48 hour week since last spring. Dean Spencer said employers may file requests for exceptions from the order on grounds that the 48 hour week would not aid the war program or would result in hardship.

CHICAGO CADET KILLED IN TEXAS AIRPLANE CRASH

Alphonsus P. Binkis, 26 years old, 1855 West 58th street, an army aviation cadet, was killed yesterday in the crash of a twin-engine plane 16 miles northwest of Blackland army air field, an Associated Press dispatch from Waco, Tex., reported last night. His co-pilot parachuted safely. Binkis is survived by his widow and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Binkis, 7021 South Talman avenue.

400 Arrested in Drive on French 'Terrorists'

New York, Oct. 24 (AP).—Striking from Rennes in the north to Montpelier in the south, French police today arrested more than 400 persons in a roundup intended "to put a stop to terrorist activities," the Nazi-controled Vichy radio said tonight. Arrests were made in Limoges, Dijon, Poitiers, Lille, Bordeaux, Toulouse, and Lyon.

DIES AFTER FALL FROM CAR.

Abraham Levy, 61 years old, 6439 South Morgan street, owner of a tailor shop at 234 East 71st street, died last night in Jackson Park hospital of injuries suffered yesterday in a fall from the rear platform of a street car near Indiana avenue.

TRAINMEN SEEK NEW JOB RULES FOR RAILROADS

As their officials made preparations for polling 350,000 on the question of pay raises, the Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen yesterday demanded sweeping revision of working rules on the railroads of the United States.

The revision would include provisions for two weeks' vacation with pay, expenses for trainmen away from home terminal, time and a half pay for overtime in passenger service and other wage adjustments.

A. F. Whitney, president of the brotherhood, said the proposed new rules contain principles others workers enjoy and they "should in justice be applied to railroaders."

Mary Anderson, director of the women's bureau, United States department of labor, suggested, in a speech before the Illinois and Wisconsin Women's trade union leagues and committees, that the war labor board order equal pay for women workers in all disputes it adjudicates.

CAR AND TRAILER COLLIDE; WOMAN KILLED, 2 HURT

Mrs. Loretta Bauer, 25 years old, an employe of the Sunset Ridge Country club, Northbrook, where she also lived, was killed early yesterday, and two companions were in a critical condition in the Highland Park hospital after their automobile collided with a heavy trailer truck on Skokie road, near County line road. Mrs. Doris Murray, 24, also a Sunset Ridge employe, incurred a skull fracture, and Marion Trela, 29, of 2508 North Francisco avenue, bartender of the club, received abdominal injuries and a fracture of the left leg. Both were unconscious. Frank Hughes, 24, of La Grange, Ind., was the driver of the truck.

Mrs. Mary McGrath, 72 years old, was killed, and her brother, Peter McGovern, 63, was seriously injured last night when they were struck by an automobile in front of 6904 Halsted street. Both live at 324 West 61st street. The driver of the car was Arthur Krechman, 33, of 7218 St. Lawrence avenue.

Women Outnumber Men at U. of I. This Semester

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 24 [Special].—A total of 5,030 students is enrolled in the Champaign-Urbana department of the University of Illinois at the end of the second week of school, registration figures showed today. This is 5,209 fewer than the number enrolled at this time last fall. Only 1,700 of those registered this year are men, the first time in the history of the institution that women students have outnumbered men.

Visit Munich

DROP in on the Nazis at their famous Brown House—with shells fired by the used cooking grease you and other American women turn in. Rationing needn't stop you. The government doesn't want your fats until after all the cooking good is gone. But then, every drop is needed. Just one tablespoon will fire five machine gun bullets. Even with rationing, you can save that much every day. Rush each canful to your meat dealer.

Night Crew Back on Jobs After Strike at Pullman

Officials of the Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing company, 130th street and Stony Island avenue, which is engaged in ship construction for the navy, reported last night that they were again operating with a full crew on the night shift. One hundred fifty of the workers, members of the United Steel Workers union [CIO], without the union's sanction, failed to report for work Friday night in what was said to be a demonstration of their resentment against delays in the negotiation of a new wage contract.

POLISH REPORT LISTS POST-WAR RELIEF NEEDS

Sets Minimum Needed to Rehabilitate Nation.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The Polish government in London today issued a report on the immediate post-war food and clothing relief requirements of Poland.

Jan Kwapinski, deputy premier and minister of commerce and industry, who was responsible for the report, said a number of Polish military and civilian experts have been collaborating for months in outlining Poland's post-war program of rehabilitation.

"Ironically enough," he said, "the negotiations were partially with the existing underground government in occupied Poland," altho negotiations between Polish authorities in England and those in Poland have been carried forward under the handicap of German domination.

Data Given to Committee.

In revealing food and clothing needs for the post-war period, Kwapinski asserted that all data have been submitted to the interallied post-war relief committee and added, "Future developments in the war may still alter certain phases of these plans, but on the basis of the program mapped by Polish authorities guarantees have been obtained, which if they come true, will mean substantial help for devastated Poland."

The report indicated that food requirements have been studied on the basis of the minimum needs for one month, six months, and a year for 35 million citizens. For the six months period well over 1,606,000 tons of food will be necessary, the report said, while for the first year the equivalent of 550 million British clothing coupons will be needed to provide clothing for the Poles, including returning deportees and war prisoners.

Major food requirements for the first six months after the war were listed as follows: Meat, 110,000 tons, allowing about 25 pounds per person; eggs, 12,700 tons shelled allowing 250 eggs per person; cheese, 71,000 tons or 50 pounds per person; milk, 275,000 tons or 100 pounds per person; butter, 4,500 tons or 2½ pounds per person.

Rye One of Biggest Items.

Sugar, 159,250 tons or 11 pounds per person; tea, 3,650 tons calculated for 20 million persons; coffee, 10,950 tons for 15 million; cocoa, 7,300 tons for 10 million people; dried vegetables, 2,920 tons for 2 million; oranges, 73,000 tons for 8 million children at the rate of two oranges weekly; lemons, 12,500 tons for 10 million, at the rate of two lemons a month; dried soup, 1,820 tons for 2 million persons.

Mentioned as the biggest item on the list is a total of 477,250 tons of rye for the same six months' period, which would permit the allocation of about 162 pounds per person for bread, with more than 265,000 tons for grain fodder for horses and pigs.

Post-war consumption of milk, it was pointed out, will be about half that before the war, but there will be a greater requirement for tea, coffee, and cocoa because of the inevitable restriction in the production of beer, lemonade, and other beverages.

Other items on the list and the amounts needed for the same six month period include: Sea food, 38,500 tons; eating fats, 93,000 tons; rice, 22,750 tons; groats, 53,550 tons; pulses [edible seeds of certain legumes], 61,750 tons; dried fruits, 26,250 tons; pepper, 630 tons; wheat, 93,000 tons.

'Fortresses' Give Air Raid Test to Portugal

LISBON, Oct. 24 (AP).—Flying Fortresses, other big bombers and fighter planes, and barrage balloons provided a realistic touch today as residents of this Portuguese capital crouched in air raid shelters during a 20 minute test. The practice raid was held in connection with military maneuvers which have been under way since Portugal granted anti-submarine bases in the Azores Islands to the British this month.

READY TO PLAY ACES IN OAKES CASE THIS WEEK

NASSAU, Bahamas, Oct. 24 (AP).—The crown's prosecutor will play his ace cards this week in a supreme effort to send Alfred de Marigny to the gallows for the murder of his wealthy father-in-law, Harry Oakes.

Capt. E. W. Melchen.

Leading off with Capt. E. W. Melchen of the Miami police, Atty. Gen. Eric Hallinan will call to the witness stand beginning tomorrow the investigators who dug up the evidence against the good looking husband of Oakes' daughter, Nancy.

They will tell the Bahamas Supreme court jury of the finger print, the singed hairs, and the missing shirt with which the prosecution seeks to link De Marigny with the slugging and burning of the aged baronet last July in a bedroom of his beach estate, Westbourne.

Surprises in Prospect.

Then in one of the most dramatic moments of a trial which already has provided a full quota of sensations, Eunice Oakes, the widow, will give an account of family friction which grew out of the twice divorced defendant's surprise marriage to the girl 16 years his junior.

The crown still has 19 witnesses to be heard, and Hallinan may have some surprise cards up his sleeve because four of them have not given their testimony publicly. The others told their stories at the magistrate's preliminary hearing, which brought the formal murder charge against De Marigny.

Chief Counsel Godfrey Higgs and Associate W. E. A. Callender showed the pattern of the defense strategy by attempting to strip the significance from a finger print—the impression of De Marigny's little right finger, the prosecution contends—found on a figured bed screen in the death room, and by casting doubt that there were singed and curled hairs on the defendant's hands and arms after Oakes met his death on a flaming bed the night of July 7-8.

Jurors went on a beach party this afternoon, 11 of them taking a swim under the watchful eye of officers. Jerome Bethel, who has religious scruples against Sunday pleasures, took along a Bible and read while the others played.

The Trunk of the Tree

First there was just wilderness. Then some men came and cleared away the trees and the underbrush. Pretty soon they started to build a factory—way out to nowhere and gone.

The reason was simple—the land was cheap. Also, they knew they could depend on the railroad's laying a spur line over which they could bring in people and raw materials and ship out their finished product.

It wasn't long before a little cluster of houses sprang up for the workers. Roads appeared. An enterprising merchant opened a general store.

Soon a doctor came and a dentist. A garage went up. Then a drug store, a barber shop, a movie house.

And so the town grew. Nobody planned it that way. American initiative made it that way. The town grew as opportunity grew. It grew like a tree—slowly, steadily, surely. And the trunk of the tree—the trunk through which the lifesap flowed—was the railroad.

Every man who made his living in that town made it from goods that came in by the railroad, or that went out over its bright rails to markets beyond.

* * *

The men who built that town in the wilderness believe with all their hearts in free enterprise. But some of them may not appreciate the extent to which their continued economic freedom depends on freedom of the railroads.

The sirens of regimentation may lull us with the theory that it is all very well for private businesses to remain free, but that public carriers should be owned by the government.

But what would this mean in practical terms to every business man in the community we have described? It would mean that his dealings with the railroads would now be on a political instead of a business basis.

And would railroad service be improved? With bureaucrats in charge, and no more competition between lines? You can read the answer in any country where railroads are government-controlled.

* * *

Before you listen to those who would "regiment" our railroads, consider whether our business structure could long remain half slave and half free.

And whether, if the axe were laid at the trunk, the whole tree would not suffer.

100 Red Cross Workers Now Operating in Italy

ALGIERS, Oct. 24 (AP).—William E. Stevenson, Red Cross delegate for North Africa, announced today more than 100 American Red Cross workers now are operating in Italy. Six clubs now are serving doughnuts at the front and in rest areas, and one club is operating in Naples.

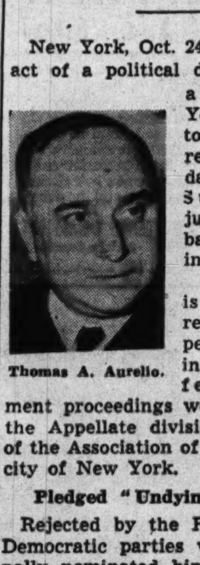
AURELIO FIGHTS DISBARMENT AS ELECTION NEARS

Still in Race for State Supreme Court.

New York, Oct. 24 (AP).—The final act of a political drama that has agitated New York will begin tomorrow when a repudiated candidate for state Supreme court justice fights disbarment proceedings against him.



Thomas A. Aurelio.

The candidate is Thomas A. Aurelio, who is expected to testify in his own defense. Disbarment proceedings were ordered by the Appellate division on petition of the Association of the Bar of the city of New York.

Pledged "Undying Loyalty."

Rejected by the Republican and Democratic parties who had originally nominated him, Aurelio still is an eligible candidate for the post. District Atty. Frank S. Hogan charged him with having secured his Democratic nomination thru the aid of Frank Costello, whom Hogan characterized as "czar of the slot machine racket."

Hogan further charged that on the morning after the nomination Aurelio pledged "undying loyalty" to Costello.

Persons high in political councils are expected to figure in the proceedings, in which Hogan will be prosecutor. Accepting that assignment from the Appellate division, Hogan said that he would present his evidence himself, and that he was ready to proceed.

Could Be Elected.

It was held unlikely that the proceedings would be completed by election day, Nov. 2. If Aurelio is elected—a distinct possibility because of his position on the ballot—and is disbarred prior to taking his oath of office Jan. 1, presiding Justice Francis Martin has said he could not sit as a Supreme court judge. The state constitution provides that a Supreme court justice must be a bar member.

When Hogan made his sensational disclosure last Aug. 28, Democrats and Republicans reconvened their judicial conventions. Aurelio, who later resigned as a magistrate, was upheld in his right to remain on the tickets. Under independent party labels, the Republicans nominated George Frankenthaler and the Democrats endorsed the American Labor party candidate, Matthew M. Levy.

Friend of the Yanks

F. Z. E. writes: "I am classified 2-C but most of the farm work is done now and I wonder if my classification would be changed if I went to work in a defense plant a few miles from here for the winter?"

ANSWER: Local board memorandum 115-D, effective Oct. 2, states: "Registrants deferred by reason of being necessary men in seasonal occupations in war production or in support of the war effort may be continued in a deferred classification during the off-season if they fulfill the following conditions: [a] They remain engaged in their seasonal occupations for a period of not less than eight months of the year; [b] They become engaged during the off-season in some other occupation in war production or in support of the war effort; and [c] Upon the reopening of the season in which they may pursue their normal seasonal occupations they return to their seasonal occupations that constituted the basis for their original deferment and resume their status as necessary men therein." This is the "general policy" regarding seasonal activities and occupations. Agriculture is covered in Activity and Occupational Bulletin 164, and amendments, which contain certain restrictions making it advisable to consult your local board for permission to make shifts or changes, because the policies vary from state to state.

O. N. D. asks: "Can you give me the base pay of the maritime service hospital apprentices and pursers? Are they insured and who has to pay for it?"

ANSWER: Maritime service trainees in the radio operators, apprentice seamen, stewards, and purser-hospital corps schools receive $50 per month plus uniforms, transportation, expenses, and uniforms, and $5,000 free insurance during the training courses. If the trainee wishes, he can buy an additional $5,000 insurance including disability for $5. We will gladly send a packet of complete information on the maritime service schools and training programs to any one writing us for it.

R. E. S. writes: "I am a member of the air forces enlisted reserve corps and would like to know how I will be classified by my draft board. They say I am not entitled to a 1-C classification. I won't be called to active service for two or three months."

ANSWER: Apparently you enlisted while you were 17, but before you were 18, and hence are not required to register because you are already in service. The 1-C classification is intended for registrants who have entered the service or who have been discharged therefrom after Dec. 8, 1941, on a certificate of disability discharge.

M. H. writes: "Can you suggest any kind of schooling which would help a lieutenant in the navy advance? He has been on active duty overseas where he commanded a YP boat. This man is thinking of making the navy his career. He is a college graduate."

ANSWER: You don't give us very much information to go on, hence we can only suggest you have him communicate with the "Naval Reserve Educational Center" at the nearest district headquarters and ask what courses he can enroll in to his advantage.

PUT 'RADIO HALL OF FAME' ON AIR SUNDAY, DEC. 5

W-G-N Pronunciation Show Starts Today.

A Radio Hall of Fame program, designed to establish the broadcasting equivalent of Hollywood's academy award, is scheduled to make its debut over the Blue network at 5 p. m., Sunday, Dec. 5. WCFL probably will be the Chicago outlet of the one hour show, which will bring to the mike each week a cast of stars chosen by the editors of Variety.

A five minute program in pronounciation of unfamiliar place-names in the war news starts today over W-G-N and the Mutual network. Fred Uttal is conductor of the program, which will be heard Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 10:55 a. m.

Arlene Francis' Blind Date show, heard during the summer as a replacement for the Fannie Brice program, returns to the air at 7:30 tonight over WLS and the Blue network. Six service men compete each week for the privilege of dating three glamor girls, and winners receive $5 pocket money and an evening at a New York night club with the girl.

Swing's the Thing is the title of a new musical show to start at 9:30 tomorrow night over W-G-N. Janette Davis and Gene Baker are soloists on the program, which also features Bob Trendler's swing band.

Clothing Drive for Reds Aided by Chicagoans

BY JUDITH CASS.

THEIR warmest and most durable clothing is being taken from closets by a small group of Americans of Russian descent, who will set an example of sacrifice which they hope other Chicagoans will follow when a city-wide collection of clothing for Russian War Relief gets under way on Nov. 7. Approximately 40 million Russian men, women, and children are in need of wearable clothing to see them thru the winter, according to Mrs. Philip W. Moore, head of the relief agency, and Mrs. Laird Bell, chairman of its women's division.

George Voevodsky, who was a colonel in the Russian army in the world war, heads the Russians in Chicago who are determined to make the 15 clothing depots already in operation in this area bulge with garments for needy Russians. Nicolai Malko, symphony conductor, and his wife; the Nicholas Starosselskys, the Nicholas Galitzines, Prof. and Mrs. George V. Brobrinskoy, the Ilya Neushuls, Col. and Mrs. W. W. Yaschenko, the Alexandrei Rostislavs, Prof. Vladimir N. Ipatieff, whose scientific talents now are benefitting the American war program, and his wife; Prof. Serge Tarnowsky and Mrs. Marina Volkonsky are included in the group. They will meet for luncheon on Thursday at the Yar, bringing their own contributions of clothing with them. Mrs. Rostislav is preparing children's clothing for the collection.

Birthday News.

The news that Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman has been reëlected honorary chairman of the Women's Aid society of Passavant hospital comes as a sort of birthday present to this indefatigable hospital supporter. She will be receiving congratulations on her 76th anniversary tomorrow, but there won't be a birthday party. Mrs. Walter R. Kirk continues as chairman of the society, with Mrs. James R. Offield, Mrs. Frank Wilhelm, Mrs. Gardiner B. Van Ness, Mrs. Bryan S. Reid, Mrs. David Annan, Mrs. Alden B. Swift, Mrs. John Dern, Mrs. James J. McMillan, Mrs. Donald F. McPherson and Mrs. A. O. Hartmann on the board.

Mrs. D. Mark Cummings will be receiving birthday greetings from her family and friends today. She had her birthday cake at a little party on Saturday night at home in Lake Forest, and was feted again yesterday at the Onwentsia. Greetings will come from Washington from her son and daughter, Lt. Dexter Cummings, and Mrs. Curtis B. Munson. Mrs. Munson will sail shortly for an unannounced destination to serve with the American Red Cross. As Lt. Cummings continues to be stationed in Washington, his wife and their younger daughter have joined him there. The senior Mrs. Cummings will move to her Chicago apartment a week from today, but as the building has been sold to be made into smaller apartments, Mrs. Cummings may become a year around Lake Forester after next May.

Here and There.

Reunited in Chicago on leaves are William B. Johnson of the army ski troops and his wife, the former Althea Cunningham, who is serving with the marines. Also in town for a visit is Mrs. Thomas J. Johnson Jr., the former Janet Bard, whose husband, a captain in the ferry command, is stationed in Cincinnati. Mrs. Johnson is staying with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ralph A. Bard Jr.

Mrs. Cedric Hagenbuckle and her young son, who had been visiting her father, William E. Clow Jr. and Mrs. Clow in Lake Forest, have gone to Diabolo, Cal., to join Lt. Hagenbuckle, who is stationed there.

Col. and Mrs. Robert A. Gardner have welcomed home their daughter, Mrs. William C. Taylor, and her young son, William Jr., who lived in the east until Lt. Taylor's duties with the navy kept him away from home most of the time.

William J. Widhelm, who led a dive bomber squadron on the aircraft carrier Hornet and took part in the battles of Midway, Coral sea, and Santa Cruz, has been promoted from lieutenant commander to commander in the navy. He and the former Betty Cheney, daughter of the Harold Clark Cheneys of Barrington, were married last January.

On the Calendar.

Mrs. Walter S. Brewster is entertaining at tea at the Casino at 5 p. m. on Wednesday for Henri Bernstein. He is coming to Chicago to address the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations at 12:15 p. m. next Thursday at the Sherman hotel. Frederic Woodward, president of the council, and the executive committee and board of directors of France Forever have been invited to the tea. Mr. Bernstein, a widely known author, has been living in New York since July, 1940, when he was ousted from France by the Vichy government. Several French societies have made reservations to hear his talk before the council.

Antique collectors and enthusiasts will be heading today for the Woman's club of Wilmette, Tenth street and Greenleaf avenue, where the club is holding its third annual antiques show under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles T. Morrison. Dealers from six states have brought their choice wares for display and sale between 10 a. m. and 10 p. m., today thru Thursday. Luncheon will be served each day from 11:30 to 2 p. m., and afternoon tea from 3 to 5. Mrs. Glen S. Roberts is president of the club.

The curtain will rise tonight at the Erlanger theater on the second in the Theater Guild-American Theater society subscription series, "Without Love," starring Constance Bennett. In the audience, in addition to Chicago's first night "regulars" will be the author of the play, Philip Barry, and his wife, and the producer-director, Arthur Hopkins.

New parents and teachers have received a special invitation to a tea which trustees of the Boys' Latin school are giving from 5 to 7 p. m. today in the school library. Mrs. Harrold Bachmann is in charge of arrangements, and pouring will be Mrs. Philip K. Wrigley, Mrs. William Tracy Alden, Mrs. Albert F. Madlener Jr., Mrs. William Spencer, and Mrs. William J. Kelly.

Thru the Looking Glass

Ask the average woman if she uses eyeshadow and she'll probably reply with a deprecatory "no." Most of us feel that the cosmetic belongs to the "theatrical" set and has no place in our collection of makeup items. We may concede that it is all right for use on dress-up occasions, but it also can be incorporated into our every day make-up with good effect. It's true that eyeshadow that is applied without discretion and a deft touch can lend a too madeup look to the face, but skilfully applied and in the proper tint it can add depth and color to the orbs that aren't to be ignored.

It takes practice to learn how to apply the cosmetic properly and in just the right degree. The most important rule to remember is to apply the color sparingly and with the lightest possible touch. Start blending it from the center of the upper lid as close as possible to the lashes. Blend it outward and upward and be sure that it is evenly distributed with no heavy splotches of color at any point. Avoid putting it at the inside corners of the eyes, for it will tend to make them look close together and minimize their size. Err on the side of too little color rather than too much, wiping off any excess with a tissue. If the preparation is hard to spread, a bit of cream or oil applied to the lids beforehand will help.

A little experimenting may be necessary to find the shade of eyeshadow that is exactly right for the individual. Ordinarily a tint that picks up the color of the eyes, as blue or violet for blue eyes, is the best to choose, but the final selection should be one that will add color and warmth to the eyes themselves and not be a separate tint in itself.

Dedicate Midway Seminaries with Services Tonight

Acceptances from more than 100 colleges, universities, and theological seminaries, have been received by Dean Ernest C. Colwell, of the University of Chicago divinity school, for official representation tonight at the service of dedication and inauguration of the federated theological faculty of Midway seminaries.

Four seminaries of four denominations are represented in the federation, which relates the faculties of the four schools without affecting their autonomy. Two-thirds of the teaching will be done by the federated faculties and one-third, to allow for denomination emphasis, will be done in the individual seminaries. In addition to the University of Chicago divinity school, the Chicago Theological seminary, Meadville Divinity school and Disciples' Divinity house are included in the group.

Principal addresses tonight will be made by Robert M. Hutchins, president of the university; Dr. Albert W. Palmer of the Chicago seminary, and Dr. Douglas Horton of New York, minister of the general council of Congregational-Christian churches.

Smooth Talker Gets Advice: Hold That Line!

[Copyright: 1943: By The Chicago Tribune.]

On the Solid Side

It is true that a good line is often the shortest distance between two dates, and many fellows and girls know what they're doing when it comes to slinging the con and making with the smooth talk. They can apple-shine their way into any date's heart, and they know where they're headed when it comes to talking a straight line.

How many times have you heard some sweet-and-lovely on a date go thru her wide-eyed and wonderful routine, giving her escort that "tall, dark, and just made for me" line? And how many fellows have you heard go thru their own variation of the "grandma, what big eyes you have" or "where have you been all my life" song-and-dance?

Of course, it usually works. One good date leads to another, and a fellow or girl with a smooth line of patter can talk himself or herself into almost anything.

Smooth talk is a good thing, an attribute to your personality, unless it's overdone. If so, people will believe you too readily or they won't believe you at all. You may tell your story so well that even tho your listeners know they've heard that song before they believe you. Before long a fellow may have more girls thinking that he is mad for them than he has time to handle—or just the other way around. And too many feelings are hurt that way.

On the other hand, you may acquire a reputation as a constant apple-polisher. Your friends will begin to take your sugaring with just a grain of salt, and your word and your opinions won't count for much. You'll be classed as a light talker—"fun to listen to but don't believe a word she says"—because you can't get away with telling the same story too often. Your friends will mark you down on their strictly nonessential list.

It's a good policy to try to be pleasant with every one as long as you stick to the truth—and as long as you don't get so tangled up in your own good line that you're fit to be tied with it!

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

WAC corporal Elsie Livesay, laboratory technician since June in the station hospital at Fort Benjamin Harrison near Indianapolis, Ind., represented the women's army corps at the convention of the Cleveland Society of Medical Technicians, which was held last week.

The WAVES, SPARs, and women's reserve of the marine corps also were represented, and each of the service women gave a brief talk on her experiences as a medical technician.

Corp. Livesay also compared her present job to her pre-war experiences as a Red Cross nurses' aide in Ravenswood hospital. The daughter of Mrs. Anna R. Sussin, she enlisted in the WAC last February, had her basic training at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and later attended the administration school at Denton, Tex. Besides her mother, she has three brothers and a sister, all living in Chicago. One brother, Max Sussin, was a flyer in World War I.

The semi-annual all-day session of the Illinois war council, women's division, to be held on Thursday at the Palmer House, will include discussion of food and nutrition, nurses and WACs, day nurseries and education.

Mrs. Frederic W. Upham and Mrs. Bernice T. Van Der Vries, co-chairmen, have invited the division's nine regional representatives, the 27 vice chairman, and all district and county activities chairmen.

At the morning session, beginning at 10 a. m., the speakers will be Ferre C. Watkins, executive officer for Gov. Dwight H. Green in the current WAC recruiting campaign; Capt. Stuart G. Dunlop of the quartermaster corps subsistence research laboratory; John F. Curtis, executive secretary, Illinois Restaurant association; G. L. Jordan, professor of agricultural economics, University of Illinois; Lester J. Norris, food director, Illinois war council, and Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy, co-chairman, nurse recruitment, American Red Cross.

Frank Bane, executive director, council of state governments, will be the 12:30 p. m. luncheon speaker.

In the afternoon, starting at 1:30 p. m., talks will be followed by discussions. The speakers will include Miss Lucia Briggs, president of Milwaukee-Downer college, Milwaukee, Wis.; Mrs. Kathryn Van Aken Burns, chairman, Illinois state nutrition committee, and Miss Edna Zimmerman, superintendent of child welfare, state department of public welfare.

Two young women who, as girls, played in adjoining back yards in Geneva, Ill., recently went independently to the WAVES "streamlined" recruiting office, room 300, Board of Trade building, and met there for the first time in several years.

While recalling their days of double-dating and high school proms in Geneva, Miss Viola Carrie Schenck and Miss Shirley Estabrook Gass went thru recruitment processing and were sworn into the navy together. They will leave with the same detachment on Nov. 4 for the WAVES indoctrination school at Hunter college, New York, where they will have the rank of apprentice seaman.

The same motive prompted both young women to join the service. A mutual friend, a young American fighter, has been reported missing in action, and Viola and Shirley, the one in St. Charles and the other in Chicago, heard about him and decided to join the navy.

Miss Schenck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Schenck, now lives in St. Charles. Before enlisting, she worked as an assistant bookkeeper in the post exchange at Camp Blanding, Fla.

Miss Gass, the daughter of Mrs. Preston Gass, 2343 Geneva terrace, worked her way thru college. She obtained a B. A. degree in psychology this year from the University of Illinois. Her civilian position is that of junior clerk with the federal deposit insurance corporation, office of the alien property custodian. Miss Gass's brother, formerly a mural artist with the Museum of Science and Industry, is a corporal with the army in India.

Efrem Kurtz to Conduct Kansas City Orchestra

Efrem Kurtz, who conducted the Chicago symphony orchestra at Ravinia last summer and also was its guest conductor earlier in the year, has accepted an offer to direct the Kansas City Philharmonic orchestra for the winter season, according to an Associated Press dispatch yesterday. Kurtz, whose brother Edmund is first cellist of the Chicago symphony, is a native of St. Petersburg, Russia, and is now an American citizen. He was former conductor for the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo. At Kansas City he will succeed Karl Krueger, who now directs the Detroit orchestra.

Ballet Closes; Reaps $69,000 at Box Office

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

The Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo ended its most prosperous Chicago engagement at the Civic Opera house last night, with a record of $69,000 at the box office for 13 performances, six of them sold out. It was a season of assorted jewels, some precious, some semi-so, and some not so much dubious as just plain fake, but the crowning glory of it all, the one high and unflawed moment of balletic perfection came in the "Pas de Deux Classique," danced by Alexandra Danilova and Igor Youskevitch for audiences that thronged the house Saturday night.

This was dancing in the imperishable and almost unattainable tradition, of such effortless beauty, such scintillant grace, and such breathtaking brilliance that it evoked, as such dancing must, a dream world that vanished with the falling curtain. But it lives in memory, as Pavlowa lives, and as we remember the gauzy nights when Markova is perfection. None who saw it will forget Danilova's queenly loveliness, quivering like a living flame in that vivid ballet dress, or Youskevitch's cavalier distinction, steel under velvet, magnificently musical.

This was the citadel of ballet, but the week-end held other, less heady charms. There were crackling farewell performances of "Rodeo," with Franklin and Etheridge gay as a bucking broncho, and, tho his name was not on the program, that handsome fellow restoring pungency to the role of the ranch foreman was Pvt. Casimir Kokitch, Danilova's husband, making a couple of guest appearances on furlough. There was an improved performance of "Etude," and now I'm not sure whether the dancers are supposed to be stylized Greek warriors or herald angels—you see so few angels nowadays it's hard to recognize them without their wings. Maria Tallchief was something of a sensation in the last "Chopin Concerto," dancing with a creamy line rivaled by Rachel Chapman's best performance to date of the piano part from the pit. And I finally caught up with "The Cuckold's Fair," that elusive afterpiece, and will write about it later.

Meanwhile, a nonballetic excursion to Kimball hall yesterday paid rewarding dividends when Naomi Watson, Negro contralto, sang an exceptionally promising recital. Miss Watson has things to learn about supporting the vocal line and enunciating the musical phrase, but she possesses qualities without which study is useless—she has a beautiful voice, a rare gift of emotional focus, and that indefinable, invaluable magnetism that makes people listen. An intelligent singer, she is unmistakably aiming at the top rank of achievement, and it wouldn't surprise me in the least to see her get there. Not after her superb singing of "Were you there when they crucified my Lord?" which was everything that sensitive, compassionate, and communicative performance should be. Edgar Nelson recognized all these qualities in ideal accompaniments.

Looking at Hollywood

—By Hedda Hopper—

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 24.—Fred MacMurray's last picture at Paramount will be "Girls' Town," with Veronica Lake. No wonder he wants to freelance. He's making too many pictures. . . . In talking with Ronald Colman, I asked to what he attributed his 23 years as a star. He said, "Well, my first—'White Sister,' with Lillian Gish—went over. Then I was lucky enough to sign with Samuel Goldwyn, who selects all his stories carefully. After being under contract about 10 years, I was able to put away enough money so that I could freelance, and pick and choose, and not take more than two a year. Unless the right part came along, I made only one. In that way," said he, "you don't wear out your welcome and you can stretch a career which normally lasts from 5 to 10 years over a much longer period of time."

Fury Without Fun.

Producer Arnold Pressburger and Jack Oakie are having a dragout battle over Jack's makeup in "It Happened Tomorrow." Jack has made 90 films without makeup, and he'll be darned if he'll put on a goatee and a mustache to play a soothsayer, even tho the scene is laid in 1890. He's still being Jack Oakie and not an actor. . . . Ginny Simms is moanin' low because that cute sailor, Pat Nerney, is somewhere in the South Pacific. Ginny spends all her spare time running a tractor at her valley farm. . . . The reason Producer David Lewis and Paramount parted company is that Lewis wanted complete control of writers, directors, actors and cutting of all his pictures. Even Cecil B. De Mille never asked for that. . . . Eddie Salven, De Mille's assistant since "Union Pacific," directs his first two reeler, "Mississippi Magic," with Johnny Johnston, who did right well with "Black Magic." Then Eddie gets a feature length assignment.

That's Tellin' You.

Jack Benny tells me his overseas trip was a wonderful vacation. "I had fun," he said, "and saw a world I never would have seen in peace time. I went to native villages, visiting places in the Egyptian Sudan, and actually saw people living as they did in the days of Christ. It was the only real rest I've ever had. I didn't have to think. My work in Hollywood is always thinking, with the phone constantly ringing, and I'm asked to make quick decisions. I didn't have to think about anything—not even food—for 10 weeks, nothing except my shows. And if that isn't a rest I never heard of one. The cobwebs are blown right out of my head. Yes, and some hair went with 'em. If actors who can't carry guns don't avail themselves of this opportunity, they should have their heads examined." He covered the same territory that Willkie did, except Russia, China, and India. "But," says he, "I have no desire to write a book."

Rattling Around.

John Steinbeck is back in America, doing New York arm in arm with Jed Harris. . . . Nunnally Johnson and Ludwig Bemelmans played host to Maj. Charles MacArthur and two generals. Charlie was introduced to Acquanetta. Gosh! That dusky beauty sure gets around these nights. . . . When Herman Mankiewicz learned that Charlie was a member of the chemical engineers and concerned with gas, he said, "Mercy! Aren't they afraid he'll drink it?" . . . Alfred Hitchcock is getting the highest price ever paid a director for one picture—$450,000 for his participation in "Lifeboat." But his boss, David Selznick, gets $300,000 of the $450,000. Nice profit. Hitchcock has two more pictures to go before he owns himself.

Leo Purrs.

George Sidney proved all over again in "As Thousands Cheer" that when it comes to making slick, satiny musicals, no one can compete with Metro. You marvel at the beauty and entertainment and the inexhaustible supply of stars, what with Kathryn Grayson, Gene Kelly, Judy Garland, Mickey Rooney, Eleanor Powell, Ann Sothern, Marsha Hunt, Red Skelton, and Lucille Ball. One new screen personality developed was Jose Iturbi. He's by way of being great, and so is the picture. Don Loper and his ballet, which he dressed, directed, and danced, also is a hit. . . . Writer John Grant expects to have only girls in "Hip Hip Hooray." He's writing it from editorials and stories in camp papers. He's going to give soldiers what he thinks they want. O, go on, Grant! There'll be a couple of guys in there somewhere.

A Goodie.

Top marines are giving Twentieth a cheer for "Guadalcanal Diary." It's packed with thrills, chills, and marines. The performances of Bill Bendix and Dick Jaeckel stand out. Dick's just 17. He wouldn't sign for another picture, as he says he wants to be a soda jerker. Reed Hadley, newcomer, is seen little but his voice is heard. He played with John Gielgud in "Hamlet." Pictures turned him down, so he did Red Ryder on the air. Now he has been lent to Paramount for "Rainbow Island," and Twentieth is looking for a good story for him. . . . It takes Marlene Dietrich four hours to don makeup, wig, and costume in "Kismet," but it's worth it. She's got Leo at Metro eating out of her hand. This looks like the start of a big career for her over there.

Good Morning!

I had not expected to be reviewing a comedy this morning, but life is full of surprises.

The late Lon Chaney starred in "Phantom of the Opera" in 1925, and, as I remember, did right mightily by it in horrific fashion. . . . Claude Rains, as the spook who ain't, isn't exactly funny. Indeed he has one memorable, blood-curdling scene—when the acid is flung in his face—and several in which he strikes a deep note of pathos; but these cannot stand up against the ham histrionics of Nelson Eddy or the incredible naiveté of Edgar Barrier, who plays an inspector of the French Sûreté, and Nelson's rival for the hand of sweet blonde Susanna Foster.

The two are supposed to have some amusing settos—but it's their unconscious comedy that wrecks the suspense morale and reduces you to helpless laughter. Never shall I forget Mr. Eddy, in melodramatic crouch, beseeching the orchestra leader, in what might be termed a basso hiss to:

"PLAY, Maestro, PLAY!" You'll die! And the jealous, rolling orbs of Barrier! Somebody ought to bill those boys in a brother act. Serious stuff like "Julius Caesar."

However—Nelson is in excellent voice. Usually I don't care for that either but he does some grand singing in the operatic episodes—which are really delightful. Little Susanna Foster is a find and you'll love Jane Farrar. Supporting players are all tops.

The "phantom" is a musician who, after twenty years, is discharged from the Paris Opera orchestra. . . . Secretly he has been financing the singing lessons of the prima donna's exquisite understudy—his daughter—tho Christine is unaware of the fact or of her benefactor's identity. . . . Claudin's effort to sell a concerto to a rascally producer results in a maiming which makes him a madman and the "phantom" who plans death for all who stand in the way of Christine's success.

His machinations proceed hectically to climax in weird activity down in the catacombs under the ancient opera house in which most of the plot unfolds. . . . Finalé sends the brother act away arm in arm and leaves Christine in love only with her career.

Nice touch I thought.

See you tomorrow.

Mrs. D. W. R., La Grange—I have a family of four growing boys and find that keeping a supply of shoe laces of different lengths and colors on hand it a help. The boys know where they are and many times replace a broken shoe lace without having to ask me to get one for them.

Ellen M., Chicago Heights—I find I get maximum service out of my pillows if I expose them to air frequently, but not to strong sunlight as this dries oil out of feathers. And when I wash pillows and must dry them indoors I use an electric fan to increase circulation of air.

Mrs. Fews S., Chicago—I was called from home suddenly last week—just when I was about to start ironing a pile of dampened napkins and a tablecloth. I rolled these very tightly, put them in refrigerator, and when I returned, after four days, found they were ready to iron—without sign of mildew.

PLEASE—NOW—You Idea!

SYNOPSIS: Lady Hyacinth calls at the office of her husband, Peter Gloam, and demands money for a venture in shipping antiques to America. With her are her two cousins, Joanna Fripp and Cyril Brockett. Wren Dancey is Peter's secretary; Sam Molesey, the bookkeeper, and Harold, the office boy. The office has been bombed. Ronald, now Capt. Warre, calls to see his uncle. Sound of falling bricks is heard in the inner office where Lady Hyacinth and Peter are quarreling. Peter suffers a stroke. During a violent air raid, Lady Hyacinth arranges for removal of furniture, by van, to Dorset. Parker, the cook, on her way to an air raid shelter, is murdered. Mike Riley, one of the van drivers, is the next victim. A bomb has sent Lady Hyacinth to the hospital with a broken leg. She sends Wren to Dorset. Wren is happy to be alone, but her rejoicing is cut short, for Joanna appears. The local constable's body is found near the brush with a service man's button in his hand. Cyril and Molesey arrive, with Groucho, the cat. Groucho leads Wren and Cyril to a gruesome discovery. Police talk to Wren, Joanna, and Ronald, from whose coat a button is missing. Packing cases have been tampered with. Ronald and Wren search the cottage. The inspectors return to question Ronald about the missing button, and then visit Lady Hyacinth, who insists there is nothing of value among her things. The mirror is removed to the shed. Joanna's actions are mysterious. Lem Gallus, on verge of arrest, skips out. Secretly summoned by Ronald, Harold arrives at Foxgloves. While Sam and Cyril show Harold the local sights, Ronald returns to the cottage. The mirror is found to be lighter.

INSTALMENT XXXI.

SEARCH FOR HAROLD.

"Under the first big lilac bush. . . . Ronald! It's gone."

"Get up to the car," he said grimly. "We're going to hunt Harold right now."

The Morris took the treacherous turnings with such speed that brambles tore at the windscreen and a sudden braking hurled Wren from her seat. Cyril frigidly reminding them that this was only a third-class road.

"One might even inquire, Warre, what you're doing on it at all."

"Meaning why I didn't make Sidmouth? Engine-trouble. I wasn't keen on getting stranded half way. Now I learn that young ruffian Harold has honored us with a visit. Where have you two parked him?"

"On my bed," Cyril snapped. "Not to mince matters, your office-boy has been revoltingly unwell."

Over his shoulder Wren said, "So Harold came back for his bike?"

"That's right, it was a borrowed bike, he said he'd feel happier keeping it under his eye."

"That will mean," Cyril said bitterly, "he will perforce have to share my execrable couch. Yours, Molesey, won't accommodate two."

Wren glanced at Ronald, but his granite profile held her smothered laughter in check. Her vague discomfort returned and when the car stopped brusquely at the cobbled yard of the inn she was first out.

"London lad, by his talk. Arsked I which way for Barmouth, not five minutes agone."

"I don't believe it," Cyril declared. "It's fantastic, in this state. I for my part shall take a thoro look around."

They all did; but Harold wasn't there. Returned to Sam's bedroom they stood eyeing the tumbled sheets, Cyril with manifest relief.

"Not a bad lad, that Harold," Molesey observed. "Kept saying how his mother'd get worrying if he wasn't back soon. She will have it he got a touch of the sun yesterday down on that beach."

The landlord appeared. "He did clear off, did he? Now I wonder if the lady seed him. She come in not many minutes ago, asking for you gentlemen."

Cyril froze. "Lady? What lady?"

Clapp, Licensee, was vague. She'd given no name. "Medium dark, she was. Had on a dark sort of costume . . . Is this gentleman come over queer?"

"It's nothing. Just for a tick I did feel . . . Can't be young Harold's complaint," Sam tittered. "I've been off my feed today, so —" Sweat suddenly bedewed his working jaw.

"It's the beer," Cyril said dogmatically. "I warned you— —"

"Not the beer, Mr. Brockett. Couldn't be, seeing I've not touched any since . . . Nor tea, even, barring the cup I had at Foxgloves when Harold was having his."

"Tea!" Cyril snorted. "I'll come back with you two. There's Joanna. I'll stroll along with her."

Joanna had risen up from a stile. It was she——who else?——who had called in at the pub.

"And here she is," Wren gritted, waylaying her precious cousin. "She's had all morning to work up her story. It ought to be swell."

"Why worry?" Ronald shrugged. "She won't seriously pal up with Brockett. As I see this game, it's every man for himself."

"Game! But Ronald, if the stuff's gone?"

Her pulse beat faster. "You mean if they can't pin things on Lem? I see, you think Jo's scared. She wants Cyril's help towards framing you and me. She'll get it, too."

Wren ran on, thinking aloud, "Funny Harold and Sam being sick. That was Cyril's liver-salts, wasn't it? Incidentally, this is practically the first moment Cyril's managed to shelve his constant bodyguard . . . Sam's seen something, you know. He's got his eye on Cyril and on me and Joanna and, I expect, on you. Tell me: Just now, when Cyril did that bolt into his room, what did you hear?"

"He closed the window. Latched it."

"Yes, and when he came out he locked his door. Between times he was pulling out drawers, tilting that petrol can. Sam's not to get a peep inside that other bedroom, that's sure . . . Well, we're here. Aren't we getting out?"

From one of the car-pockets Ronald drew a folded newspaper. His forefinger marked five lines of print inconspicuously sandwiched between minor sections of war news. Wren read:

It is now definitely established that Elsie Parker, domestic servant, 36, whose body was recovered from a Kensington mews subsequent to the raid of May 10th, was the victim of foul play. Parker, who was unmarried, received injuries to both head and throat. Nothing further is yet known.

Wren's lips moved stiffly.

"Parker," she whispered. "Parker. She started for her shelter. I heard her go . . ."

"She never got to her shelter," Ronald said woodenly. "She was done in on the way. I can tell you just where. I rang up Auberley Court and Hyacinth's porter gave me few details. Parker used to take a short cut thru the very mews where your flat was situated. The body was seen by a policeman, lying at the bottom of the largest bomb-crater."

"Injuries to head and . . ."

Meat to be used in a loaf needn't be of fine quality, because grinding will break up the connective tissue and make the meat tender. A little meat can be extended with bread crumbs, mashed or baked potato, oatmeal, cornmeal mush, or dry cereal to make it seem like more. If the seasonings are right, the family won't feel that you are trying to put something over on them.

Fluffy Meat Loaf.

1 pound ground beef chuck
½ pound pork sausage or ground fresh pork
2 cups stale bread crumbs
1 egg, beaten
1¼ cups milk
2 small onions, finely chopped
4 sprigs parsley, chopped
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
⅛ teaspoon sage
1 teaspoon salt [more if fresh pork is used]
¼ teaspoon black pepper

Mix ingredients, pack into loaf pan and bake at 350 degrees 1½ hours.

There are nonmeat loaves which taste as tho they have meat in them and serve the same purpose in the diet, because they contain protein-rich nuts.

Rice and Nut Loaf.

1 cup chopped walnuts
1½ cups cooked rice
1 cup strained tomatoes
2 onions, chopped fine
1 cup cracker crumbs
½ teaspoon sage
1 egg, beaten
½ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika

Peanut and Vegetable Loaf.

1 cup ground raw carrots
1 cup cooked green beans, cut in pieces
½ cup chopped celery
1 small onion, minced
1 cup canned or cooked tomatoes
½ cup ground or chopped peanuts
1 cup cooked rice
1 egg, beaten slightly
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Combine ingredients, pack into greased loaf pan and bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour. Bacon strips may be laid across the top of the loaf for baking.

Cheese and Bean Loaf.

1 cup cooked navy beans
1 cup cottage cheese
½ cup chopped peanuts
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 cup cooked rice or mashed potatoes
1 small onion, minced
¼ cup chopped parsley
1 tablespoon bacon or ham drippings
1 cup tomatoes
Salt, pepper

Mix ingredients, shape into a roll and brush over with more drippings. Bake in greased pan at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

Soy beans, as well as navy beans, may be made into a meatlike loaf, rich in protein and the B vitamins.

Soy Bean Loaf.

3 cups cooked soy beans
1 cup bread crumbs
1 large onion, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
1 tablespoon vinegar
2 eggs, slightly beaten
3 tablespoons bacon drippings or oil
1 cup milk or tomato juice
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

TODAY'S $5 PRIZE RECIPE

Eggplant Meat Loaf.

1 medium size eggplant
1 pound ground beef
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 tablespoon chopped celery leaves
1 cup dry bread crumbs
2 eggs
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup flour
1 can tomato soup

Chop eggplant and mix with other ingredients except soup. Add half the can of soup and shape into a loaf. Add an equal amount of water to remaining soup and pour over loaf. If desired, cover loaf with bacon strips or chopped suet. Bake uncovered in a moderate [350 degrees] oven for 1½ hours.

Two Aprons in One Design

SIZES 10 To 40

Two aprons in one are the achievement of this pattern. The design creates, first, a one piece apron frock, and then, by means of a button on the bodice, attaches a diminutive top apron thereto. This ingenious pattern is a household standby.

Style No. 3623 is designed for sizes 10 to 20, 36 to 40. Size 36 requires 3⅝ yards of 35 inch material with 2¾ yards of braid for the dress; 1⅝ yards of 35 inch material with 1 yard of braid for the apron.

Order Clotilde patterns from Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Annex, NEW YORK CITY. Print name and address; state size. Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing. The pattern book is 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with pattern.

Baby Buggies for 2 Families Asked by Sally

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

A social agency on the north side has forwarded the following two requests:

"Would it be possible for you to obtain a baby carriage for a mother who has two small children? There has been a great deal of sickness in the family, and as a consequence, they are now in debt. The father recently located excellent employment but is to be inducted in the near future, and at the present time, all of his salary is devoted to actual needs and payments on indebtedness. The mother has been frail and ill, and physicians advise that both she and the children be out-of-doors as much as possible.

"Another request is for a radio for the widowed mother of three children. The oldest boy is in the army and provides the family with an allowance, but it is barely sufficient for their actual needs. The mother and two children, 13 and 15, live in a two and one-half room apartment, which is most crowded and uncomfortable. It is difficult for her to keep the youngsters at home as much as they should be, and she feels that a radio would be helpful in this case."

"Dear Miss Brown:

"I am very much in need of a buggy for my 14 month old child. My husband is in service, and I find it impossible to purchase a new buggy, and at the present time, it is financially impossible for me to even purchase a second-hand one. The buggy need not be a modern one, as long as it is not in need of a great deal of repair, since I could not afford such work. A wicker or a canvas stroller would be welcome.

"I have been able to take her out very little, and I feel that her health would improve if she could be outdoors at least a part of the time."

Adults Should Refrain from Teasing Child

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Little children believe what a grownup says to them. They can't differentiate fact and fiction, and can only accept things at their face value. Therefore, it's unfair—often cruel—to tease a little child, especially if you are a stranger.

"Coming down on the train the other day," said a friend of mine, "a mother and her 3½ year old daughter sat near me. She was a sweet youngster and she played and sang and asked questions galore. After a while she wanted a drink of water. I heard her say, 'I don't want to walk in the train, Mummy. I'll wait right here and you get it for me.'

"The train was crowded and it took time to reach the water cooler and to await your turn. The youngster waited a few minutes, then stood up in the seat and faced the back of the coach.

"'Hello, young lady,' said a man in the seat directly behind the child's. 'Would you like me to come and sit with you?'

"The startled fear in the child's face was painful to see, and by the time her mother arrived she was screaming at an hysterical pitch.

"The man was profuse in his apologies. He said he hadn't meant to frighten the child, and I think he was sincere in what he said. He was only teasing and never dreamed she would take his words seriously."

Why an adult would tease a child in this way is difficult to analyze. Teasing is an adult weapon with which children are unable to cope, especially little ones who are so trustful.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY

An Office on the Bus.

For I could slay the cuss
Who spreads himself and daily makes
His office on the bus.

And starts to paw thru paper piles

And scribbles notes, and jars my ribs
Some day I'll slay the lout who makes

ERICSSON THE KOKOMO TAILOR.

Amen.

I, for some time, have wished I could start such a class. I am a secretary with a nationally known implement company and in my eight years' experience I have taken dictation from many men. Not more than 20 per cent of them could be classified as good dictators; as a matter of fact, the majority of them do not know the fundamentals of grammar.

One man for whom I worked used "is" for "are," "have saw" for "have seen," left phrases dangling in the air, and lacked tact and diplomacy in dealing with customers and business associates. Taking pride in the letters that go out with my initials on them, I set out to revise each letter before transcribing it—no small job, as we handle a large volume of mail. I sometimes wonder if he recognized the letters as those he had written, but evidently he was satisfied with the finished product because he read them over [looking well pleased with himself], signed them and sent them out.

The next time I am in the market for a position I believe I shall do the interviewing and give prospective employers the acid test by asking them to "dictate a letter, please!" DOTTY.

Motto.

Knowledge is proud that he has learn'd so much;
Wisdom is humble that he knows no more. J. F.

Feminine Firsts.

The first woman librarian at the Field museum was Elsie Lippincott, who served from 1900 to 1930. . . . Amelia Earhart, the first woman to fly the Atlantic, was a nurse's aid in the last war. . . . The only woman member of the National Amateur Athletic federation was Mrs. Herbert Hoover, who called a conference in 1924 to initiate a nation-wide health, fitness, and morale program for the American girl. . . . That Indian woman judge is not at Menomonie, Mich., but on the Menomonee reservation in Wisconsin. Her name is Mrs. Rhoda House. She is co-judge with Edward Brisk of the Menomonee tribe. . . . There is a woman judge at Menomonie, Mich., who also qualifies as a feminine first—Judge Katherine Stiles Laughton—the first managing editor of a daily newspaper in the United States, the first Michigan woman to serve as arbitrator on the Michigan industrial compensation board and the first upper peninsula of Michigan woman to be elected judge of probate and juvenile courts.

Miss Kauffman Is Married to Ensign Rankin

In the Highland Park Presbyterian church Miss Elaine Doris Kauffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kauffman of Highland Park, and Ensign Leslie Alexander Rankin Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Rankin of Highland Park, were married at 4:30 p. m. yesterday. Miss Kauffman's attendants were Miss Barbara Cole as maid of honor and Miss Cornelia Carrier and Ensign Rankin's sister, Mrs. Forrest Keach, as bridesmaids. Two young cousins of the bride, Jeanne Engelbrecht and Mary Ann Knauf, were junior bridesmaids. In the absence of the bridegroom's brother, James, who is serving with the navy in Africa, Mr. Keach substituted as best man. Ensign Rankin and his bride will go to Pensacola, Fla., where he is a naval air corps instructor. They both attended Northwestern university.

The marriage of Miss Edith Patricia Locke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell Locke of Oak Park, to Lt. Arthur Hurlbut Tichenor Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tichenor of St. Louis, Mo., took place last Saturday in Grace Episcopal church in Oak Park. Lt. Tichenor and his bride both were graduated from Lawrence college. He took his master's degree at the University of California at Berkeley and was about to receive his doctor of philosophy degree when he entered the army. He is stationed at Camp Crowder, Mo., and he and his bride will live in Carthage, Mo.

The marriage of Miss Rosemary Hughes to Ensign Ivan Dalton Thunder, U. S. naval reserve, took place at 9:30 a. m. Saturday in St. Gertrude's church. Later the bride's mother, Mrs. Luella Quan Hughes of Rogers Park, gave a wedding breakfast at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Miss Hughes was attended by her sister, Constance. Ensign Thunder is a son of James A. Thunder of San Francisco and Chicago. Jack Hughes came from Chanute field, Ill., to give his sister in marriage. Also here for the wedding was Ensign Thunder's sister, Mrs. Mason Frier of Louisville, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Ainsworth W. Clark of the South Shore Country club and Westville, Ind., announce the marriage last Saturday of their daughter, Ruth, to Arthur L. Gants Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gants of Champlain avenue. The ceremony took place in Thorndike Hilton Memorial chapel, the Rev. Charles W. Gilkey officiating, and a reception followed at the club. The bridegroom returned last week from Trinidad, where he has been serving with the naval reserve. After a short leave he will return there. His bride will remain in Chicago.

Music Sorority Gives Annual Party Tonight

Omicron Gamma alumnae of the Sigma Alpha Iota music sorority will give their annual party for Chicago active chapters and prospective members at 8 o'clock tonight at the woman's City club in the Fine Arts building, 410 South Michigan avenue. Josephine Antoine, Metropolitan opera soprano and honorary member of the fraternity, will sing, and sharing the program with her will be Esther Hart, singer and also on honorary member. The national president, Kathleen Davidson, will be among the special guests, and Grace Muhs Kirschbaum will be the mistress of ceremonies. Louella de Windt is president of the hostess group.

Chicago Hadassah Sends Delegates to Convention

Mrs. James H. Olshan, president of Chicago chapter of Hadassah, heads a Chicago delegation to the 29th annual national convention, which opens today and continues thru Thursday at the Henry Hudson hotel in New York. Central officers and district presidents comprise the group accompanying Mrs. Olshan. The assembly will focus attention on plans for the rescue of Jews in Europe, on the organization's war emergency health program, and the rehabilitation of Palestine.

Becoming Crocheted Hat

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Here is a delightfully becoming crocheted hat created in single crochet and the attractive shell stitch. It may be worn low on the back of the head or perched on top in the approved Cossack manner. Soft, Shetland wool is the material in which this hat is most effective, and it requires only a few hours to make.

For instructions in crocheting the shell stitch cap, No. 1071, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

Oftentimes a declarer must choose between two lines of play that appear to have equal chances for success. Unless he "knows his percentages" he may select the plan that actually is far inferior to the other. For example:

North, dealer.

NORTH
♥ A K 8 7 5
♦ J 5

WEST
♠ 8 7 6
♥ J 4
♦ Q 10 7 3

EAST
♠ 5
♥ Q 10 9 2
♦ 9 8 6

SOUTH
♠ K Q 10 9 4
♥ 6 3
♦ A K 4 2
♣ A 8

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 heart	Pass	2 spades	Pass
4 spades	Pass	4 no trump*	Pass
5 hearts	Pass	5 no trump	Pass
6 hearts	Pass	6 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

The six no trump contract was by no means ideal—seven spades would have been a far better venture. However, since this was match-point duplicate, and since South conservatively chose to stop at the small slam level, it was logical to end up in no trump rather than a suit contract so as to outscore other North-South teams that might be satisfied with six spades.

Unfortunately, South's playing skill was not equal to the task imposed upon it by the lack of a trump suit, and he met defeat. West opened the club 10. Declarer won in his own hand and cashed five spade tricks, no doubt hoping that the opponents would discard a few hearts. They were unobliging, however. Both East and West concluded that club tricks were out of the question for their side, hence they confined their discarding to that suit. Now declarer, obviously pinning his faith to a 3-3 break of the outstanding hearts, led a heart and ducked in dummy. His plan was doomed, however, by reason of East's holding four hearts. The fulfilling trick could not be established in that suit and consequently declarer made nothing but his 11 top tricks.

From the very first trick it should have been apparent that there were only two chances to establish the necessary 12th trick. It could come either from a good break in hearts or—and apparently declarer gave no thought to this line—a favorable position of the diamond queen. If the queen lay to declarer's left, in front of the jack, it would be the easiest thing in the world to lead a low diamond toward dummy. The jack would win on the spot if West ducked, or would become the fulfilling trick if West put up the queen.

The comparison of these two lines of play should have been made on a purely mathematical basis. The odds are 2 to 1 against the six missing cards of a suit [hearts, in this case] breaking 3-3, whereas there is an exactly 50-50 chance that a given card [in this case the diamond queen] lies where declarer wants it to lie.

2,000 in Audience Hear Negro Choir on Anniversary

Edith Mason, the opera star, and Postmaster Ernest Kruetgen were among the 2,000 persons last night who attended the 23d anniversary of the Sunday night song service at Metropolitan Community church, 41st street and South Park way.

A number of soldiers, sailors, and marines were in the audience which heard J. Wesley Jones, director of the Negro Festival chorus of 1,000 voices at the Chicago Music Festivals, lead a robed choir of 200 thru an impressive program. Dr. Joseph M. Evans, pastor of the church, was in charge of the service.

Norwegian Lutherans Mark Their Centenary

Twenty-two hundred Lutherans of Norwegian descent met yesterday afternoon at Carl Schurz High school auditorium to commemorate the founding of the first Norwegian Lutheran church in America. The principal speaker, the Rev. Dr. George Aus of Luther seminary, St. Paul, Minn., spoke on "Who Follow in Their Train," the hymn dedicated to St. Stephen. The Norwegian church has grown in the century to a body of 350,000 members in 3,000 affiliated churches. Dr. Martin Anderson of Oak Park, president of the Eastern district of the church, introduced Dr. Aus, and the general chairman was the Rev. Lars O. Anderson, pastor of Trinity church, Evanston. A chorus of 2,000 voices sang under direction of the Rev. Alvin Snesrud.

Black Velvet Hostess Gowns Quite the Thing

BY REA SEEGER.

Super-flattering black velvet hostess gowns and robes steal the spotlight turned on the current showing of fall and winter lounging costumes. Every woman knows the perpetual allure of black—which has double the allure if the black is shimmering velvet. These new creations are completely devastating, picture perfect models for informal wear around the house with some smooth enough to double for distinctive dinner costumes.

One black and white beauty is of black velvet dramatized with very effective embroidery, the large pattern cut out resembling embroidery Anglaise. It is used around the hem, around the square outline yoke, and for the cuffs of the short sleeves. The skirt of the gown is softly shirred in a modified dirndl effect. It's young, artless, and picturesque, and could be used for a party frock without any qualms. It's a natural for any honey blonde or a coppertop.

Another find is the hostess gown of long gracious lines with frosting provided by exquisite jabot frills of fine Battenberg lace. A third has a fringe around the high yoke of black tipped white ermine tails. This last is a most luxurious combination that doesn't appreciably raise the cost of the model. Such costumes are decorative flattery as tea and hostess gowns and for Sunday night suppers at home.

Less dress parade, are the stunning quilted and padded house robes or coats of this coal black velvet. Sleeves are long and fitted, there's a tie belt sash at the side, and the skirt not only flares with a flourish, but wraps almost double over the front panel. Interior decoration is the vivid floral printed satin, gay colors of the flowers sprinkled over a shiny black background. Other linings of plain materials and solid colors are also available.

War Time Food Programs Will Be Given in 3 Areas

The consumer information service of the office of civilian defense, in coöperation with the Commonwealth Edison company, this week will present war time food programs at three of the Edison neighborhood stores. The first of the sessions, which are free of charge, is scheduled for 2 p. m. tomorrow, with others to follow at the same hour on Wednesday and Thursday. The programs, which will include demonstrations, will be given at 852 West 63d street, 4833 Irving Park road, and 4231 Madison street.

TED OWEN, veteran trainer of the Oklahoma football squad, is promoting a one man campaign for elimination of the kick-off and runbacks of punts. . . . Those two maneuvers, thinks Teddy, are responsible for 50 per cent of the major injuries on college gridirons. . . . Neville Dunn, publisher and president of the Thorobred Record, predicts that trans-Atlantic planes will haul race horses from the United States to Europe and vice versa, after the war. . . . Bucko McDonald, ace defense man of the Toronto Maple Leafs, is prepared for anything in the line of body contact hockey may have to offer this winter. . . . He spent the summer playing lacrosse, roughest, toughest game in the whole sports category. . . . Frankie Sinkwich of the Lions is working in a Detroit defense plant between Sundays. . . . And Harry Stuhldreher "a magnificent machine with perfect coördination on offense and defense, Angelo Bertelli is the ideal quarter back." . . .

The Life That Counts.

I'll never pass this way again,
But should I brighten some one's day
And have him trust me to the end,
And when I'm gone for him to say
"I miss that man; he was a friend,"
I'd not have lived in vain.

I'll never pass this way again,
But should I gladden some one's heart
And help a comrade bear his load,
To feel that I have done my part
To smoothe the rugged, lonesome road,
I'd not have lived in vain.

I'll never pass this way again,
But should I give the Lord my best,
In spite of conflicts lost and won,
I shall be satisfied and blest
To hear my Master say "Well done,"
I'd not have lived in vain.

The Mustangs of St. Rita upset the Leo Lions, defending Catholic High School league football champions, 12 to 6, yesterday, in Comiskey Park in the annual Sisters of Mercy charity game before 22,000.

The defeat ended Leo's monopoly on the Catholic league title after the Lions had won three straight championships and six in eight years. It was also the first defeat suffered by Leo since November, 1940, and the first in league competition since 1939, as well as its first in eight starts in the charity series. Thus the Lions are eliminated from any title consideration because of this defeat and their tie with Mount Carmel last week.

Mustangs Tie Score.

The victory was the third in four South section games for St. Rita and fifth in six games. The only defeat suffered by the Mustangs was a 13 to 7 setback at the hands of Mount Carmel two weeks ago.

After Leo had scored in the first quarter, the Mustangs marched down the field for a touchdown on the opening second half kickoff. Benedict Zilis returned Neil Dauphinee's kickoff to the St. Rita's 39 after a gain of 3 yards. Don Doody broke loose for 22 yards around left end for a first down on the Leo 39.

Doody Goes Over.

Doody picked up 13 yards and a first down on the Leo 26 in two tries. After Doody made 1 and Zilis 2, Zilis passed 22 yards to Frank Kosik on the Leo 1 yard line, where he was downed by Bob Kozlowski. Doody punched the line twice before going over for the winning touchdown. It was his eighth touchdown in four league games. A pass, Don Benoit to Doody, for the extra point failed.

Dauphinee was a tower of strength on defense for Leo while Bobby Barry's passing was its major offensive threat. He completed 12. Capt. Warren Jones and Zilis sparked the Mustangs to their second victory over the Lions in 14 attempts. Four of the games ended in ties. Ken Shuster and Jim O'Donnell were standouts on defense for the Mustangs.

Lions Score Early.

The Lions marched to a touchdown to open the game. Barry fumbled Benoit's kickoff and Kozlowski picked it up and returned it to the Leo 31. Dauphinee's fourth down kick was partially blocked by Kosik and Jim Ward recovered for Leo on the St. Rita 46. Barry made 5 in two tries and then passed to Capt. Bob Walsh on the 30 and he was downed on the 26. On third down Barry, back to pass, decided to run and was brought down on the St. Rita 9 by Doody.

Three line plays picked up seven yards and Barry passed to Ray O'Donnell in the end zone for a touchdown. Dauphinee's try for the extra point was wide.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 24 [Special].—Riddling Detroit's defense with 21 completed passes, the Green Bay Packers kept very much in the race for the National Football league title today by defeating the Lions, 27 to 6, before 41,463 fans in Briggs stadium.

The Packers gained 326 yards by passing with their brightest rookie, Irving Comp from St. Benedict college, as the chief bomber of the day. Comp completed 14 of 18 passes which netted 201 yards, one of his tosses being to Don Hutson for a touchdown.

Hutson was one of the biggest scoring figures of the day. Besides that one touchdown in the second period, the lanky end kicked a 21 yard field goal and booted 3 points after touchdowns.

Brock Scores Twice.

The other Packer touchdowns came in the third and fourth periods on short smashes by Lou Brock. Completing the Green Bay scoring was a 32 yard field goal by Tackle Chet Adams in the first period.

Thru the first half this was a give-and-take scrap which saw the lead change hands twice. The Packers struck first with a field goal by Adams barely four minutes after the game started.

Green Bay got this chance when Charley Brock intercepted Charley Fenenbock's pass and returned it 41 yards to the Detroit 16. The Lions tightened their defense and after three plays had forced Green Bay to the 23, Adams went back and booted his field goal.

The Packers didn't hold this lead even thru the first period. The Lions rushed back with a 38 yard touchdown drive which was climaxed by Frankie Sinkwich's 4 yard scoring pass to Ned Mathews.

Comp Leads Scoring Drive.

In the second period Comp arrived on the scene and sparked an 80 yard touchdown march. On this drive Comp completed seven of eight passes which netted 69 yards. It was his 16 yard aerial to Don Hutson which scored the touchdown and Hutson added the point.

129,284 Watch Four Pro Games; 42,681 Top Crowd

Four games in the National Football league yesterday attracted 129,284 fans with the top crowd of 42,681 watching the New York Giants wallop the Phil-Pitt Eagles, 42 to 14, in the Polo Grounds.

In Washington, where it's a sellout almost every Sunday, 35,540 watched the Redskins prevail, 13 to 7, over the Chicago Cardinals' stubborn challenge. In Detroit's Briggs stadium, 41,463 saw the Green Bay Packers whip the Lions, 27 to 6.

Rain held down the attendance in Chicago, only 9,600 seeing the Bears win over the Brooklyn Dodgers, 33 to 21.

Great Lakes Wins, 41 to 7, at Marquette

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 24.—Great Lakes' Bluejackets this afternoon packed the punch they didn't have eight days ago in Northwestern's Dyche stadium. With the sailor varsity playing only in the first and third periods, in which the regulars scored four times, Great Lakes walloped an undermanned Marquette squad, 41 to 7.

Great Lakes' victory was founded on a sturdy ground attack which piled up 313 yards, to which 75 yards were added on four completed forward passes. There was no question of the outcome after the first Great Lakes scoring drive, and the invaders, keyed by the defeat at Northwestern, completely ruined Marquette's homecoming, which was attended by 15,000, including the entire personnel of the navy units stationed here at the university.

Marquette Line Weakened.

Paul Copoulos, John Rudan, Harold Eigener, and other Marquette ball carriers were handicapped by an ineffective line from which two regulars had been removed last week by transfer to the Iowa Preflight school.

On the other hand, Great Lakes' runners had ample blocking and wrote some fancy individual statistics. Emil Sitko, for example, gained 103 yards in 13 trips with the ball while Ray Jones, relief man for Steve Lach, got 45 yards in the seven times he carried.

Great Lakes' varsity took the opening Marquette kickoff, and despite two 15 yard penalties for holding, went from its own 28 yard line to the Hilltoppers' goal. The Bluejackets put together a series of four first downs by rushing but required 17 plays to score because of the penalties.

Sitko Sparks Attack.

Lach, Dewey Proctor, and Sitko, who was the starting right half back today instead of Steve Juzwik, were the sailor ball carriers. Lach and Proctor punched out a first down on Great Lakes' 43 and then Sitko took over the attack and went to midfield before Great Lakes was assessed its first penalty for holding. A pass from Lach to Joe Schwarting for 15 yards wiped out part of this deficit and finally Sitko swung wide around Marquette's right end for a first down on Marquette's 22.

Lach's pass failed but the former Duke star made 8 yards in two rushes. On fourth down, Lach went back to pass but found no receiver and then sprinted around Marquette's left side to the 3. Proctor plunged for the touchdown. Paul Rogers missed the attempt for the point.

Great Lakes was stopped on its next drive but added a second touchdown immediately afterward. Rudan's quick kick went out of bounds at midfield. Jones, who had relieved Lach, made 8 yards at the vulnerable left tackle position and Sitko ran the same hole for a first down on Marquette's 29.

Great Lakes Leads, 13-0.

Jones plunged for 4 and then Juzwik, replacing Sitko, hit inside

Baugh Does It Again; 35,540 See Thriller

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 [Special].—With two minutes and a few fleeting seconds to play in the fourth period here this afternoon before 35,540 spectators, the Chicago Cardinals sought victory thru the air against the Washington Redskins. The thrust failed as Wilbur Moore intercepted Walter Masters' pass from the 19 yard line on his own 10, ran it 48 yards down the field and by virtue of this defensive gem the Redskins, undefeated in championship competition, triumphed, 13 to 7.

Most of the thrills were jammed into the second half of the game. The Redskins scored twice in the third period, driving for their first touchdown in four plays after the kickoff. The drive opened with a punt return of 81 yards by Andy Farkas. Then Sam Baugh passed to Joe Aguirre from the 11 yard line for the touchdown.

Score Again on 70 Yard Drive.

The Redskins scored soon again in the third, driving 70 yards after a Cardinal punt, with Farkas bucking thru the center as Baugh, faking artistically, faded back as if to pass.

The Cardinals came back in the fourth quarter, driving 94 yards in a finely coöordinated attack after Baugh had quick-kicked 60 yards to the Chicago 6 yard line. Ed Rucinski made a splendid catch of Masters' forward pass for the score.

After the kickoff that followed Rucinski's catch, the Cards took the ball on downs near midfield and soon were thundering at the Redskins' goal line again. By pass and run and plunge they moved to the 19 yard line, and on fourth down with 6 to go, had only one recourse. They went overhead and Moore, diagnosing the play, faded swiftly and made his saving interception.

BY EDWARD PRELL.

In Wrigley field's dismal setting yesterday afternoon two mud-smeared teams left the gridiron with no complaints.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who had failed to score a point in four National Football league games, not only made their first touchdown, but their second and third. It was only incidental to them, in their happiness, that the Bears made four, plus two field goals, for a 33 to 21 victory.

The slim crowd of 9,600, which sat in the rain during the first half, saw a game of spectacular runs, the most thrilling being Dante Magnani's 79 yard touchdown gallop, the longest dash from scrimmage in the league this year.

Saved from Another Shutout.

Brooklyn got in on the scoring fun only after the Bears had rolled up a 19 to 0 lead in the first half, and then notched another touchdown in the third quarter. With 26 points, the Bears saw no reason to make the Dodgers' new coach, Pete Cawthon, who is a fine southern gentleman, ride all the way back to Brooklyn mourning over a fifth shutout.

Sid Luckman continued his spectacular passes and he had an able assistant in George Wilson, who scored twice as the end man on Luckman's aerials. For his first score, Wilson bumped two Dodgers out of the way on a ramble from the 18 yard line. This was the Bears' first touchdown and came in the opening quarter after Bob Snyder had hit for a field goal from the 34 yard line.

Luckman Hits With 15 Passes.

Luckman held his league passing lead by completing 15 of 21 throws for 230 yards, which gives him 949 yards gained thru the air this season. Snyder hit twice in eight tries for 14 yards.

There had been Snyder's second field goal, which just lasted to drift over the bar from the 37, and Magnani's long distance run when Wilson made perhaps the best catch of his career for his second score early in the third quarter. The Bears had taken the ball on Brooklyn's 32, after George Musso partially blocked a punt, and had driven to the 18. Here Luckman faded back and pitched the ball high in the air.

As he was falling backwards in the end zone, Wilson threw up his left arm like an outfielder reaching for a line drive. He held the ball as he tumbled to the muddy turf, raising Luckman's production of touchdowns on passes to 11 for the season.

Bears Ease Up.

After this skilful exhibition, the Bears relaxed and let Cawthon and his underprivileged boys have their inning. Up to this time the Dodgers hadn't made a first down. Lew Jones returned Snyder's short kickoff 5 yards to his 40. With Ken Heineman and Pug Manders running, and a 5 yard Chicago penalty aiding, the Bears soon were back on their 46. Heineman passed 11 yards to Manders and the aroused easterners picked up their third straight first down on rushes to the 25. Then Heineman passed to Cecil Johnson, rookie back from a Texas junior college. The Swede caught it on the 15 and raced to the goal line.

Bruiser Kinard made this maiden score a rousing success by kicking the extra point. Just before the quarter ended, Heineman brought back Snyder's punt 42 yards, Rax Nolting preventing a touchdown by catching the runner from behind by tripping his feet.

Dodgers Score Again.

right tackle, and twisted down the center to the goal. Russ Letlow added the point and the quarter ended with Great Lakes leading, 13 to 0.

When Juzwik fumbled in the second period, Copoulos recovered for Marquette on the sailors' 45 and Marquette drove to a touchdown. Rudan and Eigner led the ground plays and then the former passed to Charles Benkendorf for 24 yards and a first down on Great Lakes' 5.

Great Lakes yielded 3 yards in as many plays and then stopped Rudan on fourth down, but the sailors were guilty of defensive holding, which gave Marquette a first down on Great Lakes' 1. On his third plunge, with 25 seconds of the half remaining, Eigner lunged over. Harvey Baerwald kicked the point.

Sailor Varsity Returns.

Great Lakes' varsity returned to start the second half and carried 68 yards for a touchdown. Proctor and Sitko got a first down on the sailors' 46 and the same men then advanced to Marquette's 41 in two more plays. Sitko swept right end for 9 yards and followed with a plunge for first down. Marquette held for two plays but Sitko went around right end for 9 yards. He then smashed outside defensive left tackle for 22 yards and the score. Letlow added the point.

Marquette received the kickoff and was forced to punt, Rudan's kick being downed on Marquette's 47. The sailors scored in five plays, the longest gains being a 16 yard run by Jones and his screen pass to Proctor for 22 yards. From Marquette's 5, Proctor plunged over on second down. Letlow again kicked the point and Great Lakes led, 27 to 7.

Juzwik Scores Again.

Marquette received and Bob Telk's third down punt on his own 27 was blocked by Evan Vogds and recovered by Emil Drvaric on Marquette's 19. Ken Roskie plunged 11 yards, and on the third play thereafter, Juzwik went 3 yards over defensive left tackle to score. Juzwik place kicked the point.

Great Lakes' last touchdown came a minute before the game ended. The march started on Great Lakes' 44 and ended when Ray Polczynski passed to Jack Coleman for 22 yards and the touchdown. Juzwik kicked the final point. Statistics:

Tito Taylor and Forrest Gee Top Marigold Card

Tito Taylor, crowd pleasing south side middleweight, who extended Fritzie Zivic in Milwaukee a year ago, will make his first appearance in Marigold Gardens in eight months when he opposes Forrest Gee in the north side arena tonight.

Gee, former Milwaukee sectional Golden Gloves winner, will be meeting his most important test in Taylor. Since entering the professional ranks last spring, Forrest has engaged in only eight contests, winning five and losing three.

Other bouts match Eddie Scott, Detroit lightweight, with Gene Spencer, South Chicago, in an eight round fight; send Robert Simmons, Indianapolis welterweight, against Jimmy Hunt, Chicago, in another eight rounder; and pair Don Callahan, middleweight from St. Paul, with Mickey McKiness, Chicago in six rounds.

The Swedish Angel will meet Emir Badui in the windup bout of a wrestling show tonight in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue. Eddie [Bad Man] Lewis is paired with Johnny Silvy, and Flash Gordon with Miquel Torres. Winners of these two encounters will meet in Rainbo Fronton Wednesday.

Rita Ties Score.

On a double reverse, Doody to Jones to Zilis, the latter tossed a 10 yard pass to Jones on the Leo 10 yard line which was ruled completed because of Walsh's interference. Doody picked up two on a right end run but Ward knocked down Zilis' pass intended for Jones. The latter then smashed thru left tackle for a touchdown. Benoit's try for the extra point failed and the score was tied, 6 to 6.

Both teams threatened again in the second quarter; St. Rita's threat ending on the Leo 12½ yard line and the Lions' losing the ball on downs on the Mustangs' 19 shortly before the half ended.

2 Riders Seek Top Honors at Sportsman's

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The second week of the Sportsman's Park meeting promises to develop some high spirited riding rivalry between Leonard Wegrzyn and Tony Skoronski. The latter, who dominated the jockeys during the Hawthorne meeting, continued to show supremacy during the early stages of the current session at the half mile track. He has been interrupted by a five day suspension, however, and when he comes back on Wednesday, he'll find that Wegrzyn has taken his place at the top.

Wegrzyn, an apprentice from Palatine, gave a splendid exhibition on Saturday, riding four winners including the two which took the co-features of the afternoon. Earlier in the week he had brought in three in one afternoon. He goes into today's work with nine winners to his credit during the meeting. Skoronski had seven when he began serving his suspension, which was incurred for failure to keep his horse straight.

In the riding duel which will begin with Skoronski's return Wegrzyn will be getting a five pound apprentice allowance whereas Skoronski, who is a veteran of some years' experience will have to go at full weight. Both boys have what it takes to make a good rider on a half mile track. They have the judgment and the steady nerve to keep their mounts out of trouble on the turns.

FRITZIE ZIVIC TO OPEN CHICAGO TRAINING TODAY

Fritzie Zivic, welterweight boxer of Pittsburgh, will open training in the Ringside loop gymnasium this afternoon for a 10 round bout with Bobby Richardson of Cleveland in Chicago Stadium Friday. He will spar with Juste Fontaine, one of the most promising junior lightweights to come out of the Golden Gloves tournaments in recent years.

NAVY SHIFTS ARE WHITTLING AWAY LEADERS' MARGIN

Michigan and Purdue have satisfactorily advanced another step toward the Western conference football championship they apparently are destined to share this season. But this prediction still may be false if navy orders take any more men from the Boilermaker squad or further weaken the Michigan team.

Michigan now has lost its captains, Paul White, and this week's engagement with Illinois will be the last for two more regulars, Merv Pregulman and Bill Daley. Thus, it may be that Indiana university will hold the key to the conference hopes of the undefeated rivals. The Hoosiers meet Michigan a week from Saturday, the first game after the departure of Daley and Pregulman, and they conclude the season with the traditional game with Purdue.

Purdue Is Slow Starter.

Purdue also has Minnesota to consider but Michigan's decisive triumph over the Gophers last Saturday apparently forecasts a victory for the Boilermakers. Michigan poured it on the Gophers and the most one sided game in the history of the series was recompense for Minnesota's nine consecutive victories which preceded.

In its last two games Purdue has invited trouble by failing to get its offense under way at the first possible moment. Against Ohio State, the Boilermakers trailed 7 to 0 at the half but salvaged the decision by making five touchdown in the third and fourth periods. Last Saturday Iowa scored first and still was tied 7 to 7 with Purdue going into the final quarter. Again Purdue's power finally broke thru the defense and the Boilermakers spurted to victory with three touchdowns, the last of which was a gift.

Pihos Does Well as Back.

Indiana's steadily improving team may be a most difficult hurdle for both Michigan and Purdue. The Hoosiers probably will lose no one from the squad and since the team is a civilian outfit it has practice advantages denied the more experienced players at Purdue and Michigan.

Bo McMillin, Indiana coach, moved Pete Pihos, veteran end, to full back in the second half of the game with Wisconsin Saturday and Pihos' performance proved that Indiana not only will have a fine replacement for Jim Allerdice at full back but will have more punch to the attack between the defensive tackles.

TITLE DREAM OF FORMER STAR AT N. U. SHATTERED

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE 5TH ARMY IN ITALY, Oct. 24.—Two decades rolled away for Lt. Col. Robert Wienecke today and for a few minutes his thoughts were far from the war and back with the kickoffs on the crisp fall afternoons in Dyche stadium in Evanston. He just had received in the mail a copy of the "Wildcat News," detailing Northwestern university's prospects for this football season.

Wienecke, who lives at 466 Adams street, Glencoe, Ill., and now is a supply officer for an American airborne unit, was a Northwestern full back in 1922-'24 and captain of the team in his last year.

A young lieutenant in the room looked up at this and said casually, "I've already had a letter recounting how my school, University of Michigan, beat Northwestern, 21 to 7, on Oct. 2." Wienecke shook his head sadly and turned back to his campaign maps.

Bears Score 33-21 Victory Over Dodgers

the middle 68 yards to Brooklyn's 7, but a holding penalty put the Chicagoans back on their 7. The Dodgers brought back the punt and then drove and passed 53 yards for their second score. The big items were Tillie Manton's 17 yard pass to Keith Ranspot and Rookie Johnson's 19 yard broken field dash to the 6. On fourth down, Pug Manders went over and Kinard kicked the point.

The Bears, now not a bit kindly disposed toward their downtrodden guests, whipped up the field 82 yards for the fourth touchdown. Clark swept for 11, Luckman pitched to Clark for 20 and to Ray McLean for 30. A Dodger holding penalty put the ball 11 yards away. Clark got 6, McLean lost a yard, then on the next thrust sped around defensive right end for the score. Snyder kicked the point.

Dodgers Go to Town.

Francis Sachse returned the kickoff to the Bears' 44. On the first play the Bears were offside and when the whistle blew they relaxed. But the Dodgers went ahead with the maneuver, a screen pass from Sachse to Johnson, who sprinted 56 yards for a score. Kinard added the extra point after the Dodgers, naturally enough, refused the penalty. Clark made a 41 yard kickoff return just before the game ended.

Clark perhaps took the ground-gaining lead in the league when he picked up 58 yards in 13 rushes. He caught 5 passes for 67 yards and made the only interception of the game. Statistics:

Patterson Field Beats Ft. Sheridan Eleven, 7-0

Dayton, O., Oct. 24 (AP).—The Patterson field All-Stars stopped the running and passing attacks of Fort Sheridan today, then crashed over for a touchdown in the final period to win, 7 to 0. A series of line plunges featuring Bronko Reese, 265 pound full back who went over from the three, marked the touchdown drive.

BOTH SCHWABEN SOCCER TEAMS BEAT SWEDES

Necaxas Top Hakoahs, 1-0; Vikings Win.

BY OFFSIDE.

Yesterday was a red letter day for both the Schwaben soccer teams. The first team defeated the Swedish Americans, 4 to 1, to take first place in the league race, and the reserves trounced the Swedes' reserves, 5 to 1, to take undisputed first place in the reserve points table.

The rain and mud handicapped the short passing play of the Swedes. Schwabens scored first after 18 minutes of play, Vic Absil, getting clear to send over a high pass for Adolph Streng to boot home. Two minutes later he beat Henry Handler from five yards.

Necaxas Take Lead.

Necaxa defeated Hakoah-Centers, 1 to 0, for first place in the first division. The game was decided on a penalty spot kick, after 26 minutes of play in the first period. Henry Bellgamba, the Necaxa's center forward, made the kick. The ball landed in the back of the net. The victory placed Necaxa at the top of the league standing.

BANKS STIRRED BY DECISION ON CHECK CHARGE

Laxity on Exchange Fees at Issue.

Bankers yesterday read far reaching implications into a recent decision of the federal reserve system's board of governors that one western bank had violated a federal regulation prohibiting the payment of interest on demand deposits.

Bank examiners were reported scrutinizing more closely accounts that indicated too much laxity in absorbing exchange charges in handling checks drawn on banks that make such charges.

Absorbing the exchange charge is the equivalent of paying interest on the demand deposits of country bank correspondents or commercial customers, and therefore is a violation of the federal rule, the governors held.

More Developments Possible.

Bankers foresaw some interesting developments if this rule were enforced to the letter:

"No member bank of the federal reserve system shall, directly or indirectly, by any device whatsoever, pay any interest on any demand deposit. . . . any payment . . . as compensation for the use of funds constituting a deposit shall be considered interest."

After this first interpretation of a rule that had been on the books for years without attracting much attention, bankers wondered how far the examiners would go in its enforcement.

Would they, for example, consider other "pecuniary benefits" to bank customers in the same way as the disallowed absorption of exchange charges? Carried to its extreme, this might even be applied to the time honored custom of a banker buying dinner for a good out of town customer; to sending out an armored truck for a large deposit of cash by a corporation; or to printing check books at the bank's expense.

Not Covered by Charges.

All are "pecuniary benefits" not compensated for thru regular bank service charges. Would customers who pay their service charges feel slighted at not receiving the same treatment?

Spokesmen for the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago said they expected no such extreme application of the regulation but agreed strict enforcement of the rule would bring these potentialities into the situation. Other bankers expressed the view it would be cheaper in some instances for a Chicago bank to pay exchange charges on out of town checks than go to the clerical expense of separating from its mass of checks those with a fee for cashing and those on which no charge is made.

Significant points of the reserve board decision have been summarized for the guidance of national bank examiners operating out of Chicago. Representatives of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation said their procedure had not been altered by the decision.

95 Pct. of Called Phillips Loan Converted to Stock

More than 95 per cent of the $7,338,000 of convertible 1¾ per cent debentures of Phillips Petroleum company, called for redemption on Oct. 18, were converted into common stock of the company by the time the conversion privilege expired on Oct. 15, the company announced yesterday.

Vote Transit Pay Hike for Los Angeles

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP).—The war labor board today awarded a 5 cents an hour general wage increase to the 3,500 employes of the Los Angeles Railway corporation and Los Angeles Motor Coach lines. It also increased the rate for newly hired employes from 50 to 65 cents hourly.

The board previously had rejected a 10 cents an hour increase provided in a contract between the companies and the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes [AFL]. The 5 cents award, approved by a 7 to 5 vote, was based on "new evidence" introduced at a hearing in Los Angeles Sept. 20, the board explained.

The WLB award drew immediate protests and a threat of a strike from the union's executive board, which had sought a 10 cent raise. The executive board was in the capital when the WLB announced its decision today.

Launchings Delayed.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 24 (AP).—The strike of crane operators at the Bethlehem Fairfield ship yard will delay the launching of at least three Liberty ships, J. M. Willis, vice president and general manager of the yard, said today.

For five days the crane operators have refused to lift extra weights without extra pay, in what the company, a Bethlehem Steel subsidiary, has termed a jurisdictional strike. Most of the cranemen are members of an AFL union. A CIO affiliate, the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, is the collective bargaining agent for the yard.

Worthington Strike Spreads.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 24 (AP).—War production at the Worthington Pump and Machinery corporation's Buffalo plant was at a standstill today, a company official said, reporting 100 more employes had joined between 800 and 900 others who walked out yesterday.

Stock Dealers Sell 1 Billion of War Bonds

New York, Oct. 24 (AP).—Members of the New York Stock exchange, their partners, and employes sold $1,040,037,518 of war bonds during the third war loan drive, employing their security selling experience and machinery without compensation. They more than doubled their sales made in the second loan last spring.

The exchange announced the total today. It is an over-all figure embracing not only sales made in New York City and vicinity, but thruout all the states where stock exchange firms operate their branch offices. The total was exceeded by sales of only four states, New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, and Ohio.

Done Partly by "Teams."

To do it the exchange firms put more than 5,000 persons, about 20 per cent of their entire force, to work looking for customers for Uncle Sam, and devoted much of the time of their remaining employes and executives to the drive.

Their effort was in part coöperative, conducted by "teams" which also contained bank and investment dealer membership to help blanket the field of possible customers, but the total represents orders actually entered thru exchange firms.

Member firms had the obvious advantage of customer lists which contained the names of many prospective buyers, often those accustomed to large scale dealings in securities.

Few Customers Not Solicited.

But the lists also contained the names of many ordinary citizens with a few hundred dollars to invest, and these were combed, too. Few were the customers whose names had appeared in recent years on any broker's account books who were not solicited to place their funds with Uncle Sam.

Newspaper advertising, radio time, free advice on the war loans to any inquirer, and tons of mail and printed matter were among the expedients used to make the exchange firms' contributions to the success of the drive.

Display Truck Axle Parts Needed in Army Vehicles

A display of various truck parts and assemblies of types required in several million dollars worth of subcontracts available to Chicago malleable casting and forging firms will be opened today and continue thru Wednesday at the 6th service command garage, 1037 West Adams street. The display is part of a program to expand production of axles and transmissions for army trucks.

LOW WAGE WITHHOLDING.

I am married and work part time. My wages are under $9 a week, yet my employer deducts $1 for income tax. I was of the opinion that anyone earning less than $12 a week was not subject to the withholding tax. My husband claims the full exemption for a married couple.—L. T.

Answer: Since you are married and claim none of the personal exemption for withholding, your employer must withhold income tax from your weekly earnings. On earnings of less than $10 a week he must withhold $1, if he uses the wage bracket tables to compute the tax. Otherwise he must withhold 20 per cent of the amount you earn. If your earnings for a week exceed $10 but are less than $15, the employer must withhold $2.50 according to the wage bracket table.

DIVIDEND.

Recently I received a dividend check from a company in which I have not been a stockholder for more than a year and a half. I informed the company of this, but they replied that I was the holder of record and they had no means of knowing who is the rightful owner. If I cash the check can this cause me trouble later on?—F. S.

Answer: You are not entitled to the dividend, and the rightful owner of the stock can demand that the dividend be turned over to him. The broker who sold the stock for you might be able to locate the present owner. If the rightful owner does not claim the dividend within seven years you cannot be held liable for it.

STRIKES PERIL WAR JOBS, WPB WARNS MINERS

WLB Studies Coal Contract Terms.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP).—Expressing deep concern over current coal strikes, the war production board said today that if the situation is not solved swiftly, steel plants, shipyards, and munitions factories may be forced to close for lack of fuel.

With 20,000 miners on a wildcat strike in Alabama and 15,000 others out in Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania, and Arkansas, there were these developments:

1. Disclosure by joint British-American surveys of the allied coal supply that prospects of a sufficient 1944 supply are dubious because of man power and mining machinery shortages.

WLB Holds Sunday Session.

2. A report by the National Coal association that the strikes represent "a sad story" of persons placing themselves "in a position where they will not produce the things that are needed."

3. A Sunday session of the war labor board to consider a proposed portal to portal wage agreement between the Illinois soft coal operators and the United Mine Workers.

4. Instructions from an international UMW representative to local Alabama union leaders that the continued stoppage "might hinder" WLB consideration of the Illinois contract, which the UMW would like to see applied to all areas.

WPB's warning came from Charles E. Wilson, acting chairman, who said in a statement that he regarded the strikes as "even more dangerous" than the shutdown of last spring.

Shipyards Already Affected.

Any prolonged closing of the Alabama and Indiana mines, Wilson declared, "would give the whole war production program a serious setback—which means a setback to our fighting forces at a time when they are attacking the enemy on every front."

He said shipyards on the gulf coast, in New England states, and on the west coast already are "beginning to feel the pinch." If the strikes continue a month longer, he added, tankers, Liberty ships, and an indeterminate number of cargo vessels will be held up for lack of steel plates.

"This coal strike," he asserted, "is hitting us at a bad time. Surely no American wants to see our steel plants closed down for lack of coal, or wants to see our shipyards idle, or wants to see munitions held up that are needed for the fighting overseas.

"But that may well happen if the coal situation is not solved and solved promptly. It is a key problem that concerns every American right now."

Some Miners to Return.

Pikeville, Ky., Oct. 24 (AP).—International Board Member Tom Raney of the United Mine Workers of America announced tonight following meetings between company officials and union leaders that all coal mines in the Big Sandy field in northeastern Kentucky would be in operation tomorrow. He said all grievances had been settled in conferences involving the three Consolidation Coal company mines, the Elkhorn Coal corporation's plant in Letcher county, and the Wheelwright mine of the Inland Coal company in southern Floyd county.

Elsewhere in Kentucky coal fields the situation remained unchanged with at least 4,500 workers expected to remain away from Harlan county mines again tomorrow.

1,000 Go Back Today.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 24.—James H. Terry, international representative of the United Mine Workers, said the UMW local at the two Sayreton mines of Republic Steel corporation voted this afternoon to return to work tomorrow. The two mines employ approximately 1,000 men.

Allied Coal Supplies Fall Near Danger Point, Board Reports

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP).—Saying that the allied nations will barely squeeze thru the winter on the basis of present coal production, a joint British-American survey committee predicted today that "the supply is almost certain to be far less satisfactory a year from now."

The surveys of allied coal supplies indicated that prospects of obtaining a sufficient 1944 supply are dubious because of man power and mining machinery shortages.

Labor Supply Short.

Highlights of the report, the second survey of raw materials [the first reported imminent shortages of pulp and paper] made by a combined committee of the combined production and resources board and the combined raw materials board:

British coal mines lack 30,000 miners to maintain adequate production.

United States mines are short 35,000 workers and are losing miners at the rate of 2,500 a month.

Requirements for United States coal in 1943 will be 600 million tons of bituminous, and 1943 production is estimated at 590 million tons, leaving a gravely low stockpile of 40 million tons on Jan. 1, 1944.

Minimum United States bituminous requirements in 1944 will be 620 million tons.

Manufacturers are two months behind in filling orders for repair parts for mine machinery, six months behind in meeting requirements for replacement equipment.

British Mechanization Lags.

Mechanization of British mines is lagging, and production is being held down thru lack of loading equipment. [British mines produce roughly 200 million tons annually, with largely hand methods employing 704,000 men, while mechanized United States mines produce 600 million tons with 400,000 men.]

The combined coal committee of CPRB and CRMB is headed by Howard A. Gray, deputy administrator of the solid fuels administration, chairman, and Henry Self, deputy for Capt. Oliver Lyttleton, British minister of production.

The report said Britain and the United States are the main allied sources of coal. India and South Africa are minor exporters. Canada produces only a third of her own requirements.

BOOST IN EXCESS PROFIT TAX RATE DEEMED LIKELY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP).—An increase in the excess profits tax to 95 per cent, from the present 90 per cent level, is deemed likely by some qualified authorities.

Rep. Harold Knutson [R., Minn], minority leader on the tax-initiating house ways and means committee, said today he believed such action might be taken, but the corporation normal and surtax rates "will be left where they are."

Other members disclosed that the committee, in its closed-door sessions, was sifting reports of large incomes by corporations not engaged in war work and whose profits have been swollen by the war time spending. Internal revenue officials were invited before the committee tomorrow to discuss this subject.

Nine Britons Will Attend Foreign Trade Convention

New York, Oct. 24 [Special].—A delegation of nine British business men, headed by Alan Anderson, a director of the Bank of England and honorary president of the International Chamber of Commerce, has arrived here to attend the 30th national foreign trade convention beginning Tuesday.

ILLINOIS JOBS AND PAY RISE FOR 8TH MONTH

Declines Shown for Many Industries.

Employment and total wage disbursements in Illinois increased between mid-August and mid-September for the eighth consecutive month, Francis B. Murphy, state director of labor, announced yesterday. The gains, however, were confined to relatively few industries with only 4 of the 18 groups covered showing gains in both employment and pay rolls. These were the metals and machinery, transportation equipment, food manufacturing, and wholesale and retail trade groups.

"The combined reports from establishments employing approximately 60 per cent of all the employes in manufacturing concerns in the state indicated an increase of 0.8 per cent in employment and a rise of 2.9 per cent in pay rolls," Murphy's report said. "A substantial part of this rise in total wage payments resulted from overtime for the Labor day holiday."

Packing Force Declines.

The meat packing industry reported approximately 16 per cent fewer workers in September than at the beginning of this year, the report said, and shoe manufacturing and the printing and publishing industries indicated substantial decreases in activity.

Hotels, street and electric railways, and building construction firms showed declines both in employment and pay rolls. Restaurants, however, added workers.

Average Earnings Rise.

Average weekly earnings of workers increased to $43.27 for men and women combined in all reporting industries and to $45.32 in manufacturing industries. These figures were 69 cents and 91 cents higher than the respective averages for August. Men in manufacturing industries averaged $50.81 a week and women $29.32 in September.

The September figures were based on reports from 6,476 establishments employing 953,152 persons, or approximately one-third of the total number of nonagricultural employes in the state.

COSTS OF LIVING AND EARNINGS CONTINUE GAINS

New York, Oct. 24 (AP).—Continued gains in the cost of living and earnings were reported today by the national industrial conference board. The research organization estimated that September living costs of wage earners and lower-salaried clerical workers averaged 19.9 per cent above those of January, 1941.

Its survey of 25 manufacturing industries showed that average hourly earnings by August were 34.5 per cent above the same 1941 month and that weekly earnings, adjusted for retail price increases, averaged 26.8 per cent above January, 1941.

During September, the board said, living expenses went up in 46 of 69 cities surveyed, declined in 16 and held steady in 7.

Spokane, Wash., with a rise of 1.2 per cent led the list. Chicago had an increase of 0.4 per cent. Detroit showed the largest decline for September at 0.9 per cent.

DEDICATE LARGE HIGGINS CARGO PLANE FACTORY

New Orleans, La., Oct. 24 (AP).—Andrew J. Higgins, shipbuilder, asserted today at dedication ceremonies here of Higgins Aircraft, Inc., that "the plant was completed far ahead of schedule and the cost was kept within the original estimate of 27 million dollars." He said the taxpayers "were saved money because of these facts and because not one hour of double time had to be paid to laborers who were on the ball all the way."

The purpose of the plant is to supply the United States with Curtiss-Wright C-46 Commando cargo planes, described by Higgins officials as the largest two engined aircraft made. Construction of subassembly parts began here several weeks ago.

Included in the Higgins layout is a 45 acre main plant building which Higgins said is the largest under one roof south of the Mason-Dixon line.

El Paso Votes Against Buying Electric Utility

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 24 (AP).—A revenue bond issue to buy the El Paso Electric company was defeated in an election here yesterday by a vote of 2,475 to 651. El Paso Electric stock now will be distributed to preferred stockholders of the Engineers Public Service company if the securities and exchange commission approves.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Ben Markland

Oct. 24, 1943.

IT'S tree planting time for land owners and suburbanites. On the Wheaton farm the men are transplanting 32 young horse chestnut trees alongside rows of American and Moline elms. On other farms saplings are being dug and moved from woodlots to provide decorative additions to farm lawns.

The horse chestnut is one of the favorite lawn trees among farm residents, so the new planting is understandable. One representative of this species stands near the main farm home to provide beautiful candelabra shaped white blossoms in the spring and luxuriant green leaves which retain their color until late in the fall.

Saplings Home Grown.

The saplings are "home grown," having been produced from the seeds of the mature lawn tree. They were planted in a greenhouse flat in the autumn of 1941, transplanted to 4 inch pots, then placed in a cold frame last fall. They are 10 to 12 inches tall as they stand in their new positions in the lawn. In transplanting them the gardeners dug holes three feet in diameter and 18 inches deep, using porous black dirt as filler around the roots. Each seedling was well watered as the final act of the transplanting process.

Land owners who wish to transplant deciduous trees should try to get the job done this fall before the ground freezes. The men on the Wheaton farm do not have this type of work on their 1943 schedule, but in moving trees from woodlots in past years they have discovered that the ideal process is to move saplings with their root systems as nearly intact as possible.

For example, several years ago they moved six Norway maples. All were large trees, 8 to 10 inches across the trunks. Three of the trees were moved with solid balls of earth about eight feet in diameter around the roots. The roots naturally were cut away from the outer edges of the balls of earth.

Moved with Complete Roots.

The other three trees were moved with complete root systems. In this method of tree moving the soil is left intact around the heart of the root system, so that the ball of earth is only about three feet in diameter. But instead of cutting the roots outside that small heart, they are left intact and the soil is carefully stripped away from the roots along their entire length.

The latter method of moving trees is more laborious and requires more time for careful separation of the soil from the roots, because if the roots are injured by heavy tools they die. The results shown by the six trees prove, however, that the root stripping method was more successful than the direct method of cutting and moving a huge ball of earth with each tree.

The three trees moved by the stripping method were better established the following season, while all those moved with the large balls of earth were attacked by borers. The trees moved by the latter method had poor sap circulation induced by borer attacks which damaged the bark, and only one of the three survived.

★ The GARDEN ★

ONE of the final chores to be done by gardeners is that of repairing, cleaning, and storing garden tools. Many of these implements were difficult to obtain this season, and it is probable that the shortage of hoes, rakes, cultivators, and other tools will continue next season, so it is imperative that tools be made to last as long as possible.

Rust is the main enemy of metal tools, and it should be removed with fine sandpaper before the implements are stored. After the rust is removed the metal portions of the tools should be thoroly wiped with a heavily oiled rag to prevent new rust from forming during the winter.

Tools may be stored in the basement or garage, but in either case should not be left on the floor where they will absorb moisture. They should be hung against a wall, preferably with the metal portions of the tools near the ceiling. Tools leaned against a garage or basement wall will absorb ground moisture thru the cement.

SHIP STEEL NEED OVERESTIMATED, SAYS MAGAZINE

Cleveland, O., Oct. 24 (AP).—Steel plate buyers whose November and December tonnages were supplanted may receive earlier attention than first quarterly estimates indicated, because of an additional 5 per cent allotment to producers for each month in the quarter, the magazine Steel reported today.

An overestimate of steel plate needs of the United States maritime commission, and revision of the Canadian shipbuilding program has eased hull and boiler plate demands and will aid the handling of excess plate tonnage, the magazine asserted.

Meet Wally Welder from Factory 9
Wally needed extra money to buy his Christmas presents for Jean and Mom in particular. After looking around he found Wards the ideal spot for several good reasons. First . . . the work is clean and pleasant after a hard day at plant 9. Second . . . the pay is good and he has met a lot of other swell fellows there earning money for Christmas, too. Last, but not least, Wally finds his money goes further with the liberal employe discount he receives on all merchandise he buys.

Winnie Was a Wallflower Until She Blossomed Into a Willing Worker

She had an eye for pretty clothes, but nothing in her purse to buy them. She had had no business experience and feared there was nothing in her head to comprehend it, then she visited GOLDBLATT'S streamlined dress shop and overheard the manager say that even inexperienced saleswomen were making good today. Willing Winnie began selling at once, and she's happy now because she's won security, a fuller purse, personality and friends!

LEGAL NOTICES

[1] Pursuant to the regulations prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission in its Order of October 6, 1919, as amended October 4, 1920, in its Docket Ex Parte No. 54, The New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company [hereinafter called the "Company"], hereby requests bids for the purchase of $2,025,000 par amount of its Equipment Trust Certificates, to be known as "New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Second Equipment Trust of 1943, Serial Equipment Trust Certificates," having the following terms, provisions, and security:

[a] The said Equipment Trust Certificates are to be issued under an Agreement to be dated November 15, 1943, between H. L. Lehmkuhle and J. A. Parnin, Vendors, Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, Trustee, and the Company, whereunder the railroad equipment described in paragraph [b] is to be held by said Trustee in trust for the equal benefit of the holders of said Certificates;

[b] The said Equipment Trust Certificates are to be issued to provide, in part, funds required for the acquisition of 15 Class S-1 freight locomotives, type 2-8-4, with 22,000-gallon tenders, to cost approximately $2,608,544, which equipment will be leased by said Trustee to the Company by Lease to be dated November 15, 1943;

[c] The said Equipment Trust Certificates will be of the aggregate principal amount of $2,025,000, will be dated November 15, 1943, will mature serially in equal annual installments from November 15, 1944, to November 15, 1958, both inclusive, and will be guaranteed as to principal and dividends by the Company. These certificates will bear dividend warrants at a rate per annum to be named by the successful bidder, payable May 15 and November 15 in each year.

[2] The Company invites bids on the form available upon application at the office of the undersigned, and all information required in said form must be submitted. Each bid should specify the dividend rate to be borne by the certificates, which must be some multiple of one-eighth of one per cent and must be the same for all maturities. No bid for less than 99 per cent of par plus accrued dividends from November 15, 1943, to the date of delivery, will be considered.

[3] Each bid must be enclosed in a plain envelope securely sealed, bearing no indication of the name of the bidder or the amount of the bid, and shall be marked "Bid under proposed Contract No. 1 for New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Second Equipment Trust of 1943, Serial Equipment Trust Certificates," and shall be addressed to the undersigned at his office at 3400 Terminal Tower, Cleveland 1, Ohio. All bids must be received on or before twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time [Cleveland time], November 9, 1943. Bids so received will be opened by the undersigned, or in his absence, by J. A. Parnin, Assistant Treasurer of the Company, at said office immediately after twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time [Cleveland time], November 9, 1943.

[4] All bids are to be submitted subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission of the assumption by the Company of obligation and liability in respect of these certificates. The Company reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Notice of acceptance of the most favorable bid, subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission, will be telegraphed to the successful bidder not later than three o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard Time [Cleveland time], November 9, 1943.

[5] Delivery of the Equipment Trust Certificates, in temporary or definitive form, will be made against payment in full therefor to Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, Trustee, at its principal office in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois, on such date as the Company may designate on five days' notice to the successful bidder, such date of payment to be as soon as practicable after the Interstate Commerce Commission shall have authorized the assumption of obligation and liability by the Company in respect of said certificates, and approved the bid or bids, but not later, however, than fifteen days after the date of such authorization and approval, and not earlier in any event than November 15, 1943. If the Interstate Commerce Commission shall not have given its authorization and approval as aforesaid on or before December 9, 1943, then the successful bidder may withdraw the bid by delivering written notice of withdrawal to the Company not later than December 14, 1943.

[6] Copies of the proposed form of Equipment Trust Agreement and Lease, and the form for submission of bids, are available upon application at the office of the undersigned.

COSTS ONLY 60c
The common-sense solution to any money shortage is a short-term loan. It allows a "breathing spell" in which to adjust expenses to fit income. Right now, for instance, living costs are up due to war. If increasing difficulty to make ends meet, a loan from Commonwealth will "tide you over" until you get adjusted to these new wartime conditions. Monthly rate 3% on balances of $150 or less, and 2¼% on that part of the unpaid balance over $150.
